FIGHT HEART DISEASE

VOL. LXXXI—No. 105 CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., WEDNESDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 20, 1952. PRICE FIVE CENTS

Two Are Injured in Accident

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Carkhuff, of St. Remy, were injured last night when the half-ton pick-up truck in which they were riding overturned after a collision with a sedan on the Boulevard near Leherb's restaurant.

Carkhuff, owner and operator of the truck, suffered bruises of the shoulders and knees and his condition was reported as "good" at Kingston Hospital today.

Mrs. Carkhuff suffered a laceration of the forehead and bruises and her condition was reported as "fair" at the hospital.

The police report at 7:42 p. m., said that a sedan owned and operated by George E. Ballou, Jr., R.D., Kingston, was headed toward Rosendale when it "skidded on a patch of ice" and was in collision with the truck going in the opposite direction.

Officer Harold DeGraff, who investigated, said the entire front and left side of the sedan was damaged and the truck was damaged on the left front, frame, entire right side and windshield. Both were towed from the scene. (Freeman Photo)

Talks Stall Again on Soviet Item

Allies Offer to Reduce Troop Rotation but Reds Refuse to Give It Thought

Debate Spurned

UN Negotiators Deny Arguments on Russian Neutrality

Munsan, Korea, Feb. 20 (AP)—Communist insistence that Russia be invited as a neutral nation to help supervise a Korean truce stalled armistice talks today.

The allies offered "in the interest of progress" to pare their troop rotation figure from 40,000 monthly to 35,000. But the Reds would not even talk about it.

No specific progress was reported from another truce meeting on prisoners of war. And no date was set for a third committee of staff officers to work out technicalities on the final truce clause—recommendations to governments.

Red negotiators were insistent that the Soviet Union be the third neutral nation nominated by the Communists. The United Nations command already has approved Poland and Czechoslovakia.

UN negotiators refused to indulge in a debate on the neutrality of Russia in the Korean conflict despite repeated Red hints they would like such an argument.

'Not Acceptable'

The allies said simply that Russia, as sponsor of Red Korea and Communist China, was "not acceptable" as a neutral supervisor.

Col. Andrew Kinney said the Red nomination of Russia was not "acceptable to both sides" as called for in previous agreements. He said the Communist stand "is in direct violation of the agreement reached between the delegates and in violation of the instructions given to the staff meetings."

Communist staff officers insisted the nomination was "fully consistent with the agreed principles of the nomination of neutral nations" and did not need allied approval.

The Reds said the proposed draft for selecting neutrals did not specifically mention that both sides must approve. That agreement was oral.

The draft provides merely that neutral nations must now have contributed combatant forces in the Korean war.

No Mention Made

No mention was made of the fact that Red air forces in Korea are supplied exclusively with Russian-type planes, or that their ground forces use Russian-type antiaircraft guns, artillery, tanks and other equipment, or that the North Korean army was Russian trained and advised.

North Korean Col. Chang Chun-san insisted there was "no reason" why the U. N. command should object to the Soviet Union.

The Russian question assumed the proportion of a third major stumbling block toward final agreement on an armistice. Negotiators already are stalemated on (1) voluntary repatriation of prisoners of war—the Reds insisted again Wednesday on forced repatriation—and (2) whether Reds shall be allowed to repair bomb-pocked airfields during a truce.

Col. Don O. Darrow made the offer to trim monthly rotation of allied troops to 35,000 "even though it means changing plans that are now in effect."

The figure is midway between the allies' previous 40,000 and the Reds offer of 30,000.

Hudson Fire Causes Damage of $300,000

Hudson, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—Fire fanned by a high wind swept the McCall Refrigerator Company's plant last night and caused an estimated $300,000 loss.

No one was injured. The cause was not determined.

Flames spread swiftly through the one-story brick and steel structure on the outskirts of this city. The wind blew sparks over suburban Greenport.

Craig Thorn, an insurance agency official, estimated the loss. Fire Chief John Nahlik of Greenport said two-thirds of the 600 by 200 foot building was destroyed.

U. S. Sabres Down Two Jets, Damage Five in 2 Fights

No Major Action Reported on Ground Front; Bombers Attack Red Trucks

Seoul, Korea, Feb. 20 (AP)—U. S. Sabre Jet pilots today shot down two Communist MIG-15 jets and damaged five in two furious fights over northwestern Korea.

Col. Francis S. Gabreski of Oil City, Pa., one of America's leading World War II aces, and Maj. William T. Whisner of Shreveport, La., shared credit for one MIG kill Wednesday afternoon.

Each moved it within a half a plane of becoming five-MIG jet aces.

Credit for the other MIG destroyed in the afternoon went to Maj. William F. Shaeffer, Boone, Iowa. His total is three destroyed and one probable.

Two MIGs also were damaged in the afternoon clash between 25 Sabres and 70 Russian-built swept-wing craft over Sinuiju. The fight lasted 15 minutes.

Allied jet pilots damaged three MIG's in a morning battle.

Australian Meteor jet pilots said they destroyed eight Communist trucks and four large supply buildings west of Haeju.

A bone-chilling wind swept the 155-mile ground front. No major action was reported.

Chinese Rout Allies

Tuesday three Chinese Red platoons drove allied troops from an advance hill position east of the Pukhan river on the central front. The fight lasted nearly six hours.

Light contact was reported at scattered points.

UN fighter-bombers attacked nearly 1,000 Red trucks in North Korean highways Tuesday night. Pilots reported 120 destroyed.

For the second night in a row B-29 Superforts attacked the rail bridge at Sinanju.

In Tokyo Wednesday the navy said Communist supply lines are being shattered on the sea as well as on land. Naval headquarters said 31 Red vessels trying to run the allied blockade were destroyed between Feb. 11 and 17.

Since the war began, U. S. naval forces have destroyed 1,263 Communist small craft and damaged 2,551.

Man Faces Removal To Alabama for Trial

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—Clear of a charge that he raped a 13-year-old negro girl, "Scottsboro Boy" James Andrew Wright today faced removal to Alabama on a warrant accusing him of violating parole.

An Albany county court jury of four men and eight women acquitted the 39-year-old, 6-foot-3 negro yesterday after deliberating an hour and 20 minutes.

Wright immediately was served with the Alabama warrant and remanded to jail.

Defense Counsel Jawn A. Sandifer of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said he would fight the removal proceeding.

Wright was one of nine negroes convicted of raping two white women near Scottsboro, Ala., 20 years ago. The nine contended that they had been "framed." The case dragged through the courts for years.

Trial Is Postponed

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—The trial of Ernest Zelnick, former internal revenue agent, and H. Harold Miller, a Catskill accountant, on a charge of extortion was postponed yesterday in Federal Court by Judge Henry W. Goddard until March 14. The indictment charges that Zelnick, 30, of 129 Downs street, Kingston, and Miller, 42, of 335 Main street, Catskill, extorted $1,000 from Sam Di Stefani and $2,000 from his brother, Vincent Di Stefani, of Cairo, N. Y., Jan. 31, last.

Two New Members Join Western Nations in Council Meeting, 9th of Series

Exclusion Blasted

Portuguese Makes Plea for Spain's Admission to Body

Lisbon, Portugal, Feb. 20 (AP)—A grave-faced Dean Acheson told the Atlantic allies, opening their ninth council session today: "We must take actions that will strain all of us to the utmost."

"It is a task for governments and for peoples," the U. S. Secretary of State said. "We must develop the concrete military strength which alone can insure our people against the destruction and suffering of another war."

Two new members, Greece and Turkey, joined the 12 western allies in a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization council—composed of foreign, defense and finance ministers.

Portuguese Foreign Minister Paulo Cunha, in his role of host, broke into the usual welcoming pleasantries with a plea for the admission of Spain to the alliance.

Exclusion Is Blasted

He blasted Spain's exclusion as a strategic absurdity, and said defense of the Iberian peninsula was indivisible.

Solemnly, Chairman Lester B. Pearson of Canada rapped a gavel on the flower-banked rostrum in the white marble Portuguese National Assembly, and warned that this session may well determine whether the Atlantic coalition will be a strong and enduring association for the defense of peace, or merely a fretful and uneasy alliance.

The session is faced with the necessity of producing enough concrete results in western military and civil cooperation or risking a possible slash by the United States Congress in multi-billion dollar aid.

Portuguese guardsmen in bright dress uniforms lined the staircase as the delegates filed into the assembly, among them Sophocles Venizelos, Greek deputy premier and foreign minister.

Realizes Responsibilities

Venizelos declared Greece fully realizes her responsibilities in the organization and she will show the same determination if called upon to aid her allies, as did her tough mountain fighters in putting down Communist revolt within her own borders.

In private conservations before the meeting opened, senior American delegates expressed conviction Congress is in a put-up-or-shut-up mood.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson flew in last night with one plum believed likely to sweeten the congressional mood—a Big Three agreement with Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on German affiliation with western defense through membership in the six-nation European Army.

Agreements Reached

A communique issued in London yesterday said Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman and Adenauer reached agreements during weekend conferences that "marked a decisive turning in the cause of peace." Adenauer said "the way is now clear" for Germany to sign a peace agreement with the Big Three occupiers.

But the communique significantly omitted any mention of German demands for membership in NATO, and a high allied source said the subject was one which does not properly apply to a still-occupied nation.

Diplomats here wondered whether the compromises reached by the foreign ministers might not snag in the German and French Parliaments.

The Germans have demanded more—including NATO membership—than the London talks gave them as their price for rearming. France's Parliament already has hedged its endorsement of the European Army with conditions that could postpone indefinitely or prevent entirely the raising of German troops.

Ward Needs Wardens

More air raid wardens are needed in the Second ward, according to Alderman Benjamin Storms, who as leader of the area is anxious for volunteers to sign for service. Patriotic residents of the ward willing to serve may call Alderman Storms at 6220. Previously the ward was completely organized in this phase of Civilian Defense, but a number of wardens are unable to serve according to schedule because of changes in their jobs.

WicksDelaysVote On State Budget

Illness of Democratic Leader Quinn Brings Postponement in Senate Until February 25

Albany, Feb. 20 (AP)—Action on Governor Dewey's record budget of $1,093,000,000 today was deferred by tse State Senate until Monday night.

GOP Majority Leader Arthur H. Wicks said voting on the budget bills was postponed because of the absence of the Democratic minority leader, Elmer F. Quinn, who was confined to his hotel room with a sore throat.

After the Senate votes expected approval of the state's first billion-dollar budget Monday night, the Assembly will pass it on Tuesday.

The finance committees of both houses yesterday approved the vast spending program for fiscal 1952-53, adding $141,885 to the proposed total of $1,092,760,887 recommended by Dewey in his annual budget message. The increases were in appropriations for the Senate and judiciary.

No Change in Proposal

No change was made in Dewey's proposal to continue collection of the personal income tax at 90 per cent of the full rate. This means the present 10 per cent abatement will be continued for another year.

In other legislative developments:

1—A joint legislative committee contended that certain publishers of comic books and other periodicals had "failed miserably" to eliminate lurid crime, lust and horror from their publications. It proposed that a "comic book review division" be created in the state education department to "clean up" and regulate such publications.

2—The joint legislative committee on motor vehicle problems sponsored a bill to rewrite the state motor vehicle law to make it conform generally to a uniform code recommended for all states by President Truman's highway safety conference.

3—A 200-million state bond issue was urged to finance highway construction and maintenance.

Recommends Minimum

127 Pints Donated In Blood Offering

Increase Over Quota Is 27 Pints—Mobile Unit to Return

A total of 127 pints of blood for the armed forces serving in Korea—an increase of 27 pints over the expected quota of 100 pints—was donated during the all-day visit of the Red Cross "bloodmobile" Tuesday at the municipal auditorium.

Mrs. Samuel J. Adams, local chapter chairman, in making the announcement today had full praise for all donors who were prompt in keeping their appointments and for the many chapter volunteers who assisted during the project.

"Tuesday's 127 pints of blood donation is very gratifying," Mrs. Adams commented and added that "others who applied too late for Tuesday's visit of the "bloodmobile" may rest assured that they will be contacted on the next visit of the unit."

More praise was heaped on the local donation program by the specially trained staff of aides from the mobile unit of Schenectady who were very much pleased with the local operation due mainly to the chapter volunteers who served at the center.

During the all-day blood donation program, many donors commented favorably upon the careful medical history which was taken to safeguard them.

Took Temporary Job. He's Still Busy at 93

Indianapolis, Feb. 20 (AP) — A young man who was given a "temporary" job on the Indianapolis News more than 70 years ago—the day President Garfield was shot—is still on the newspaper today, his 93rd birthday.

He is Hilton U. Brown. The News' Associated Press membership is in his name and records in the New York general office show he is the oldest man now representing a newspaper in AP membership.

On July 2, 1881, the day of the Garfield shooting, Brown applied to the News for a job. The staff was busy and there was no one to take the place of the market reporter who had failed to show up. Brown was given the job on a temporary basis.

"I'm still waiting for that reporter to show up," Brown wrote in a recent book of memoirs.

Brown visits his office in the News almost daily although he takes little active part in the publication of the newspaper.

Harriman Backing Held Likely on '52 Democrat Ticket

Diplomat Might Be Pushed for Vice-Presidential Spot—May Seek Ives' Seat

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—Signs were seen today that W. Averell Harriman may get some backing for a place on the Democratic presidential ticket this year.

In view of the fact that President Truman has not announced his own intentions, the speculation was that Harriman, 60 year old diplomat, administrator and Truman lieutenant, may be pushed for the vice presidential spot if the idea catches on.

Harriman's name was mentioned after a White House call yesterday by Paul A. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the New York State Democratic Committee. He asked the President to attend a Democratic party dinner April 17 in New York honoring Harriman. The President took it under consideration.

Asked whether Harriman is being built up for a political position by the New York committee, Fitzpatrick replied simply that the dinner "will honor a man who has served his country well and ably."

Further Response

Responding to further questioning, the chairman said Harriman has been mentioned as a possible Democratic nominee for the Senate seat now held by Senator Ives (R.-N. Y.).

Later, outside the executive of-

Kennon Upsets Long Faction in Louisiana Voting

New Orleans, Feb. 20 (AP)—Robert F. Kennon, a 49-year-old country judge, overthrew the political might of Gov. Earl K. Long in a landslide victory for governor of Louisiana.

Kennon handed the Long forces their worst defeat since the late Huey P. (Kingfish) Long was beaten for governor in his first attempt in 1924.

Kennon's victory in yesterday's Democratic primary, equivalent to election, was over former State District Judge Carlos G. Spaht of Baton Rouge, whom Gov. Long handpicked to be his successor. The state constitution bars the governor from succeeding himself.

Anti-Truman Omen Seen By GOP in Congress Voting

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—GOP leaders saw an anti-Truman omen today as a Republican won a Democratic House seat in the first congressional election of this presidential year.

Former Republican Congressman Robert Tripp Ross polled 17,300 votes yesterday to 11,442 for Democratic City Councilman Hugh Quinn.

The special election to fill a vacant seat was held in New York state's first congressional district, composing part of the New York city borough of Queens.

Hailing Ross' 5,858 margin of victory, Republican National Chairman Guy George Gabrielson said in Washington:

"This significant Republican victory in a Democrat stronghold * * * reflects the determination of voters everywhere to replace Trumanism with sound, honest government, competent to achieve peace and preserve our freedoms."

Ross' victory was hailed by Rep. Leonard W. Hall of New York, chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, as "the handwriting on the wall for the Truman administration."

Ranking Democratic leaders did not comment.

Quinn, who campaigned on local issues, had refused to link himself with the Democratic administration and he refrained from pledging support to President Truman. He also announced he would not accept support from the Democratic National Committee.

Ross charged in the campaign

Mother Mails Medal To President Truman

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 20 (AP)—A Memphis mother has mailed to President Truman the Purple Heart medal and scroll she received after the death of her soldier son in Korea.

Mrs. Donna Cooper, whose 21-year-old son, Paul, was killed last Oct. 1 in what she called "needless slaughter," said she wrote the President:

"I am returning it to you with this thought—to me he is a symbol of the 109,000 men who have been sacrificed in needless slaughter, a so-called 'Police Action' that has not and could never be satisfactorily explained to patriotic Americans who love their country and the ideals it stands for. * * *

"If there had been a need for armed conflict to preserve the American way of life, I could have given him proudly and would have treasured the medals. However, since there was nothing superficial in his whole life, I cannot mar his memory by keeping a medal and stereotyped words that hold no meaning and fail to promise a better tomorrow for the ones that he died for."

Prudential Agents Return to Work; On Strike 81 Days

Two-Year Contract Voted Nationally by Union Members—15,000 Are Affected

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—Some 9,000 Prudential Insurance Co. agents return to work today, ending after 81 days one of the longest white-collar strikes in U. S. labor union history.

Acceptance of a two-year contract running from last Dec. 1 was announced yesterday after nationwide balloting by the Insurance Agents International (AFL). Altogether, approximately 15,000 agents were affected by the walkout.

The union voted 4,331 in favor of settlement and 2,659 against, with 1,162 not voting.

The agents had demanded a $14 weekly pay increase and a union shop. Instead they accepted an average earnings of $5.36 for each agent—about what the company offered—and compulsory arbitration of all grievances.

Each agent also got a $150 lump-sum payment representing the agents' contributions to a pension plan during 1951. The company had put the payments aside while trying to persuade the union to accept a plan to which only the company contributed.

The agents won the right to work in outside jobs on weekends provided their sales and collections kept up to par.

The company estimated agents' average income at $110 a week. The union said it was less, but declined to make public its own estimate.

Local Agents Return

The 12-week strike of the Prudential Insurance Company agent is over and the 25 agents of the Kingston area office returned to work today at 10 o'clock.

Speaking for the members of Local 93, Paul Gardner, president of the local, said the "boys are glad to get back to work and will be glad to see their old customers again and offer to them a complete insurance service. We will be ready to talk insurance to any customer and we regret any inconvenience which they

Vols Elect State, Valley Delegates; Convention Set

175 Attend County Meeting in Port Ewen; 1952 Annual Parley Set for Saugerties

The Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association last night elected delegates to the state and Hudson Valley conventions next summer and reported early progress on plans for the association's conventions in Saugerties.

The firemen were guests of the town of Esopus fire companies in the town hall auditorium, Port Ewen, and 175 attended the session. The host companies were Port Ewen, Esopus, Rifton, St. Remy and Connelly.

George W. Gardner, of Saugerties, president of the association, was elected delegate to the convention of the New York State Firemen's Association at East Rochester during the week of August 17, and Arthur Whitall of Rifton was elected delegate to the

Parents to Give Safety Proposals

At a meeting in the George Washington School Monday evening, 40 parents of children in attendance at the school, decided to submit additional suggestions for the safety of the students while in the school area.

This action resulted following a talk given by George Mustaparta, safety engineer of the Ulster County Safety Council, who was the guest speaker.

Carl Pauker and Mrs. Sam Sperling were appointed as co-chairmen of a committee which will meet next Monday night and coordinate safety plans to be submitted to Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk. Members of the committee will be selected by the co-chairmen.

The further recommendations are believed necessary, remarked Mrs. Sperling because the parents in attendance at this week's meeting do not believe suggestions made recently by the Common Council acting upon previous measures submitted by the parents, have been effective.

Willie Sutton Awaits Law Efforts to Untangle Mystery

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—Bank robber Willie (The Actor) Sutton lounged in a New York jail cell today while law enforcement officers sought to separate fact from fancy in the ace criminal's reputation.

Authorities at the jail, in the Queens borough of New York city, were guarding their 51-year-old slippery prisoner with special care. There is no question about the Sutton record of three successful jail breaks—the most recent in 1947 from a Pennsylvania state prison.

Between that escape and his quiet recapture in Brooklyn Monday, his name had been mentioned many times by police in connection with a number of robberies. Sutton says he will "probably be blamed for anything unsolved in the books."

First attempts to unravel the mystery about Sutton were started yesterday when FBI agents conferred with Queens officials. But the FBI men did not talk with Sutton.

It was reported they discussed the $562,000 robbery by two men in 1948 of the Royal Bank of Canada in Havana, Cuba.

Sutton also has been mentioned by police in the 1½-million-dollar robbery of Brink's, Inc., Boston armored car service, in 1950.

Yesterday Sutton pleaded innocent to a burglary and grand larceny indictment in the 1950 robbery of $64,000 from the Manufacturers Trust Company in Queens. The state asked a quar-

"It is a task for governments and for peoples," the U. S. Secretary of State said. "We must develop the concrete military strength which alone can insure our people against the destruction and suffering of another war."

Two new members, Greece and Turkey, joined the 12 western allies in a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization council—composed of foreign, defense and finance ministers.

Portuguese Foreign Minister Paulo Cunha, in his role of host, broke into the usual welcoming pleasantries with a plea for the admission of Spain to the alliance.

Exclusion Is Blasted

He blasted Spain's exclusion as a strategic absurdity, and said defense of the Iberian peninsula was indivisible.

Solemnly, Chairman Lester B. Pearson of Canada rapped a gavel on the flower-banked rostrum in the white marble Portuguese National Assembly, and warned that this session may well determine whether the Atlantic coalition will be a strong and enduring association for the defense of peace, or merely a fretful and uneasy alliance.

The session is faced with the necessity of producing enough concrete results in western military and civil cooperation or risking a possible slash by the United States Congress in multi-billion dollar aid.

Portuguese guardsmen in bright dress uniforms lined the staircase as the delegates filed into the assembly, among them Sophocles Venizelos, Greek deputy premier and foreign minister.

Realizes Responsibilities

Venizelos declared Greece fully realizes her responsibilities in the organization and she will show the same determination if called upon to aid her allies, as did her tough mountain fighters in putting down Communist revolt within her own borders.

In private conservations before the meeting opened, senior American delegates expressed conviction Congress is in a put-up-or-shut-up mood.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson flew in last night with one plum believed likely to sweeten the congressional mood—a Big Three agreement with Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on German affiliation with western defense through membership in the six-nation European Army.

Agreements Reached

A communique issued in London yesterday said Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman and Adenauer reached agreements during weekend conferences that "marked a decisive turning in the cause of peace." Adenauer said "the way is now clear" for Germany to sign a peace agreement with the Big Three occupiers.

But the communique significantly omitted any mention of German demands for membership in NATO, and a high allied source said the subject was one which does not properly apply to a still-occupied nation.

Diplomats here wondered whether the compromises reached by the foreign ministers might not snag in the German and French Parliaments.

The Germans have demanded more—including NATO membership—than the London talks gave them as their price for rearming. France's Parliament already has hedged its endorsement of the European Army with conditions that could postpone indefinitely or prevent entirely the raising of German troops.

Ward Needs Wardens

More air raid wardens are needed in the Second ward, according to Alderman Benjamin Storms, who as leader of the area is anxious for volunteers to sign for service. Patriotic residents of the ward willing to serve may call Alderman Storms at 6220. Previously the ward was completely organized in this phase of Civilian Defense, but a number of wardens are unable to serve according to schedule because of changes in their jobs.

Digging Out

A Boston motorist begins a frontal attack on snowdrifts imprisoning his car. He had many companions in his task following a windswept storm which dumped up to 17 inches of snow in the area and caused at least seven deaths. In all, the storm was easily New England's worst of the winter. (NEA Telephoto).

Prudential Agents Return to Work; On Strike 81 Days

Two-Year Contract Voted Nationally by Union Members—15,000 Are Affected

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—Some 9,000 Prudential Insurance Co. agents return to work today, ending after 81 days one of the longest white-collar strikes in U. S. labor union history.

Acceptance of a two-year contract running from last Dec. 1 was announced yesterday after nationwide balloting by the Insurance Agents International (AFL). Altogether, approximately 15,000 agents were affected by the walkout.

The union voted 4,331 in favor of settlement and 2,659 against, with 1,162 not voting.

The agents had demanded a $14 weekly pay increase and a union shop. Instead they accepted an average earnings of $5.36 for each agent—about what the company offered—and compulsory arbitration of all grievances.

Each agent also got a $150 lump-sum payment representing the agents' contributions to a pension plan during 1951. The company had put the payments aside while trying to persuade the union to accept a plan to which only the company contributed.

The agents won the right to work in outside jobs on weekends provided their sales and collections kept up to par.

The company estimated agents' average income at $110 a week. The union said it was less, but declined to make public its own estimate.

Local Agents Return

The 12-week strike of the Prudential Insurance Company agent is over and the 25 agents of the Kingston area office returned to work today at 10 o'clock.

Speaking for the members of Local 93, Paul Gardner, president of the local, said the "boys are glad to get back to work and will be glad to see their old customers again and offer to them a complete insurance service. We will be ready to talk insurance to any customer and we regret any inconvenience which they

175 Attend County Meeting in Port Ewen; 1952 Annual Parley Set for Saugerties

The Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association last night elected delegates to the state and Hudson Valley conventions next summer and reported early progress on plans for the association's conventions in Saugerties.

The firemen were guests of the town of Esopus fire companies in the town hall auditorium, Port Ewen, and 175 attended the session. The host companies were Port Ewen, Esopus, Rifton, St. Remy and Connelly.

George W. Gardner, of Saugerties, president of the association, was elected delegate to the convention of the New York State Firemen's Association at East Rochester during the week of August 17, and Arthur Whitall of Rifton was elected delegate to the

Parents to Give Safety Proposals

At a meeting in the George Washington School Monday evening, 40 parents of children in attendance at the school, decided to submit additional suggestions for the safety of the students while in the school area.

This action resulted following a talk given by George Mustaparta, safety engineer of the Ulster County Safety Council, who was the guest speaker.

Carl Pauker and Mrs. Sam Sperling were appointed as co-chairmen of a committee which will meet next Monday night and coordinate safety plans to be submitted to Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk. Members of the committee will be selected by the co-chairmen.

The further recommendations are believed necessary, remarked Mrs. Sperling because the parents in attendance at this week's meeting do not believe suggestions made recently by the Common Council acting upon previous measures submitted by the parents, have been effective.

WicksDelaysVote On State Budget

Illness of Democratic Leader Quinn Brings Postponement in Senate Until February 25

Albany, Feb. 20 (AP)—Action on Governor Dewey's record budget of $1,093,000,000 today was deferred by tse State Senate until Monday night.

GOP Majority Leader Arthur H. Wicks said voting on the budget bills was postponed because of the absence of the Democratic minority leader, Elmer F. Quinn, who was confined to his hotel room with a sore throat.

After the Senate votes expected approval of the state's first billion-dollar budget Monday night, the Assembly will pass it on Tuesday.

The finance committees of both houses yesterday approved the vast spending program for fiscal 1952-53, adding $141,885 to the proposed total of $1,092,760,887 recommended by Dewey in his annual budget message. The increases were in appropriations for the Senate and judiciary.

No Change in Proposal

No change was made in Dewey's proposal to continue collection of the personal income tax at 90 per cent of the full rate. This means the present 10 per cent abatement will be continued for another year.

In other legislative developments:

1—A joint legislative committee contended that certain publishers of comic books and other periodicals had "failed miserably" to eliminate lurid crime, lust and horror from their publications. It proposed that a "comic book review division" be created in the state education department to "clean up" and regulate such publications.

2—The joint legislative committee on motor vehicle problems sponsored a bill to rewrite the state motor vehicle law to make it conform generally to a uniform code recommended for all states by President Truman's highway safety conference.

3—A 200-million state bond issue was urged to finance highway construction and maintenance.

Recommends Minimum

4—The State Federation of Labor (AFL) recommended the legislature set up a dollar-an-hour minimum wage for New York state.

Harriman Backing Held Likely on '52 Democrat Ticket

Diplomat Might Be Pushed for Vice-Presidential Spot—May Seek Ives' Seat

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—Signs were seen today that W. Averell Harriman may get some backing for a place on the Democratic presidential ticket this year.

In view of the fact that President Truman has not announced his own intentions, the speculation was that Harriman, 60 year old diplomat, administrator and Truman lieutenant, may be pushed for the vice presidential spot if the idea catches on.

Harriman's name was mentioned after a White House call yesterday by Paul A. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the New York State Democratic Committee. He asked the President to attend a Democratic party dinner April 17 in New York honoring Harriman. The President took it under consideration.

Asked whether Harriman is being built up for a political position by the New York committee, Fitzpatrick replied simply that the dinner "will honor a man who has served his country well and ably."

Further Response

Responding to further questioning, the chairman said Harriman has been mentioned as a possible Democratic nominee for the Senate seat now held by Senator Ives (R.-N. Y.).

Later, outside the executive of-

Kennon Upsets Long Faction in Louisiana Voting

New Orleans, Feb. 20 (AP)—Robert F. Kennon, a 49-year-old country judge, overthrew the political might of Gov. Earl K. Long in a landslide victory for governor of Louisiana.

Kennon handed the Long forces their worst defeat since the late Huey P. (Kingfish) Long was beaten for governor in his first attempt in 1924.

Kennon's victory in yesterday's Democratic primary, equivalent to election, was over former State District Judge Carlos G. Spaht of Baton Rouge, whom Gov. Long handpicked to be his successor. The state constitution bars the governor from succeeding himself.

Mother Mails Medal To President Truman

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 20 (AP)—A Memphis mother has mailed to President Truman the Purple Heart medal and scroll she received after the death of her soldier son in Korea.

Mrs. Donna Cooper, whose 21-year-old son, Paul, was killed last Oct. 1 in what she called "needless slaughter," said she wrote the President:

"I am returning it to you with this thought—to me he is a symbol of the 109,000 men who have been sacrificed in needless slaughter, a so-called 'Police Action' that has not and could never be satisfactorily explained to patriotic Americans who love their country and the ideals it stands for. * * *

"If there had been a need for armed conflict to preserve the American way of life, I could have given him proudly and would have treasured the medals. However, since there was nothing superficial in his whole life, I cannot mar his memory by keeping a medal and stereotyped words that hold no meaning and fail to promise a better tomorrow for the ones that he died for."

127 Pints Donated In Blood Offering

Increase Over Quota Is 27 Pints—Mobile Unit to Return

A total of 127 pints of blood for the armed forces serving in Korea—an increase of 27 pints over the expected quota of 100 pints—was donated during the all-day visit of the Red Cross "bloodmobile" Tuesday at the municipal auditorium.

Mrs. Samuel J. Adams, local chapter chairman, in making the announcement today had full praise for all donors who were prompt in keeping their appointments and for the many chapter volunteers who assisted during the project.

"Tuesday's 127 pints of blood donation is very gratifying," Mrs. Adams commented and added that "others who applied too late for Tuesday's visit of the "bloodmobile" may rest assured that they will be contacted on the next visit of the unit."

More praise was heaped on the local donation program by the specially trained staff of aides from the mobile unit of Schenectady who were very much pleased with the local operation due mainly to the chapter volunteers who served at the center.

During the all-day blood donation program, many donors commented favorably upon the careful medical history which was taken to safeguard them.

Took Temporary Job. He's Still Busy at 93

Indianapolis, Feb. 20 (AP)—A young man who was given a "temporary" job on the Indianapolis News more than 70 years ago—the day President Garfield was shot—is still on the newspaper today, his 93rd birthday.

He is Hilton U. Brown. The News' Associated Press membership is in his name and records in the New York general office show he is the oldest man now representing a newspaper in AP membership.

On July 2, 1881, the day of the Garfield shooting, Brown applied to the News for a job. The staff was busy and there was no one to take the place of the market reporter who had failed to show up. Brown was given the job on a temporary basis.

"I'm still waiting for that reporter to show up," Brown wrote in a recent book of memoirs.

Brown visits his office in the News almost daily although he takes little active part in the publication of the newspaper.

Anti-Truman Omen Seen By GOP in Congress Voting

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—GOP leaders saw an anti-Truman omen today as a Republican won a Democratic House seat in the first congressional election of this presidential year.

Former Republican Congressman Robert Tripp Ross polled 17,300 votes yesterday to 11,442 for Democratic City Councilman Hugh Quinn.

The special election to fill a vacant seat was held in New York state's first congressional district, composing part of the New York city borough of Queens.

Hailing Ross' 5,858 margin of victory, Republican National Chairman Guy George Gabrielson said in Washington:

"This significant Republican victory in a Democrat stronghold * * * reflects the determination of voters everywhere to replace Trumanism with sound, honest government, competent to achieve peace and preserve our freedoms."

Ross' victory was hailed by Rep. Leonard W. Hall of New York, chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, as "the handwriting on the wall for the Truman administration."

Ranking Democratic leaders did not comment.

Quinn, who campaigned on local issues, had refused to link himself with the Democratic administration and he refrained from pledging support to President Truman. He also announced he would not accept support from the Democratic National Committee.

Ross charged in the campaign

Willie Sutton Awaits Law Efforts to Untangle Mystery

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—Bank robber Willie (The Actor) Sutton lounged in a New York jail cell today while law enforcement officers sought to separate fact from fancy in the ace criminal's reputation.

Authorities at the jail, in the Queens borough of New York city, were guarding their 51-year-old slippery prisoner with special care. There is no question about the Sutton record of three successful jail breaks—the most recent in 1947 from a Pennsylvania state prison.

Between that escape and his quiet recapture in Brooklyn Monday, his name had been mentioned many times by police in connection with a number of robberies. Sutton says he will "probably be blamed for anything unsolved in the books."

First attempts to unravel the mystery about Sutton were started yesterday when FBI agents conferred with Queens officials. But the FBI men did not talk with Sutton.

It was reported they discussed the $562,000 robbery by two men in 1948 of the Royal Bank of Canada in Havana, Cuba.

Sutton also has been mentioned by police in the 1½-million-dollar robbery of Brink's, Inc., Boston armored car service, in 1950.

Yesterday Sutton pleaded innocent to a burglary and grand larceny indictment in the 1950 robbery of $64,000 from the Manufacturers Trust Company in Queens. The state asked a quar-

Spree Repays Good Turn

Kota Bahru, Malaya (AP)—Grateful Royal Air Force officers recently treated a pair of Malaya jungle men to a short spree in comparatively civilized Kota Bahru. The jungle dwellers, who had helped two crashed R.A.F. officers find their way to a village, saw the sea for the first time, rode in buses and attended an amusement park. To top off their visit, the Air Force bought them $130 worth of shirts, shorts, combs, shoes, needles, thread, belts, tobacco, fishing nets and mirrors.

Charges Dropped Against Man, 26

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—Charges against John Joseph Byrne, of 306 West 94th street, Manhattan, who had been arrested in connection with injuries suffered by a young woman found lying in a courtyard near his apartment were dismissed by Magistrate Benjamin Brenner in felony court yesterday for lack of evidence.

Byrne, 26-year-old fruit peddler, was arrested Feb. 9 after Miss Arlene Conte, 23, of 731 North Barry avenue, Mamaroneck, N. Y., was found injured in a courtyard below a broken window of Byrne's apartment. He was charged with felonious assault, attempted rape and illegal possession of a .32 caliber revolver.

Police said Miss Conte, who suffered a broken pelvis and was permitted to leave St. Vincent's Hospital to appear in court yesterday, either jumped or was pushed through the window at 4:30 a. m. on Feb. 9 as she resisted an alleged attempt at rape.

Was Not Identified

She was unable to identify Byrne, and the charges were dismissed after a hearing. The peddler had been held in city prison in lieu of $10,000 bail.

He was taken into custody near his apartment, but insisted he was then returning home and had not been in the apartment earlier that morning. He denied all knowledge of the case and said he merely saw a crowd gathered near his home when he returned there after a visit to taverns.

Miss Conte had been quoted by police as saying she had gone to the Byrne apartment to see a third person and that the peddler threatened her with the gun.

George Washington and Patrick Henry were among the first owners of land in the Dismal Swamp of North Carolina and Virginia.

Appellate Division Reserves Decision

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—The Appellate Division of State Supreme Court has reserved decision on the constitutionality of New York's new weight-distance tax on big trucks.

The court heard arguments yesterday and then adjourned until March 10, opening day of its regular term.

A group of truckers had filed an appeal after Justice Harry E. Schirick held last month that the law was constitutional.

The state has been restrained by court order from collecting the tax from carriers who have filed their monthly returns. However, the state has not been stayed from collecting from truckers who have not filed returns.

Another monthly mileage report, the fourth since the law went into effect Oct. 1, became due today. It covers January operations.

Builders Declare House Prices Are Due for Reduction

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—Price tags on houses must come down.

That is the consensus of more than 50 home builders meeting in Washington to share "trade secrets" on how to cut housing costs.

They said that even if the actual dollar cost of houses doesn't come down, the price must represent a smaller percentage of the purchaser's salary or income than it has in the past.

Some of these builders already are producing homes for as low as $6,500 for a two-bedroom, flat-roof design and around $10,000 for a three bedroom, 1½-bath plan. These are final costs after landscaping.

Al Balch of Seattle, Wash., and V. A. Place of South Bend, Ind., both well known home builders, said possibilities for builders to economize in housing costs barely have been scratched.

Other builders said the public in many localities already had been educated to prefer basementless and atticless homes, with utility and storage rooms or space on one floor.

Other Saving Ways

They said economy-minded builders also are saving money by using such other things as truss-type roofs that eliminate the need for heavily built partitions inside; new radiant heating, and carports instead of garages.

Each saving may represent only a few dollars gained, but when builders get together and pool their trade secrets, and each builder uses all of these short cuts in building a home, the economy will run into hundreds of dollars, the builders said.

The construction men, who met with congressmen and other government officials, are members of the National Association of Home Builders.

The type of building craftsmanship which makes it necessary for carpenters, plumbers and some other workers to spend many days on a job, is becoming a thing of the past, many builders agreed.

Much of the cutting and fitting now is done at a central spot and then assembled in just a few days at the site.

Editor, The Freeman:

It has come to our attention that there is a veteran, Floyd Rhoades, 13 Golf Terrace, and his family, in dire need of public assistance. He is a victim of multiple sclerosis due to injuries received while in the service of his country.

Because of "red tape" involved, the various organizations are using the old cliche of "let George do it" when asked for assistance.

He and his wife and two children have but $60 per month for which to buy food, shelter, heat, medicine—in fact, all those things we take for granted as daily necessities.

When not in bed he is confined to a wheel chair. His wife is unable to work to supplement their $60 monthly income because she must be with him at all times. The children, a boy of six and a girl, aged 5, also need her care.

Their neighbors and some friends have been more than kind but a few cannot carry all the load.

Surely there is some permanent way this family can be helped.

Two Boys Killed, Mother Wounded

Renton, Wash., Feb. 20 (AP)—Two little boys paid with their lives last night and their mother lay gravely wounded today because, she said, it was "the only way out" of domestic financial difficulties she blamed on herself.

The 31-year-old mother if Mrs. Madeline Smith. Dead are John Thomas Smith, 10, and Michael Patrick, 5. Their father, Eugene J. Smith, 30, a consulting engineer, found their bodies when he returned from work last night.

On the table was a four page letter. Before he could read it he heard his wife moan in the bedroom. There he found her gravely wounded, the boys were dead. A rifle lay on the floor.

Mrs. Smith was taken to the New Renton Hospital where she gasped out a statement to County Detective Chief Adam Lyskoski.

"I am tired of being a liar and a cheat," she told Lyskoski. "My husband earned $5,000 last year and I spent all of it. I didn't do anything right."

The letter to her husband said she had dissipated family savings, allowed payments on the house, car and freezer to lapse.

"This is the only way out," she wrote, "and I decided to take the babies with me."

The babies were taken; doctors said they may save Mrs. Smith.

Will Select Art Work

AT THE NEW YORK NAVAL SHIPYARD, Brooklyn, N. Y., it takes an average of 11,000 calls a day to push ahead the job of repairing fighting ships and recommissioning aircraft carriers. Above: Lt. Comdr. Defense gets first call with your telephone company—and we're working hard to keep up with its ever-growing needs.

Phone calls hit all-time high

25,000,000 made daily.
Facilities must be expanded at costs that have doubled in ten years.

Never before in New York State's telephone history have so many people made so many calls to so many places. In 1951, 25,000,000 calls per day were completed—600,000 more each day than in the previous year.

The heavy demand for telephone service has called for one of the biggest expansion and improvement programs in our history. Tons of costly switchboards, miles of cable and mountains of supplies are needed to do the job. The program, already launched, is expected to total $180,000,000 this year.

This big job is a real challenge. First, we must obtain scarce materials, especially copper. Next, millions of dollars must be available to finance the program. Most of this capital must come from investors—new money from the savings of people who have confidence in the business.

To justify this confidence, and thus continue to obtain the capital needed to assure good service in the future, the company must remain financially strong.

NEW YORK TELEPHONE COMPANY

HEAVY DEMANDS IN EVERY COMMUNITY—and new telephone facilities must be provided. Here's just one of many new pieces of equipment being installed in a central office to serve thousands of new subscribers. This project is part of a $180,000,000 state-wide construction program. Since 1945, almost one billion dollars have gone into expanding and improving service. The 1952 program is going ahead just as fast as money and materials are available.

SPLICING COPPER WIRES IN CABLE. The cost of copper has gone sky-high. Today we pay $59 for a coil of copper wire which cost $27 just ten years ago. Price tags on telephone poles have jumped from $7.75 to $17.70. It costs more than twice as much to grow today.

On the table was a four page letter. Before he could read it he heard his wife moan in the bedroom. There he found her gravely wounded, the boys were dead. A rifle lay on the floor.

Mrs. Smith was taken to the New Renton Hospital where she gasped out a statement to County Detective Chief Adam Lyskoski.

"I am tired of being a liar and a cheat," she told Lyskoski. "My husband earned $5,000 last year and I spent all of it. I didn't do anything right."

The letter to her husband said she had dissipated family savings, allowed payments on the house, car and freezer to lapse.

"This is the only way out," she wrote, "and I decided to take the babies with me."

Will Select Art Work

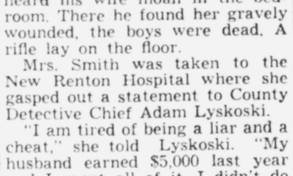

A three-man jury will select the paintings and sculpture to be displayed at the 17th Annual Exhibition of Artists of the Upper Hudson held at the Albany Institute of History and Art, Albany, N. Y., from April 3 through May 4. The members of the jury will be Marion D. Pease, chairman of the art department of Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs; Frederick B. Robinson, director of the Museum of Fine Arts, Springfield, Mass., and Cecile Forman, artist of Woodstock. They will meet at the Institute Wednesday, March 12, to make their selections. The deadline for entries is 5 p. m. Saturday, March 8.

Truman Is Invited

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—President Truman has been invited to attend a Democratic party dinner honoring W. Averell Harriman, one of his top aides who may run for the Democratic senatorial nomination in New York. Chairman Paul A. Fitzpatrick of the State Democratic Committee, who extended the invitation yesterday, said the President had taken it "under consideration and will let me know definitely on it later." The dinner, on April 17, will be in New York.

AT THE NEW YORK NAVAL SHIPYARD, Brooklyn, N. Y., it takes an average of 11,000 calls a day to push ahead the job of repairing fighting ships and recommissioning aircraft carriers. Above: Lt. Comdr. Defense gets first call with your telephone company—and we're working hard to keep up with its ever-growing needs.

Phone calls hit all-time high

25,000,000 made daily.
Facilities must be expanded at costs that have doubled in ten years.

Never before in New York State's telephone history have so many people made so many calls to so many places. In 1951, 25,000,000 calls per day were completed—600,000 more each day than in the previous year.

The heavy demand for telephone service has called for one of the biggest expansion and improvement programs in our history. Tons of costly switchboards, miles of cable and mountains of supplies are needed to do the job. The program, already launched, is expected to total $180,000,000 this year.

This big job is a real challenge. First, we must obtain scarce materials, especially copper. Next, millions of dollars must be available to finance the program. Most of this capital must come from investors—new money from the savings of people who have confidence in the business.

To justify this confidence, and thus continue to obtain the capital needed to assure good service in the future, the company must remain financially strong.

NEW YORK TELEPHONE COMPANY

HEAVY DEMANDS IN EVERY COMMUNITY—and new telephone facilities must be provided. Here's just one of many new pieces of equipment being installed in a central office to serve thousands of new subscribers. This project is part of a $180,000,000 state-wide construction program. Since 1945, almost one billion dollars have gone into expanding and improving service. The 1952 program is going ahead just as fast as money and materials are available.

SPLICING COPPER WIRES IN CABLE. The cost of copper has gone sky-high. Today we pay $59 for a coil of copper wire which cost $27 just ten years ago. Price tags on telephone poles have jumped from $7.75 to $17.70. It costs more than twice as much to grow today.

A BETTER LIFE FOR CARDIACS

Medical authorities estimate that about 10 million people in the United States have some form of heart disease. Illnesses of the heart and circulation are our leading cause of death.

Such obvious facts certainly are enough to establish the enormity of the purely medical aspects of the disease. Less obvious and much less understood, however, are the social aspects.

What place is the cardiac to have in society. Can he hold a job. Can he earn a living?

Doctors say that people with heart disease are generally better off working than worrying, providing the work is not beyond their physical capacities.

In fact, according to latest information, a suitable job may actually improve the cardiac's condition, not make it worse.

The cardiac has his limitations, of course. He can't do heavy work, he can't move fast for extended periods of time, and he shouldn't climb steps unless he can do so slowly and without carrying a heavy load.

But these limitations are sometimes misunderstood. For instance, some believe that workmen's compensation rates go up when cardiacs are hired.

According to the American Heart Association the rates do not increase when the condition of the handicapped worker is known, because he can then be placed in a suitable job.

At least one extensive survey has shown that cardiacs in 50 different industries more than held their own in competition with unhandicapped workers doing the same jobs.

With most other results about even, the survey showed the cardiacs actually produced 2.4 per cent more than the unimpaired workers. Apparently they produced more to prove their work in industry.

All the facts are not in on the case of the cardiacs. More must be known about the energy required to do certain tasks and run certain machines. Better tests must be developed to determine the individual's ability to work.

Behind the efforts to determine these things is the American Heart Association. The goal of its annual national campaign being held this month is $8 million.

In addition to your dollars you can make a valuable contribution by making an attempt to understand the many problems presented by heart disease.

Such a contribution on your part can make "New Hope for Hearts" more than just a fund campaign slogan.

Wonder what ever became of the new doormat invented four or five years ago which would turn on the porch light, ring the doorbell and clean dirt off your shoes when you stepped on it? Someone probably wanted one which also would politely brush off unwanted callers.

SOLDIER CANDIDATE

If General Eisenhower were superstitious, he would find an ill omen in the fact that the last regular army officer to run for president was defeated. This was General Winfield Scott Hancock, to whose skill has been attributed the Northern victory at Gettysburg, and who received the thanks of Congress for his work.

In the 1868 Democratic convention Hancock received a sizable vote for president, and in 1880 he was nominated on the second ballot. The campaign against General James A. Garfield, the Republican candidate, who had gone back to civil life after his brief war service, was uneventful. At the outset Hancock seemed likely to win. The followers of General Grant were disaffected at his failure to be named for a third term, and in September the Maine election showed an unexpected Democratic victory. This setback caused unusual Republican effort, and Garfield finally prevailed by a slight majority in the crucial state of New York.

Hancock's defeat was attributed to his remark, "The tariff is a local issue." Though derided at the time, it is now recognized as profoundly true. The tariff is one issue which is not now likely to help or harm Eisenhower.

TRUMAN'S CANDIDACY

From the standpoint of the United States, it is sound that Harry Truman should run for the Presidency. That means that his opponent will have ample opportunity to attack the policies and practices of his administration. Should the opponent be Senator Taft, the debate will be clear-cut and positive.

Taft will go to as many whistle-stops as Truman, and the people will hear both sides.

Harry Truman's reference to martyrdom via Congressman Sabath is, of course, campaign talk with no meaning. While the Presidency is a difficult task, few, if any, Presidents have died of it. Woodrow Wilson's tumor on the brain was not a product of the Presidency, for it comes to many a person who is not President; Coolidge and Harding did not die of over-work; Herbert Hoover is still alive, thank God. Franklin D. Roosevelt died of a cerebral hemorrhage. Certainly, with the high incidence of death from cardiac and arterial causes in this country, it is impossible for anyone to say that the Presidency is, in particular, a killer.

Men rarely die from over-work; over-eating and poorly-balanced diets seem to do more mischief, as all the statistics on the subject show.

These references to Mr. Truman's prospective martyrdom are only a prelude to the more important point that it is altogether unnecessary. If Mr Truman finds the task of being President so perilous, there surely is no need for him to continue in that office. Many Democrats and many Republicans would gladly assume the risk. Senator Kefauver is travelling the country to inform the citizens of his aspiration to lay down his life for his country in the White House and it is reported that many Democrats would prefer such a man as Senator Richard Russell.

As for the Republicans, Senator Robert A. Taft is already whistle-stopping to establish his availability and General Eisenhower's supporters proclaim his readiness far and wide. Harold Stassen is ready and willing and Governor Earl Warren of California has placed himself in position, so that, come what may, California with its huge convention delegation, may no longer be treated as a distant cousin.

Surely, with so many willing to assume the perils of high office, it is not necessary to embarrass President Truman. He can readily avoid martyrdom and if, as Congressman Sabath indicated, there is a distaste for a killing job, other jobs may be found. Coolidge and Hoover became directors of life insurance companies and Al Smith, if you recall, took over the management of an office building, having lost the opportunity to test the stresses and strains of the White House.

It is understandable that Mr. Truman would sacrifice himself for peace. So would we all. On the other hand, Mr. Truman has given no evidence of his own proficiency in peace-making. Out of his labors have come the "cold war" in Europe and the "hot war" in Asia. Perhaps it is not his fault but that of Joe Stalin whom he met at Potsdam and liked. Yet, no peace has come out of the huge expenditures to attain it.

A public official lives by his record and no matter whose fault it is that mistakes are made, the chief of state must bear the responsibility. Thus, when a policy of peace produces war and costs the taxpayer about $100,000,000,000 a year, there is cause to wonder whether his profession of peaceful intentions is not made of the stuff with which Hell is paved.

It is difficult to ignore the fact that from Potsdam to the dismissal of MacArthur, the Truman peace policy was such that the United States came out of it with loss of dignity and even humiliation. We went into Potsdam the most powerful nation on earth; we are today not in that position, having lost control of the air, the atom bomb, and leadership in the United Nations. In fact, at the recent sessions in Paris of the General Assembly, the number of nations voting against this country or abstaining from voting with us, gives the impression that buying allies is a dangerous enterprise because they do not stay bought. A policy based on profligacy embarrasses the taker as much as it distresses the giver.

As desirable as peace is, it must not be a token political effort aimed to confuse the electorate.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

CONTROL OF EPILEPSY

As a child I saw a wealthy and very charitable middle-aged woman during a fit of epilepsy. I promised myself that if I ever studied medicine, I would give considerable time to learning the cause of epileptic attacks and a possible cure. All that could be done for an epileptic at that time was to prevent his hurting himself until the fit passed over.

While the cause or causes of epilepsy have become known, there is at present no cure. However, as epilepsy, in most cases, can be controlled so that the patient can avoid or almost completely avoid attacks, the life span of the epileptic is not shortened to any great extent and he can engage in almost all forms of gainful occupation.

So distressing to patient and family, and to others, are these attacks that throughout the civilized world organizations have been formed to conquer or at least control epilepsy.

In The Statistical Bulletin, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, we learn that there is need for more facilities and personnel to diagnose and treat epilepsy. In the entire United States there are only 23 special clinics and only about 150 specialists in epilepsy. "A substantial increase in the number of treatment centers, adequately staffed, would not only reduce appreciably the number of epileptics who enter institutions but would make many more of them self-supporting. There is good evidence that four of every five epileptic children could lead normal and productive lives if proper treatment were available."

Because this early and adequate treatment has given such brilliant results, both public and private agencies have taken steps to challenge epilepsy. Programs are under way in which national, state and local agencies cooperate and these receive support from the Federal Security Agency. The Maryland State Department of Health and the University of Illinois College of Medicine are training physicians in the medical and social needs of the epileptic. The United States Public Health Service supports activities in the field.

The general home treatment of the epileptic is to cut down on liquids and starch foods and increase fat foods. Daily dose of one of the barbiturate or other drugs is prescribed by the family physician.

This Is the Way

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Salt Lake City, Utah—At dinner with Gov. J. Bracken Lee, the subject of government spending came up. I though I had said some rather strong things about certain forms of government waste but found I was mild compared with the new Republican governor of Utah.

A delightful and vigorous person, the governor claimed that government spending was "creeping socialism," the ruination of the nation, and that practically all spending should be curtailed by Washington. I tried to point out that certain states and even big business might squawk to high heaven if "creeping socialism" was stopped but the governor is an energetic talker, and I fear I was not too convincing.

Later I did some research on "creeping socialism" and its benefits to certain states and business groups. Here are the results:

U. S. Steel Corporation—Biggest boon to Utah has been the operation of a steel mill at Geneva. Governor Lee told me this greatly increased the population of Salt Lake City and the surrounding area and contributed generously to local prosperity.

However, the U. S. Steel Corp. at first opposed the production of steel in Utah. Judge Elbert Gary, former head of U. S. Steel, scoffed at the idea when I interviewed him many years ago, and his successors continued to scoff—even after Pearl Harbor. In fact, they were so opposed to western steel production that the federal government had to take the initiative itself for the Geneva plant.

Uncle Sam took all the risk and after proving that the steel industry in the Far West could be successful, then U. S. Steel, supported by some astute lobbying by ex-Gov. Herbert Maw of Utah and ex-Sen. Abe Murdoch, got the federal government to sell the Geneva plant to U. S Steel for about 20 cents on the dollar.

The steel plant cost the taxpayers $191,326,000. It was sold to U. S. Steel for $47,175,000. Direct subsidy to U. S. Steel and the state of Utah was $144,151,000.

Fort Douglas, Utah—On the foothills just above Salt Lake City stands Fort Douglas, an important army installation. After the war, a large hunk of the fort's territory, plus important buildings, were turned over to Governor Lee's state of Utah, and are now a part of the University of Utah.

Airlines Subsidies—Utah, an inland state, benefits from quick airline transportation. Most people don't realize it, but the airlines, though now big business, get an annual subsidy of $95,000,000 through "creeping socialism." On top of this they get the advantage of 70,000 miles of air lanes serviced by radio range stations, beacons and traffic controls, all paid for by the federal government. The railroads have to pay for their own signals, telegraph and upkeep of their tracks, while the airlines get like services free. In addition, the airplanes get the use of airports, usually supplied by municipalities, tax-free. The railroads pay taxes on their property.

In 1951 the taxpayers shelled out $21,361,040 to construct new towers, beacons, and radar for the airways, plus another $73,931,733 for personnel to operate these safety aids, plus another $37,000,000 for runways and construction work at airports.

The airlines are now big business. I agree with Governor Lee that this is "creeping socialism." But he'll find that big business will be the first to howl if it's stopped.

Shipping Subsidies — Also the first to yell if we stop "creeping socialism" will be another big-business group, the shipping lines. American shipowners get $30,000,000 annually in operating subsidies. On top of this the United States Lines last year got a construction subsidy of $18,225,000 plus an indirect subsidy of $24,061,000 for national defense in building the new vessel, The United States.

American Export Lines is due to get a $26,000,000 subsidy for the Independence and the Constitution, but after Controller General Lindsay Warren objected to "creeping socialism" and proposed curtailing subsidies, the American Export Lines threatened to dump the ships in the lap of Uncle Sam.

Public Roads—Another form of creeping socialism is the government's annual subsidy to the states to build highways. This costs the federal travelers about half a billion dollars a year and is allocated to Governor Lee of Utah and the other 47 states.

If this were curtailed every bus line, trucking company, and many private motorists would be at the door of Congress in about 24 hours demanding that "creeping socialism" for the highways be reinstated.

Doctors Subsidies — In Utah, Sen. Elbert Thomas was defeated partly because he favored a public health bill. The doctors rose up in arms against him, called him an exponent of creeping socialism.

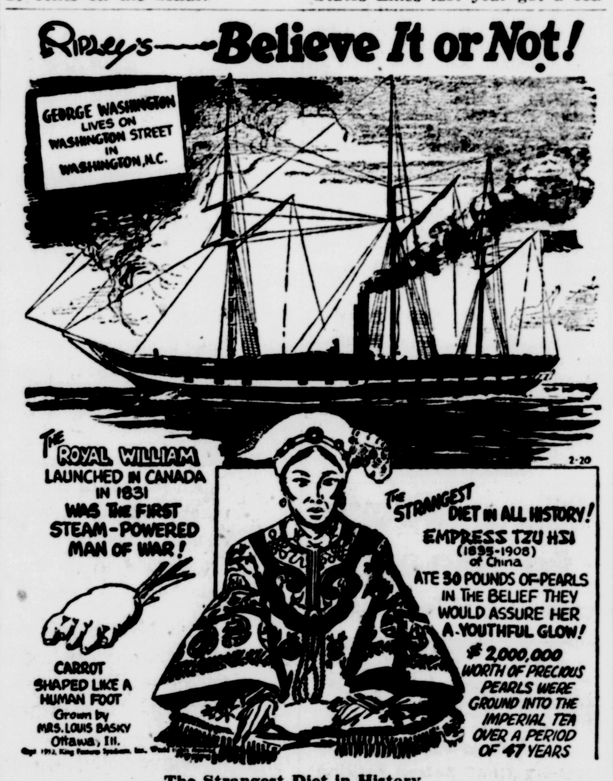

What the public doesn't realize, however, is that the doctors got their own direct subsidy in the form of $39,578,000 from the federal government last year, much of it going to medical institutions for research. However, this money is largely in the form of gifts so that the doctors control it once they get it from the government. The taxpayers have no means of checking as to how efficiently it is spent.

These medical grants are made necessary because the public and the doctors have been so backward in contributing to free-enterprise research instead of creeping-socialism research. Thus, Walter Winchell, who has done an outstanding job of money raising for cancer work, has been able to raise only $5,000,000 in five years, whereas the federal government has contributed as much as $15,000,000 in a single year for cancer research.

In brief, much as the governor of Utah and I both deplore creeping socialism I'm afraid there are a lot of other people in the nation who don't.

President Asks Powers Which Can't Be Granted Except During War

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Feb. 20—President Truman is asking for emergency powers which Congress under the Constitution cannot grant except in wartime. There are 60 different provisions of law which were enacted when the United States was at war with Japan and Germany and which will expire when the treaty with Japan is ratified. Already the treaty with Germany has been ratified.

Mr. Truman now tells Congress that technically the conflict in Korea "does not constitute a state of war."

Who will read that statement without feeling that a certain hypocrisy is being practiced? Everyone knows what a state of war is. When America's army, navy and air force—an estimated personnel of more than 350,000—are engaged in fighting Chinese and North Korean Communists, a state of war is in existence.

It is true that the President has not chosen to recognize this as a "state of war" and that technically, therefore, it doesn't exist. But the responsibility for this piece of avoidance is upon the executive, and there never has been a satisfactory explanation given of why American boys were sent into battle in Korea without the enactment of a resolution by both Houses of Congress assenting to that step.

There have been in history many instances in which wars began without a declaration of a state of war, but this has happened because the enemy started hostilities first. Usually, if it is more than just a "police action," the President of the United States has gone to Congress soon thereafter with a request that both Houses ratify the steps taken and recognize a state of war.

One of the excuses given in this case is that the Nationalist government of Chiang Kai-shek has been and still is at peace with and has been formally recognized by the United States as the government of China.

But this is only an excuse. For in American history there has been a recognition of a state of war with a faction in another country. Thus, in early 1914, when the forces of General Huerta in Mexico—representing one faction at the seat of the previous government — became involved in fighting with the forces of the United States, President Wilson asked for and received approval from Congress to recognize a state of war between the United States and only the Huerta forces. That war was ended by a truce and formal peace negotiations in which Argentina, Brazil and Chile acted as mediators.

Any war in which the casualties on our side have risen beyond the 100,000 mark—as in Korea—is a full-fledged war in the sense in which the Constitution requires congressional approval or ratification.

Why then wasn't this state of war recognized? The only explanation that seems to be plausible is that the President didn't want to offend the British government, which had, despite American protests, recognized the Chinese Communist government. Much more serious is the implication which now can be drawn that, when the United Nations prescribes the use of force, a war may be begun and no ratification by the Congress of the United States is necessary.

The Supreme Court of the United States in a famous case—known as "Ex Parte Milligan" was decided shortly after the war between the states had ended—criticized the suspension of constitutional guarantees and argued that "no more pernicious doctrine was ever invented by man" than the idea that in an "emergency" the Constitution can be superseded. Judge Davis, a personal friend of Abraham Lincoln, criticized nevertheless an act of one of the departments of his administration and ruled:

"The Constitution of the United States is a law for rulers and people, equally in war and in peace, and covers with the shield of its protection all classes of men, at all times, and under all circumstances."

The decision of the court added that the provisions of the Constitution cannot be suspended "during any of the great exigencies of government"—not even by the President of the United States—for if they could be suspended, "such a doctrine leads directly to anarchy or despotism."

An administration which professes to believe in civil rights for minorities must necessarily respect the civil rights of majorities. Hence the emergency or wartime powers just requested cannot be constitutionally granted unless there is a state of war—and the Korean conflict is certainly such a war. Nor will it be ended by just a cease-fire. The actual state of war can be ended only by a formal peace treaty, which is a long way off.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Frankfurt on Main—In his modest office at the Supreme Headquarters of the Allied Powers just outside Paris, General Eisenhower said a few weeks ago, "I had to retreat one hundred miles after the victory in compliance with their decisions." He was referring to decisions made by Ambassador Winant and the Russian and British representatives on the European Advisory Commission in London in 1943. Winant, who was conscious that he bore a faint facial resemblance to Lincoln, later killed himself. Speculations among persons who knew him as to the reason why include the possibility that he felt a terrible guilt in his assumption that we could trust the Russians. Obedient to that assumption he gave the Russians the line of their present Iron Curtain in Germany and, lest he wound their feelings by the faintest intimation of distrust, would not insist on access from the west to our sector in Berlin.

General Eisenhower said the military decisions were made by the military commanders, including himself. But he distinguished between military and political decisions. In this case, instead of rearing back and appealing to the American public if necessary, he bowed to a fateful decision by a man who at best can be called a fool.

At the "briefing" given for my benefit in our beleaguered headquarters in Berlin a few days ago by representatives of our State Department, I received a booklet entitled 'Berlin" with a short forword which frankly referred to "the struggle between the east and west."

In this document, the State Department says that after we had shattered the enemy's capital by two years of bombing, "the victorious Red army assumed control of the tattered remnants of what had once been the third largest city in the world."

The Red army was victorious in the sense that it was on the winning side, but the stipulation should be made that but for the bombing of Berlin and other centers of strength and our absurd generosity the Russians would not have taken Berlin. And the "victorious Red army" could not have "assumed control" if General Eisenhower had not received orders to fall back 100 miles.

The booklet continues: "with an industry dependent on Silesia, East Prussia, Saxony and foreign countries for raw materials and a transport system whose operation is subject to the whims of an unfriendly political power," meaning our gallant ally, Russia, "Berin can but hope for a solution to the present impasse. The basic mission of the Berlin garrison is to provide security for the United states agencies. The Soviets took advantage of the two months between the fall of Berlin in May and the arrival of the western allies in July to install as city administrators a crew of German expatriates trained in Moscow for just this contingency. One of these key officials, Paul Markgraf, had been carefully groomed for the role of president of the Berlin Police force."

We knew all about these expatriate German Communists and yet all this caught us by surprise.

Demobilization set in with us. The Communists, especially in the Pacific where they had elbowed themselves into the GI publications, yelled stridently against our "brass." Congress and our papers also wanted to bring "the boys" home. And demobilization became a dissolution and the American occupation in Germany became for a time a disgrace.

A BETTER LIFE FOR CARDIACS

Medical authorities estimate that about 10 million people in the United States have some form of heart disease. Illnesses of the heart and circulation are our leading cause of death.

Such obvious facts certainly are enough to establish the enormity of the purely medical aspects of the disease. Less obvious and much less understood, however, are the social aspects.

What place is the cardiac to have in society. Can he hold a job. Can he earn a living?

Doctors say that people with heart disease are generally better off working than worrying, providing the work is not beyond their physical capacities.

In fact, according to latest information, a suitable job may actually improve the cardiac's condition, not make it worse.

The cardiac has his limitations, of course. He can't do heavy work, he can't move fast for extended periods of time, and he shouldn't climb steps unless he can do so slowly and without carrying a heavy load.

But these limitations are sometimes misunderstood. For instance, some believe that workmen's compensation rates go up when cardiacs are hired.

According to the American Heart Association the rates do not increase when the condition of the handicapped worker is known, because he can then be placed in a suitable job.

At least one extensive survey has shown that cardiacs in 50 different industries more than held their own in competition with unhandicapped workers doing the same jobs.

With most other results about even, the survey showed the cardiacs actually produced 2.4 per cent more than the unimpaired workers. Apparently they produced more to prove their work in industry.

All the facts are not in on the case of the cardiacs. More must be known about the energy required to do certain tasks and run certain machines. Better tests must be developed to determine the individual's ability to work.

Behind the efforts to determine these things is the American Heart Association. The goal of its annual national campaign being held this month is $8 million.

In addition to your dollars you can make a valuable contribution by making an attempt to understand the many problems presented by heart disease.

Such a contribution on your part can make "New Hope for Hearts" more than just a fund campaign slogan.

Wonder what ever became of the new doormat invented four or five years ago which would turn on the porch light, ring the doorbell and clean dirt off your shoes when you stepped on it? Someone probably wanted one which also would politely brush off unwanted callers.

SOLDIER CANDIDATE

If General Eisenhower were superstitious, he would find an ill omen in the fact that the last regular army officer to run for president was defeated. This was General Winfield Scott Hancock, to whose skill has been attributed the Northern victory at Gettysburg, and who received the thanks of Congress for his work.

In the 1868 Democratic convention Hancock received a sizable vote for president, and in 1880 he was nominated on the second ballot. The campaign against General James A. Garfield, the Republican candidate, who had gone back to civil life after his brief war service, was uneventful. At the outset Hancock seemed likely to win. The followers of General Grant were disaffected at his failure to be named for a third term, and in September the Maine election showed an unexpected Democratic victory. This setback caused unusual Republican effort, and Garfield finally prevailed by a slight majority in the crucial state of New York.

Hancock's defeat was attributed to his remark, "The tariff is a local issue." Though derided at the time, it is now recognized as profoundly true. The tariff is one issue which is not now likely to help or harm Eisenhower.

TRUMAN'S CANDIDACY

From the standpoint of the United States, it is sound that Harry Truman should run for the Presidency. That means that his opponent will have ample opportunity to attack the policies and practices of his administration. Should the opponent be Senator Taft, the debate will be clear-cut and positive.

Taft will go to as many whistle-stops as Truman, and the people will hear both sides.

Harry Truman's reference to martyrdom via Congressman Sabath is, of course, campaign talk with no meaning. While the Presidency is a difficult task, few, if any. Presidents have died of it. Woodrow Wilson's tumor on the brain was not a product of the Presidency, for it comes to many a person who is not President; Coolidge and Harding did not die of over-work; Herbert Hoover is still alive, thank God. Franklin D. Roosevelt died of a cerebral hemorrhage. Certainly, with the high incidence of death from cardiac and arterial causes in this country, it is impossible for anyone to say that the Presidency is, in particular, a killer.

Men rarely die from over-work; over-eating and poorly-balanced diets seem to do more mischief, as all the statistics on the subject show.

These references to Mr. Truman's prospective martyrdom are only a prelude to the more important point that it is altogether unnecessary. If Mr. Truman finds the task of being President so perilous, there surely is no need for him to continue in that office. Many Democrats and many Republicans would gladly assume the risk. Senator Kefauver is travelling the country to inform the citizens of his aspiration to lay down his life for his country in the White House and it is reported that many Democrats would prefer such a man as Senator Richard Russell.

As for the Republicans, Senator Robert A. Taft is already whistle-stopping to establish his availability and General Eisenhower's supporters proclaim his readiness far and wide. Harold Stassen is ready and willing and Governor Earl Warren of California has placed himself in position, so that, come what may, California with its huge convention delegation, may no longer be treated as a distant cousin.

Surely, with so many willing to assume the perils of high office, it is not necessary to embarrass President Truman. He can readily avoid martyrdom and if, as Congressman Sabath indicated, there is a distaste for a killing job, other jobs may be found. Coolidge and Hoover became directors of life insurance companies and Al Smith, if you recall, took over the management of an office building, having lost the opportunity to test the stresses and strains of the White House.

It is understandable that Mr. Truman would sacrifice himself for peace. So would we all. On the other hand, Mr. Truman has given no evidence of his own proficiency in peace-making. Out of his labors have come the "cold war" in Europe and the "hot war" in Asia. Perhaps it is not his fault but that of Joe Stalin whom he met at Potsdam and liked. Yet, no peace has come out of the huge expenditures to attain it.

A public official lives by his record and no matter whose fault it is that mistakes are made, the chief of state must bear the responsibility. Thus, when a policy of peace produces war and costs the taxpayer about $100,000,000,000 a year, there is cause to wonder whether his profession of peaceful intentions is not made of the stuff with which Hell is paved.

It is difficult to ignore the fact that from Potsdam to the dismissal of MacArthur, the Truman peace policy was such that the United States came out of it with loss of dignity and even humiliation. We went into Potsdam the most powerful nation on earth; we are today not in that position, having lost control of the air, the atom bomb, and leadership in the United Nations. In fact, at the recent sessions in Paris of the General Assembly, the number of nations voting against this country or abstaining from voting with us, gives the impression that buying allies is a dangerous enterprise because they do not stay bought. A policy based on profligacy embarrasses the taker as much as it distresses the giver.

As desirable as peace is, it must not be a token political effort aimed to confuse the electorate.

CONTROL OF EPILEPSY

As a child I saw a wealthy and very charitable middle-aged woman during a fit of epilepsy. I promised myself that if I ever studied medicine, I would give considerable time to learning the cause of epileptic attacks and a possible cure. All that could be done for an epileptic at that time was to prevent his hurting himself until the fit passed over.

While the cause or causes of epilepsy have become known, there is at present no cure. However, as epilepsy, in most cases, can be controlled so that the patient can avoid or almost completely avoid attacks, the life span of the epileptic is not shortened to any great extent and he can engage in almost all forms of gainful occupation.

So distressing to patient and family, and to others, are these attacks that throughout the civilized world organizations have been formed to conquer or at least control epilepsy.

In The Statistical Bulletin, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, we learn that there is need for more facilities and personnel to diagnose and treat epilepsy. In the entire United States there are only 23 special clinics and only about 150 specialists in epilepsy. "A substantial increase in the number of treatment centers, adequately staffed, would not only reduce appreciably the number of epileptics who enter institutions but would make many more of them self-supporting. There is good evidence that four of every five epileptic children could lead normal and productive lives if proper treatment were available."

Because this early and adequate treatment has given such brilliant results, both public and private agencies have taken steps to challenge epilepsy. Programs are under way in which national, state and local agencies cooperate and these receive support from the Federal Security Agency. The Maryland State Department of Health and the University of Illinois College of Medicine are training physicians in the medical and social needs of the epileptic. The United States Public Health Service supports activities in the field.

The general home treatment of the epileptic is to cut down on liquids and starch foods and increase fat foods. Daily dose of one of the barbiturate or other drugs is prescribed by the family physician.

This Is the Way

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Salt Lake City, Utah—At dinner with Gov. J. Bracken Lee, the subject of government spending came up. I though I had said some rather strong things about certain forms of government waste but found I was mild compared with the new Republican governor of Utah.

A delightful and vigorous person, the governor claimed that government spending was "creeping socialism," the ruination of the nation, and that practically all spending should be curtailed by Washington. I tried to point out that certain states and even big business might squawk to high heaven if "creeping socialism" was stopped but the governor is an energetic talker, and I fear I was not too convincing.

Later I did some research on "creeping socialism" and its benefits to certain states and business groups. Here are the results:

U. S. Steel Corporation—Biggest boon to Utah has been the operation of a steel mill at Geneva. Governor Lee told me this greatly increased the population of Salt Lake City and the surrounding area and contributed generously to local prosperity.

However, the U. S. Steel Corp. at first opposed the production of steel in Utah. Judge Elbert Gary, former head of U. S. Steel, scoffed at the idea when I interviewed him many years ago, and his successors continued to scoff—even after Pearl Harbor. In fact, they were so opposed to western steel production that the federal government had to take the initiative itself for the Geneva plant.

Uncle Sam took all the risk and after proving that the steel industry in the Far West could be successful, then U. S. Steel, supported by some astute lobbying by ex-Gov. Herbert Maw of Utah and ex-Sen. Abe Murdoch, got the federal government to sell the Geneva plant to U. S Steel for about 20 cents on the dollar.

The steel plant cost the taxpayers $191,326,000. It was sold to U. S. Steel for $47,175,000. Direct subsidy to U. S. Steel and the state of Utah was $144,151,000.

Fort Douglas, Utah—On the foothills just above Salt Lake City stands Fort Douglas, an important army installation. After the war, a large hunk of the fort's territory, plus important buildings, were turned over to Governor Lee's state of Utah, and are now a part of the University of Utah.

Airlines Subsidies—Utah, an inland state, benefits from quick airline transportation. Most people don't realize it, but the airlines, though now big business, get an annual subsidy of $95,000,000 through "creeping socialism." On top of this they get the advantage of 70,000 miles of air lanes serviced by radio range stations, beacons and traffic controls, all paid for by the federal government. The railroads have to pay for their own signals, telegraph and upkeep of their tracks, while the airlines get like services free. In addition, the airplanes get the use of airports, usually supplied by municipalities, tax-free. The railroads pay taxes on their property.

In 1951 the taxpayers shelled out $21,361,040 to construct new towers, beacons, and radar for the airways, plus another $73,931,733 for personnel to operate these safety aids, plus another $37,000,000 for runways and construction work at airports.

The airlines are now big business. I agree with Governor Lee that this is "creeping socialism." But he'll find that big business will be the first to howl if it's stopped.

Shipping Subsidies — Also the first to yell if we stop "creeping socialism" will be another big-business group, the shipping lines. American shipowners get $30,000,000 annually in operating subsidies. On top of this the United States Lines last year got a construction subsidy of $18,225,000 plus an indirect subsidy of $24,061,000 for national defense in building the new vessel, The United States.

American Export Lines is due to get a $26,000,000 subsidy for the Independence and the Constitution, but after Controller General Lindsay Warren objected to "creeping socialism" and proposed curtailing subsidies, the American Export Lines threatened to dump the ships in the lap of Uncle Sam.

Public Roads—Another form of creeping socialism is the government's annual subsidy to the states to build highways. This costs the federal travelers about half a billion dollars a year and is allocated to Governor Lee of Utah and the other 47 states.

If this were curtailed every bus line, trucking company, and many private motorists would be at the door of Congress in about 24 hours demanding that "creeping socialism" for the highways be reinstated.

Doctors Subsidies — In Utah, Sen. Elbert Thomas was defeated partly because he favored a public health bill. The doctors rose up in arms against him, called him an exponent of creeping socialism.

What the public doesn't realize, however, is that the doctors get their own direct subsidy in the form of $39,578,000 from the federal government last year, much of it going to medical institutions for research. However, this money is largely in the form of gifts so that the doctors control it once they get it from the government. The taxpayers have no means of checking as to how efficiently it is spent.

These medical grants are made necessary because the public and the doctors have been so backward in contributing to free-enterprise research instead of creeping-socialism research. Thus, Walter Winchell, who has done an outstanding job of money raising for cancer work, has been able to raise only $5,000,000 in five years, whereas the federal government has contributed as much as $15,000,000 in a single year for cancer research.

In brief, much as the governor of Utah and I both deplore creeping socialism I'm afraid there are a lot of other people in the nation who don't.

The Strangest Diet in History

The Chinese Empress Tzu Hsi (1835-1908), one of the most powerful women of all time, ruled 400,000,000 Chinese for 47 years. She ate 30 pounds of precious pearls during her reign. Every ten days she consumed a teaspoonful of ground pearls, using tea as a chaser. The total devoured was valued at two million dollars. The purpose of this curious diet was to keep the empress looking youthful.

President Asks Powers Which Can't Be Granted Except During War

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Feb. 20—President Truman is asking for emergency powers which Congress under the Constitution cannot grant except in wartime. There are 60 different provisions of law which were enacted when the United States was at war with Japan and Germany and which will expire when the treaty with Japan is ratified. Already the treaty with Germany has been ratified.

Mr. Truman now tells Congress that technically the conflict in Korea "does not constitute a state of war."

Who will read that statement without feeling that a certain hypocrisy is being practiced? Everyone knows what a state of war is. When America's army, navy and air force—an estimated personnel of more than 350,000—are engaged in fighting Chinese and North Korean Communists, a state of war is in existence.

It is true that the President has not chosen to recognize this as a "state of war" and that technically, therefore, it doesn't exist. But the responsibility for this piece of avoidance is upon the executive, and there never has been a satisfactory explanation given of why American boys were sent into battle in Korea without the enactment of a resolution by both Houses of Congress assenting to that step.

There have been in history many instances in which wars began without a declaration of a state of war, but this has happened because the enemy started hostilities first. Usually, if it is more than just a "police action," the President of the United States has gone to Congress soon thereafter with a request that both Houses ratify the steps taken and recognize a state of war.

One of the excuses given in this case is that the Nationalist government of Chiang Kai-shek has been and still is at peace with and has been formally recognized by the United States as the government of China.

But this is only an excuse. For in American history there has been a recognition of a state of war with a faction in another country. Thus, in early 1914, when the forces of General Huerta in Mexico—representing one faction at the seat of the previous government — became involved in fighting with the forces of the United States, President Wilson asked for and received approval from Congress to recognize a state of war between the United States and only the Huerta forces. That war was ended by a truce and formal peace negotiations in which Argentina, Brazil and Chile acted as mediators.

Any war in which the casualties on our side have risen beyond the 100,000 mark—as in Korea—is a full-fledged war in the sense in which the Constitution requires congressional approval or ratification.

Why then wasn't this state of war recognized? The only explanation that seems to be plausible is that the President didn't want to offend the British government, which had, despite American protests, recognized the Chinese Communist government. Much more serious is the implication which now can be drawn that, when the United Nations prescribes the use of force, a war may be begun and no ratification by the Congress of the United States is necessary.

The Supreme Court of the United States in a famous case—known as "Ex Parte Milligan" was decided shortly after the war between the states had ended—criticized the suspension of constitutional guarantees and argued that "no more pernicious doctrine was ever invented by man" than the idea that in an "emergency" the Constitution can be superseded. Judge Davis, a personal friend of Abraham Lincoln, criticized nevertheless an act of one of the departments of his administration and ruled:

"The Constitution of the United States is a law for rulers and people, equally in war and in peace, and covers with the shield of its protection all classes of men, at all times, and under all circumstances."

The decision of the court added that the provisions of the Constitution cannot be suspended "during any of the great exigencies of government"—not even by the President of the United States—for if they could be suspended, "such a doctrine leads directly to anarchy or despotism."

An administration which professes to believe in civil rights for minorities must necessarily respect the civil rights of majorities. Hence the emergency or wartime powers just requested cannot be constitutionally granted unless there is a state of war—and the Korean conflict is certainly such a war. Nor will it be ended by just a cease-fire. The actual state of war can be ended only by a formal peace treaty, which is a long way off.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Frankfurt on Main—In his modest office at the Supreme Headquarters of the Allied Powers just outside Paris, General Eisenhower said a few weeks ago, "I had to retreat one hundred miles after the victory in compliance with their decisions." He was referring to decisions made by Ambassador Winant and the Russian and British representatives on the European Advisory Commission in London in 1943. Winant, who was conscious that he bore a faint facial resemblance to Lincoln, later killed himself. Speculations among persons who knew him as to the reason why include the possibility that he felt a terrible guilt in his assumption that we could trust the Russians. Obedient to that assumption he gave the Russians the line of their present Iron Curtain in Germany and, lest he wound their feelings by the faintest intimation of distrust, would not insist on access from the west to our sector in Berlin.

General Eisenhower said the military decisions were made by the military commanders, including himself. But he distinguished between military and political decisions. In this case, instead of rearing back and appealing to the American public if necessary, he bowed to a fateful decision by a man who at best can be called a fool.

At the "briefing" given for my benefit in our beleaguered headquarters in Berlin a few days ago by representatives of our State Department, I received a booklet entitled 'Berlin" with a short forword which frankly referred to "the struggle between the east and west."

In this document, the State Department says that after we had shattered the enemy's capital by two years of bombing, "the victorious Red army assumed control of the tattered remnants of what had once been the third largest city in the world."

The Red army was victorious in the sense that it was on the winning side, but the stipulation should be made that but for the bombing of Berlin and other centers of strength and our absurd generosity the Russians would not have taken Berlin. And the "victorious Red army" could not have "assumed control" if General Eisenhower had not received orders to fall back 100 miles.

The booklet continues: "with an industry dependent on Silesia, East Prussia, Saxony and foreign countries for raw materials and a transport system whose operation is subject to the whims of an unfriendly political power," meaning our gallant ally, Russia, "Berin can but hope for a solution to the present impasse. The basic mission of the Berlin garrison is to provide security for the United states agencies. The Soviets took advantage of the two months between the fall of Berlin in May and the arrival of the western allies in July to install as city administrators a crew of German expatriates trained in Moscow for just this contingency. One of these key officials, Paul Markgraf, had been carefully groomed for the role of president of the Berlin Police force."

We knew all about these expatriate German Communists and yet all this caught us by surprise.

Demobilization set in with us. The Communists, especially in the Pacific where they had elbowed themselves into the GI publications, yelled stridently against our "brass." Congress and our papers also wanted to bring "the boys" home. And demobilization became a dissolution and the American occupation in Germany became for a time a disgrace.

Thruway Chief Orders Study of Hillburn Proposal

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—The state Thruway authority chairman has ordered an engineer's study of the so-called "Banker" Thruway route in Rockland county.

The proposal, submitted by Mayor Charles Banker of Hillburn, would carry the superhighway generally north of Hillburn and Suffern and would not require the demolition of homes or business structures in the villages.

A delegation of six Rockland county officials and residents conferred for nearly three hours yesterday with Chairman Bertram L. Tallamy of the Thruway authority.

They objected to the authority's originally proposed Suffern-Hillcrest-Nyack route, generally north of Route 59, and also protested the authority's second, more southerly Suffern-Spring Valley-Nyack route.

No Decision Reached

No decision was reached as to which route the Thruway would follow. Tallamy directed the State Public Work's Department's district engineer, A. R. Erskine, to study the feasibility of Banker's route.

Conferring with Tallamy were: Mayor Banker, Mayor Ray Spicer of Suffern; Pincus Margolis, a Rockland county supervisor; William R. Sichol of Suffern; Mr. and Mrs. J. Edgar Davidson of Hillburn, and Assemblyman Robert Walmsley of Nyack.

Thruway sources indicated the Banker route, while not cutting into Suffern and Hillburn, would pose engineering problems because of the mountainous terrain that would require grades of more than three per cent, the maximum prescribed for the Thruway by its designers.

Bridge fans who have never played in a tournament may be puzzled when they read about the "swing" hands in the Vanderbilt Cup Tournament, which begins in New York tomorrow night. It is less puzzling if you remember that the Vanderbilt is a contest for bridge teams of four players per team.

Let's suppose that in one of these contests a team of four women is playing against a team of four men. The women would occupy the North and South seats at one table, with men in the East and West seats. In another room the arrangement would be different, with the other two women occupying the East and West seats, and the two men North and South.

Let's suppose that a hand comes along in which most of the high cards are dealt to North and South. In the first room, the two women hold those high cards. The hand will eventually be played in the second room, where the two men will hold those high cards.

If the teams are evenly matched, the men and the women will get the same result with those identical high cards. If they get different results, that difference is called a "swing."

An unusual example of a swing, shown in today's hand, decided the championship in the 1947 Vanderbilt Cup Tournament. The victorious team made a profit with the North-South cards in one room and another profit with the East-West cards in the other room.

In the first room South played the hand at six hearts doubled. West opened the ace of spades, and South ruffed. He laid down the ace and king of clubs, ruffed a club in dummy with the nine of hearts, and then led the king of hearts from dummy.

East could take the ace of hearts but then South could claim the rest. The slam was worth a score of 1660 points in this room.

In the other room the bidding began in much the same way. When West bid five spades, however, North doubled—and South allowed the double to stand.

The contract of five spades, played by West, could have been defeated if North had opened a club. Instead, North opened the king of hearts, and West made the contract.

West began by taking the first trick with the ace of hearts. He drew three rounds of trumps and then took five diamond tricks, discarding two clubs in the process. He could then give up one heart and one trump, scoring 850 points for making his contract.

The winning team got 1660 points in the first room and 850 points in the second room for a "swing" of 2510 points.

Trial Is Postponed

Santa Monica, Calif., Feb. 20 (AP)—Trial of actress Gene Tierney's divorce suit against dress designer Oleg Cassini had to be postponed because she was too busy making a movie to come to court. Her lawyer told the court yesterday that scenes from a film she is completing took longer than expected. The case was continued until Feb. 28. Miss Tierney alleges cruelty and asks custody of two children.

Price Is Forecast

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—A uniform price of $5.03 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) is forecast for dairy farmers for February milk deliveries to pool-approved plants in the six-state New York milkshed. The estimated producer butterfat differential is 6.4 cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard. The figures were announced last night by C. J. Blanford, market administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area.

Won't Get Authority

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—Newbold Morris is going to have to conduct the administration's drive against government corruption without authority to offer immunity to witnesses who decline to testify on grounds of self-incrimination. But Morris told reporters that is all right with him—he never asked such power and can carry on his work very well without it.

Twins Are Charged With Burglary

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—Patrick and Michael Hayes, red-haired Irish twins, were charged with burglary early today after Patrick was caught on board the Cunard liner Mauretania wearing two overcoats.

Patrick battled the ship's master-at-arms and at least six sailors before they succeeded in trussing up the 130-pound Irishman with a rope, police said. A crewman was quoted as saying Patrick also was carrying a pair of his pants. Patrick later was turned over to New York city police.

An hour later Michael walked into a city police station looking for his brother, and police said they decided to question him too. Both the 28-year-old men were booked.

They also were held for immigration and naturalization officials, police reported, after saying they jumped ship last Jan. 7 from the Furness Line Ocean Monarch. Both were described as Irish nationals.

The twins gave the address of an aunt as their New York city residence (133-58 39th avenue, Flushing, Queens—name of aunt unavailable).

Action Is Settled

A mortgage foreclosure action was announced settled after a jury had been chosen in County Court Tuesday. The action was brought by Harlow E. Ross against Stella Hsushalter and Mary Y. Blaison as executrix of the estate of Charles Blaison. Michael A. Gurda represented the plaintiff and Everett Greiner and Harry Gold represented the defendants. Also announced as settled was a negligence action brought by Hydrecht E. Armstrong against Knaust Brothers, Inc. Raymond J. Mino appeared for Armstrong and Cook & Cook represented the defendants.

Two Are Rescued

Quonset Point, R. I., Feb. 20 (AP)—A navy pilot and photographer were rescued from Narraganset Bay yesterday afternoon after their helicopter crashed while observing navy torpedo tests off Gould Island. For some reason not immediately explained, the helicopter crashed upside down as it was flying close to the surface of the bay searching for torpedoes fired on a test range. Lt. Mitchell C. Griffin, 30, of Shore Acres, R. I., the pilot, and Frank G. Vetare, 22, aviation photographer's mate 2C, of Brewster, N. Y., extricated themselves under water and climbed onto the pontoons, which kept the inverted craft afloat. A crash boat brought them ashore where they were treated for immersion.

Student Is Fined

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 20 (AP)—Thomas A. Dillon, 21, of Larchmont, N. Y., a student at the University of Toronto, was fined $50 and costs yesterday after pleading guilty to smuggling 6,800 cigarettes into Canada. Customs officials found the cigarettes stuffed into the upholstery of a car.

Fund Proposed On Scholarships as Teacher Stimulus

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—A 250-thousand-dollar fund to attract more college students into teaching by offering them summer scholarships has been proposed in the Legislature.

The state recruitment pool would provide grants-in-aid of not more than $350 to each graduate student who takes special, approved courses in teacher training for elementary schools during July and August this year.

The measure was introduced yesterday by the chairman of the Assembly education committee, Wheeler Milmoe of Canastota.

The bill is part of a broad state program to ease the current teacher shortage.

The state education department has estimated there will be a shortage of at least 3,000 teachers a year, especially in the primary grades, for the next five years.

The $250,000 fund would be administered by the education department.

Thruway Chief Orders Study of Hillburn Proposal

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—The state Thruway authority chairman has ordered an engineer's study of the so-called "Banker" Thruway route in Rockland county.

The proposal, submitted by Mayor Charles Banker of Hillburn, would carry the superhighway generally north of Hillburn and Suffern and would not require the demolition of homes or business structures in the villages.

A delegation of six Rockland county officials and residents conferred for nearly three hours yesterday with Chairman Bertram L. Tallamy of the Thruway authority.

They objected to the authority's originally proposed Suffern-Hillcrest-Nyack route, generally north of Route 59, and also protested the authority's second, more southerly Suffern-Spring Valley-Nyack route.

No Decision Reached

No decision was reached as to which route the Thruway would follow. Tallamy directed the State Public Work's Department's district engineer, A. R. Erskine, to study the feasibility of Banker's route.

Conferring with Tallamy were: Mayor Banker, Mayor Ray Spicer of Suffern; Pincus Margolis, a Rockland county supervisor; William R. Sichol of Suffern; Mr. and Mrs. J. Edgar Davidson of Hillburn, and Assemblyman Robert Walmsley of Nyack.

Thruway sources indicated the Banker route, while not cutting into Suffern and Hillburn, would pose engineering problems because of the mountainous terrain that would require grades of more than three per cent, the maximum prescribed for the Thruway by its designers.

Death Comes to Seven

Manila, Feb. 20 (AP) — Two clashes between army troops and Communist Huks less than 25 miles from Manila Tuesday brought death to seven persons. The Philippine News Service said an army patrol killed four rebels near Pandi. One soldier was killed. A band of 50 Huks attacked an outnumbered constabulary force Bailiuag and killed two soldiers.

'Swing' Hands Win Points at Tourney

Residents Oppose Closing Of Kerhonkson Railroad Depot

Opposition to the closing of the Kerhonkson O. & W. Railroad station was expressed today by a large number of residents of the area when a hearing was called by the Public Service Commission to hear the application of the railroad to close the station.

During the morning session it became known through General Superintendent Hawk, that the railroad may next make application to close the Napanoch station.

That application may come within the next year or two when work on the Merriman Dam is completed. At present there is considerable business being done through Napanoch, Hawk said, but when the contract is completed the station will be considered unnecessary.

Based on Economy

The application to close the Kerhonkson station is based on "economy" and this station is one of several on the line which the company seeks to close in an effort to save money. It was testified that if Kerhonkson station is closed the company will save annually $3,400.

In the event the Kerhonkson station is closed to freight and telegraph business, the building will probably be removed and the control station will be Accord, 4½ miles away. Car load shipments would be received and sent from Kerhonkson but there would be no agent there and business would be done through the Accord station.

At the hearing before Commissioner Knapp, it was stated that the agent, Mr. Atkins, is now eligible for retirement and has been retained on the job only because of the request of the railroad officials pending this hearing.

Mr. Bright, counsel for the railroad, stated that several stations on the line have been closed and more will be closed if the company is successful in its applications.

While car load shipments to and from Kerhonkson would be handled at a siding there, business would be transacted at Accord and all less than car load shipments to and from Kerhonkson would come through Accord where it was stated there was considerable more business transacted than at Kerhonkson.

Retention Suggested

Philip Korn, appearing for business men of Kerhonkson, suggested that Kerhonkson be retained to handle shipments as a "non-telegraph" station. Mr. Hawk stated that under Union regulations this could no longer be done.

Korn stated that removal of the Kerhonkson station facilities would be a blow to the industrial life of the community and would discourage business being established in the area. He suggested that the station be retained, at least until the O. & W. difficulty is determined by the courts and he said removal of the station now would be bad. If a new ownership comes out of the pending court action, the new owners would be reluctant to build a new structure there if the present station is demolished. Korn suggested keeping the station until the present legal situation is cleared.

Is 'Full Agency'

Kerhonkson is considered a "full agency" station handling freight and express but no passenger service.

Among those who appeared in opposition to the closing of the station at Kerhonkson was a large delegation of members of the Lions Club of Kerhonkson headed by President Arthur C. Chipp. Others appearing at the hearing were Supervisor Lawrence D. Craft of the town of Wawarsing, Donald Van Etten, Donald A. Downs, Sol Shapiro, Irving Gilman, Herbert Poppel, who appeared for the justices of the peace of the area, and several others.

The railroad submitted figures covering a three year period to indicate that the station does not do sufficient business to warrant its retention.

Says He's Inspector So They'll Disrobe

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—State police are looking for a young man who, posing as a health department inspector, has persuaded housewives to disrobe for "examination."

Reports of the man's activities have been received from Middletown.

He is described as 25 to 30 years old, five feet 10 inches tall, and weighing about 160 pounds. He is dark with black curly hair and drives a dark green sedan with Connecticut or New Jersey license plates.

The State Health Department warned it has no inspectors calling at homes to make physical examinations. The department asks that state police be notified immediately, if the bogus inspector appears.

Bill Is Before Legislature

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—A bi-partisan proposal to create four new city court judgeships in Manhattan was before the Legislature today. The measure was introduced yesterday by Republican Senator MacNeil Mitchell and Democratic Assemblyman Leonard Farbstein, both of Manhattan. Similiar legislation was introduced Monday calling for four new city court judgeships in Brooklyn. It was proposed by Democratic Senator Samuel Greenberg and Republican Assemblyman Lewis Olliffe.

Responses to the Mass were sung by Edward Cherny assisted by Miss Nan Goldrick at the organ. At the offertory Mr. Cherny sang Domine Jesu and at the conclusion In Paradisum. Sunday night Father Schulz called and led those assembled in the recitation of the Rosary. The Rev. Joseph A. Geis also called and said prayers for the dead. Burial was in St. Peter's Cemetery where Father Geis gave the final blessing. Bearers were William Hagedorn, Frank Nagy, Andrew Kovacs and Edward Roux.

Publisher Dies

F. I. THOMPSON

Mobile, Ala., Feb. 20 (AP) — Frederick Ingate Thompson, 76, crusading newspaper publisher for many years, died in a Mobile hospital yesterday. He had been in failing health for some time.

At one time he was chief owner and publisher of the Mobile Register News-Item, the old Birmingham Age-Herald; the Alabama Journal at Montgomery, and the Tri-Cities Daily at Florence, Sheffield and Tuscumbia, Ala.

He was a former director of the Associated Press, a commissioner of the U. S. Shipping Board during the early 1920s, and was on President Franklin D. Roosevelt's Advisory Board on Public Works and the Federal Communications Commission.

Thompson was a delegate to Democratic national conventions in 1912, 1924 and 1928. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the U. S. Senate against the late Sen. John Bankhead of Alabama in 1930.

A staunch advocate of public power, he worked with the late Sen. George Norris of Nebraska in promoting Muscle Shoals, Ala., as a public power development.

Benefits Bill Signed

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—Governor Dewey today signed a bill preserving unemployment insurance benefits for Korean war veterans. The law excludes the period of military service in computing a 52-week base period on which jobless pay is figured. It applies to persons who entered service on or after July 1, 1946, served at least 90 consecutive days after June 27, 1950, and received an honorable discharge.

Late Bulletin

Albany, Feb. 20 (AP)—The State Public Works Department today cleared the way for construction of a $17,800,000 bridge across the Hudson river in the Newburgh-Beacon area.

In a special report to Governor Dewey and the Legislature, the department said preliminary studies of the project had shown that the bridge was feasible.

The department was directed to survey the project by the 1951 Legislature.

In its report, the department said that it was feasible to build a bridge to connect Route 9W on the west side of the river at or near Newburgh with Route 9D on the east side. The proposed structure might carry 30 per cent of the total traffic carried by existing and proposed bridges under the jurisdiction of the State Bridge Authority, the report added.

The bridge would be located about midway between Bear Mountain Bridge and the Mid-Hudson Bridge, at Poughkeepsie.

The department said the "most practical location for the bridge appears to be on a line about one-quarter mile north of the northern city lines of the two cities. (Newburgh and Beacon)."

The proposed structure would be 7,600 feet long to span the 5,700-foot-wide river. The estimated cost of $17,800,000 does not include the cost of rights-of-way, and legal and engineering costs.

About the Folks

Mrs. James Wesley of Connelly, is a patient at the Benedictine Hospital.

Mrs. Joseph Brattain, of Woodland Acres, West Shokan is recovering from a recent operation at the Benedictine Hospital. Her condition was reported as "fairly good" today.

Supervisor John F. Corcoran of the Sixth ward, and one of Kingston's well-known trucking concern operators, is a patient at Veterans Hospital, Albany, where he underwent an operation on February 7. Mrs. Corocran said today that his condition was reported as satisfactory, but that he would be required to remain at the hospital for a month. His room number at the hospital is 5C 519.

Fire Checked

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Feb. 20 (AP)—A pre-dawn attempt to burn down the quarters of the U. S. Information Service in the middle of downtown Belgrade was prevented today by the early arrival of a Yugoslav employe. It was the second attempt within 15 months to destroy the headquarters—a building separate from the embassy and housing a reading room and a showroom displaying pictures of life in America. The Yugoslav employe, arriving early for work, discovered the blaze just inside a guard wall near the entrance. He extinguished it without damage.

Electric Drill Found

Officers Charles Hoehing and James Harbeck reported to police headquarters at 2:15 a. m., today that they had found a quarter-inch electric drill on Abeel near DeWitt street. It was brought to headquarters.

News of Interest to Fraternal Organizations

The regular meeting of Kingston Lodge 970, Loyal Order of Moose will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the lodge rooms, 156 West Chestnut street. A large attendance is requested.

The regular meeting of Clinton Chapter 445, Order of the Eastern Star, will be held at Masonic Temple, 31 Albany avenue, Friday at 8 p. m. The business meeting will be opened in full form, and Friend's Night will be observed. All Eastern Stars and Master Masons are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Mass Meeting Will Be Held On Rosendale Thruway Outlet

The bid of the people of the town of Rosendale and surrounding townships to obtain a traffic interchange on the New York Thruway in the township will be discussed at a mass meeting Feb. 26 at 8 p. m., in the Rosendale Theatre, it was announced today.

Residents of the area have opposed the proposal with the contention that it is as important to serve the people of the Rondout valley area as it is at other points along the super highway.

E. J. O'Reilly, president of the Rosendale Publicity Association, said today that a recent letter from a state official indicated that the Thruway Authority plans to leave the Rondout valley area without an entrance or exit to the Thruway.

The meeting next Tuesday will protest this stand and attempt to get action for an interchange somewhere in the town of Rosendale.

All residents and officials of the towns of Esopus, Rosendale, Marbletown, Rochester, and portions of Olive and Ulster are to be affected by this decision and are urged to attend the meeting.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Feb. 20 (AP) — A flicker of buying interest arrested a declining stock market today and imparted a fairly steady tone to the list.

Prices spread along a range of from 1 to 2 points lower to around a point higher with many leaders unchanged.

The market yesterday fell sharply in the heaviest drop since last October under the impact of an accumulation of bearish economic developments topped by brighter prospects for a truce in Korea.

Selling pressure continued yesterday right to the close, and today at the opening of the market there was a flood of selling orders. They were absorbed readily, however, prices steadied at the lows, the pace of trading slackened, and a slow recovery movement got underway.

Shaffer Pleads Guilty to Larceny

Ernest Shaffer, 28, Poughkeepsie, entered a plea of guilty to grand larceny, first degree, for the taking of a car from the Elms at Highland on August 20, 1951, and sentence will be pronounced in County Court on Monday at 2 o'clock. Harry Gold appeared for Shaffer. Shaffer entered a plea to the second count of the indictment, a statutory count.

On consent of District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn, an indictment charging criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle against William Chester Myers, was dismissed on motion of Peter Harp. Myers was indicted following the death of Vincent Spina who was injured in an accident on June 15, 1950. An affidavit was filed with the court by the widow of the deceased consenting to the dismissal. Bail was exonerated.

No civil case was ready today and court recessed until 2 p. m. for further criminal business and jurors were excused until Thursday at 10 a. m.

The civil case which was scheduled for today was postponed due to the illness of Attorney Plunket. A negligence action, Nicholas G. Russett against St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church was set down for Thursday, No. 18, Bertha Kovar against William Colange was put over to the April term on motion of William A. Kaercher. The defendant has died since the action was commenced and an administrator will be substituted or the case dismissed.

Senate Passes Bill For 4-Year Terms

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—State senators and assemblymen would serve for four years, under a measure passed by the Senate today.

At present legislators are elected for two-year terms.

The Senate voted 50-1 to approve a constitutional amendment introduced by Senator Harry Gittleson, Brooklyn Democrat. It was sent to the Assembly, where similar bills have died in other years.

The measure would make the four-year terms effective after the 1954 election.

If the Assembly approves, the measure must be passed by the next session of the Legislature and then approved by the people.

William J. Bianchi, Republican-American Labor party senator from Manhattan, voted against the bill.

Prudential Agents

may have undergone during the nation-wide strike."

Members of Local 93, Insurance Agents International Union, (AFL) voted Monday at a meeting of the agents to favor acceptance of the proposals in the new contract agreement which was reached by negotiators and the Prudential Insurance Company. The men at that time agreed to accept the contract, provided it was acceptable to the majority of the agents in the country. The agreement was approved by a large majority and the local men went back to work today under the new agreement.

The average wage boost for the agents is $5.26 and also included is a $150 lump sum settlement and the arbitration of grievances, and other benefits. The old "18½" contract is done away with.

"All of the agents are pleased with the new contract and we're glad to return to work today," said President Gardiner.

Residents Oppose Closing Of Kerhonkson Railroad Depot

Opposition to the closing of the Kerhonkson O. & W. Railroad station was expressed today by a large number of residents of the area when a hearing was called by the Public Service Commission to hear the application of the railroad to close the station.

During the morning session it became known through General Superintendent Hawk, that the railroad may next make application to close the Napanoch station.

That application may come within the next year or two when work on the Merriman Dam is completed. At present there is considerable business being done through Napanoch, Hawk said, but when the contract is completed the station will be considered unnecessary.

Based on Economy

The application to close the Kerhonkson station is based on "economy" and this station is one of several on the line which the company seeks to close in an effort to save money. It was testified that if Kerhonkson station is closed the company will save annually $3,400.

In the event the Kerhonkson station is closed to freight and telegraph business, the building will probably be removed and the control station will be Accord, 4½ miles away. Car load shipments would be received and sent from Kerhonkson but there would be no agent there and business would be done through the Accord station.

At the hearing before Commissioner Knapp, it was stated that the agent, Mr. Atkins, is now eligible for retirement and has been retained on the job only because of the request of the railroad officials pending this hearing.

Mr. Bright, counsel for the railroad, stated that several stations on the line have been closed and more will be closed if the company is successful in its applications.

While car load shipments to and from Kerhonkson would be handled at a siding there, business would be transacted at Accord and all less than car load shipments to and from Kerhonkson would come through Accord where it was stated there was considerable more business transacted than at Kerhonkson.

Retention Suggested

Philip Korn, appearing for business men of Kerhonkson, suggested that Kerhonkson be retained to handle shipments as a "non-telegraph" station. Mr. Hawk stated that under Union regulations this could no longer be done.

Korn stated that removal of the Kerhonkson station facilities would be a blow to the industrial life of the community and would discourage business being established in the area. He suggested that the station be retained, at least until the O. & W. difficulty is determined by the courts and he said removal of the station now would be bad. If a new ownership comes out of the pending court action, the new owners would be reluctant to build a new structure there if the present station is demolished. Korn suggested keeping the station until the present legal situation is cleared.

Is 'Full Agency'

Kerhonkson is considered a "full agency" station handling freight and express but no passenger service.

Among those who appeared in opposition to the closing of the station at Kerhonkson was a large delegation of members of the Lions Club of Kerhonkson headed by President Arthur C. Chipp. Others appearing at the hearing were Supervisor Lawrence D. Craft of the town of Wawarsing, Donald Van Etten, Donald A. Downs, Sol Shapiro, Irving Gilman, Herbert Poppel, who appeared for the justices of the peace of the area, and several others.

The railroad submitted figures covering a three year period to indicate that the station does not do sufficient business to warrant its retention.

Says He's Inspector So They'll Disrobe

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—State police are looking for a young man who, posing as a health department inspector, has persuaded housewives to disrobe for "examination."

Reports of the man's activities have been received from Middletown.

He is described as 25 to 30 years old, five feet 10 inches tall, and weighing about 160 pounds. He is dark with black curly hair and drives a dark green sedan with Connecticut or New Jersey license plates.

The State Health Department warned it has no inspectors calling at homes to make physical examinations. The department asks that state police be notified immediately, if the bogus inspector appears.

Bill Is Before Legislature

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—A bi-partisan proposal to create four new city court judgeships in Manhattan was before the Legislature today. The measure was introduced yesterday by Republican Senator MacNeil Mitchell and Democratic Assemblyman Leonard Farbstein, both of Manhattan. Similiar legislation was introduced Monday calling for four new city court judgeships in Brooklyn. It was proposed by Democratic Senator Samuel Greenberg and Republican Assemblyman Lewis Olliffe.

Funeral services for Edwin M. Marshall of Albany were held from the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 27 Smith avenue, Monday at 2:30 p. m. The Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, D. D., pastor of the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, officiated. Burial was in Rosendale Plains Cemetery, Rosendale, where the Rev. Mr. Gollnick gave the committal. The Rev. Mr. Gollnick then presented the American flag to the widow of the veteran of World War 2. Bearers were Victor Tresvik, Paul Tresvik, Walter Bailey, Simon Terpening, Howard C. Eckert and Harold A. Bailey.

Paul Kaman, Sr.

The funeral of Paul Kaman Sr., of 95 First avenue was held from the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 27 Smith avenue, Monday at 9 a. m., thence to St. Peter's Church where a high Mass of requiem was offered at 9:30 a. m. by the Rev. Theodore Schulz for the repose of his soul. Responses to the Mass were sung by Edward Cherny assisted by Miss Nan Goldrick at the organ. At the offertory Mr. Cherny sang Domine Jesu and at the conclusion In Paradisum. Sunday night Father Schulz called and led those assembled in the recitation of the Rosary. The Rev. Joseph A. Geis also called and said prayers for the dead. Burial was in St. Peter's Cemetery where Father Geis gave the final blessing. Bearers were William Hagedorn, Frank Nagy, Andrew Kovacs and Edward Roux.

Publisher Dies

F. I. THOMPSON

Mobile, Ala., Feb. 20 (AP) — Frederick Ingate Thompson, 76, crusading newspaper publisher for many years, died in a Mobile hospital yesterday. He had been in failing health for some time.

At one time he was chief owner and publisher of the Mobile Register News-Item, the old Birmingham Age-Herald; the Alabama Journal at Montgomery, and the Tri-Cities Daily at Florence, Sheffield and Tuscumbia, Ala.

He was a former director of the Associated Press, a commissioner of the U. S. Shipping Board during the early 1920s, and was on President Franklin D. Roosevelt's Advisory Board on Public Works and the Federal Communications Commission.

Thompson was a delegate to Democratic national conventions in 1912, 1924 and 1928. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the U. S. Senate against the late Sen. John Bankhead of Alabama in 1930.

A staunch advocate of public power, he worked with the late Sen. George Norris of Nebraska in promoting Muscle Shoals, Ala., as a public power development.

Benefits Bill Signed

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—Governor Dewey today signed a bill preserving unemployment insurance benefits for Korean war veterans. The law excludes the period of military service in computing a 52-week base period on which jobless pay is figured. It applies to persons who entered service on or after July 1, 1946, served at least 90 consecutive days after June 27, 1950, and received an honorable discharge.

Mass Meeting Will Be Held On Rosendale Thruway Outlet

The bid of the people of the town of Rosendale and surrounding townships to obtain a traffic interchange on the New York Thruway in the township will be discussed at a mass meeting Feb. 26 at 8 p. m., in the Rosendale Theatre, it was announced today.

Residents of the area have opposed the proposal with the contention that it is as important to serve the people of the Rondout valley area as it is at other points along the super highway.

E. J. O'Reilly, president of the Rosendale Publicity Association, said today that a recent letter from a state official indicated that the Thruway Authority plans to leave the Rondout valley area without an entrance or exit to the Thruway.

The meeting next Tuesday will protest this stand and attempt to get action for an interchange somewhere in the town of Rosendale.

All residents and officials of the towns of Esopus, Rosendale, Marbletown, Rochester, and portions of Olive and Ulster are to be affected by this decision and are urged to attend the meeting.

Late Bulletin

Albany, Feb. 20 (AP)—The State Public Works Department today cleared the way for construction of a $17,800,000 bridge across the Hudson river in the Newburgh-Beacon area.

In a special report to Governor Dewey and the Legislature, the department said preliminary studies of the project had shown that the bridge was feasible.

The department was directed to survey the project by the 1951 Legislature.

In its report, the department said that it was feasible to build a bridge to connect Route 9W on the west side of the river at or near Newburgh with Route 9D on the east side. The proposed structure might carry 30 per cent of the total traffic carried by existing and proposed bridges under the jurisdiction of the State Bridge Authority, the report added.

The bridge would be located about midway between Bear Mountain Bridge and the Mid-Hudson Bridge, at Poughkeepsie.

The department said the "most practical location for the bridge appears to be on a line about one-quarter mile north of the northern city lines of the two cities. (Newburgh and Beacon)."

The proposed structure would be 7,600 feet long to span the 5,700-foot-wide river. The estimated cost of $17,800,000 does not include the cost of rights-of-way, and legal and engineering costs.

About the Folks

Mrs. James Wesley of Connelly, is a patient at the Benedictine Hospital.

Mrs. Joseph Brattain, of Woodland Acres, West Shokan is recovering from a recent operation at the Benedictine Hospital. Her condition was reported as "fairly good" today.

Supervisor John F. Corcoran of the Sixth ward, and one of Kingston's well-known trucking concern operators, is a patient at Veterans Hospital, Albany, where he underwent an operation on February 7. Mrs. Corocran said today that his condition was reported as satisfactory, but that he would be required to remain at the hospital for a month. His room number at the hospital is 5C 519.

Fire Checked

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Feb. 20 (AP)—A pre-dawn attempt to burn down the quarters of the U. S. Information Service in the middle of downtown Belgrade was prevented today by the early arrival of a Yugoslav employe. It was the second attempt within 15 months to destroy the headquarters — a building separate from the embassy and housing a reading room and a showroom displaying pictures of life in America. The Yugoslav employe, arriving early for work, discovered the blaze just inside a guard wall near the entrance. He extinguished it without damage.

Electric Drill Found

Officers Charles Hoehing and James Harbeck reported to police headquarters at 2:15 a. m., today, that they had found a quarter-inch electric drill on Abeel near DeWitt street. It was brought to headquarters.

News of Interest to Fraternal Organizations

The regular meeting of Kingston Lodge 970, Loyal Order of Moose will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the lodge rooms, 156 West Chestnut street. A large attendance is requested.

The regular meeting of Clinton Chapter 445, Order of the Eastern Star, will be held at Masonic Temple, 31 Albany avenue, Friday at 8 p. m. The business meeting will be opened in full form, and Friend's Night will be observed. All Eastern Stars and Master Masons are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Feb. 20 (AP) — A flicker of buying interest arrested a declining stock market today and imparted a fairly steady tone to the list.

Prices spread along a range of from 1 to 2 points lower to around a point higher with many leaders unchanged.

The market yesterday fell sharply in the heaviest drop since last October under the impact of an accumulation of bearish economic developments topped by brighter prospects for a truce in Korea.

Selling pressure continued yesterday right to the close, and today at the opening of the market there was a flood of selling orders. They were absorbed readily, however, prices steadied at the lows, the pace of trading slackened, and a slow recovery movement got underway.

Shaffer Pleads Guilty to Larceny

Ernest Shaffer, 28, Poughkeepsie, entered a plea of guilty to grand larceny, first degree, for the taking of a car from the Elms at Highland on August 20, 1951, and sentence will be pronounced in County Court on Monday at 2 o'clock. Harry Gold appeared for Shaffer. Shaffer entered a plea to the second count of the indictment, a statutory count.

On consent of District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn, an indictment charging criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle against William Chester Myers, was dismissed on motion of Peter Harp. Myers was indicted following the death of Vincent Spina who was injured in an accident on June 15, 1950. An affidavit was filed with the court by the widow of the deceased consenting to the dismissal. Bail was exonerated.

No civil case was ready today and court recessed until 2 p. m. for further criminal business and jurors were excused until Thursday at 10 a. m.

The civil case which was scheduled for today was postponed due to the illness of Attorney Plunket. A negligence action, Nicholas G. Russett against St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church was set down for Thursday. No. 18, Bertha Kovar against William Colange was put over to the April term on motion of William A. Kaercher. The defendant has died since the action was commenced and an administrator will be substituted or the case dismissed.

Senate Passes Bill For 4-Year Terms

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—State senators and assemblymen would serve for four years, under a measure passed by the Senate today.

At present legislators are elected for two-year terms.

The Senate voted 50-1 to approve a constitutional amendment introduced by Senator Harry Gittleson, Brooklyn Democrat. It was sent to the Assembly, where similar bills have died in other years.

The measure would make the four-year terms effective after the 1954 election.

If the Assembly approves, the measure must be passed by the next session of the Legislature and then approved by the people.

William J. Bianchi, Republican-American Labor party senator from Manhattan, voted against the bill.

Prudential Agents

may have undergone during the nation-wide strike."

Members of Local 93, Insurance Agents International Union, (AFL) voted Monday at a meeting of the agents to favor acceptance of the proposals in the new contract agreement which was reached by negotiators and the Prudential Insurance Company. The men at that time agreed to accept the contract, provided it was acceptable to the majority of the agents in the country. The agreement was approved by a large majority and the local men went back to work today under the new agreement.

The average wage boost for the agents is $5.26 and also included is a $150 lump sum settlement and the arbitration of grievances, and other benefits. The old "18½" contract is done away with.

"All of the agents are pleased with the new contract and we're glad to return to work today," said President Gardiner.

Goal Reached By Area Group

Production Credit Association Members Reach Goal Members of the Farmers Production Credit Association of Middletown will officially take over complete ownership of their co-op at the annual stockholders meeting which will be held in two sections, one on March 18 in the New Paltz Methodist Church Hall and the other on March 19 in the Grange Hall in Montgomery.

John L. Schoonmaker, president, will receive a certificate of complete member-ownership from Gordon Cameron, secretary of the Production Credit Corporation of Springfield, representing the government.

The ceremony will mark the completion of a goal the organizers set when they formed the association in January 1934.

Original capital stock of $90,000 was owned entirely by the government, Roy Anderson, secretary-treasurer, explained. As farmers borrowed to finance their farm operations, they invested in the cooperatives capital and the government's investment has been gradually returned. Members now own $156,310 in capital stock and with reserves of $139,132 members equity now amounts to $295,442 he said, adding that more than $16,000,000 has been loaned since organization and loans outstanding amount to $1,135,000. The annual meeting is expected to draw more than 300 farmers and their wives from Orange, Sullivan, Ulster and Rockland counties. In addition to Schoonmaker, directors are Dewey Carr, of Ferndale, vice-president; Melford Hurd of Clintondale; Charles Hufcut of Circleville; and George Kohler of Chester.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

J. A. Simpson, who spent some 46 years and 6 days since Jan. 9, 1906, as an employe of the New York Central System, has many interesting facts to relate. In one early part he writes, "Before entering the service of the NYC RR I spent about three years as a student with the railroad agent at West Park, learning telegraphy and other features of railroad work. During that time there were many wealthy people who lived at West Park and Esopus." He tells how he used to see folks like John Burroughs, the naturalist, whose son Julian Burroughs still lives there, he says in part: "Where John Burroughs' mountain study, known as 'Slab Sides,' is located. Others such as John Jewell Smith, Adam Neidlinger, E. R. Durkee, John W. Brookman, Wm. H. Van Benschoten and Judge Alton B. Parker of Esopus, who was one time candidate for president of the U. S. Also G. B. Seeley, manufacturer of carbonated beverages who had his home at West Park."

In telling about all these well known people who commuted right along on the West Shore trains between West Park and Weehawken, N. J., he also described how their coachmen met them at the trains, and the magnificent driven carriages, with the exception of Mr. Seeley, who had a Tally-ho carriage with a coachmen and a footman. Those sure were the days of glamor.

He further goes on to say, "During the time I was a student at the West Park station, which was during the time Theodore Roosevelt was President of the United States. Teddy Roosevelt came to West Park on the presidential yacht Mayflower, which landed at the dock where naturalist John Burroughs and President and Mrs. Teddy Roosevelt and party walked to Mr. Burroughs' Slab Sides located in the mountains west of West Park, where they spent a pleasant day." This was all a part of Mr. Simpson's daily experiences.

Mr. Simpson was a self made man, with no Papa setting up the business before him, but he also lived an interesting life wherever his railroad job called him. While he was agent at Cornwall, and lived at Marlborough, he served on the high school board of education as member and president for 15 years, and was instrumental in promoting the idea of getting the new centralized school which was built the following year after he terminated his term there because he was transferred to Kingston. He was also the treasurer and president of the Official Board of the ME Church there. In Kingston, he served as steward of the board of the St. James ME Church. Also member of the Central Business Men's Association. Also member of Chamber of Commerce on the traffic committee. He was a member of the Kingston Industrial Management Club. His hobby though, being scrap book making of newspaper clippings and other interesting items. He has some 20 such scrap books.

He is now retiring to Hampton, N. H., where his wife, daughter and son-in-law are living and expect him to come up after he retires Jan. 16, 1952. Up there, he says they are two or three miles from the Atlantic Ocean and he hopes to take up gardening as a new hobby, besides enjoying the ocean breezes.

The population of Mexico's Lower California nearly tripled between 1940 and 1950.

'Sailor Beware' Showing At Kingston Theatre

The latest package of Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis abandoned merriment will be unwrapped at the Kingston Theatre when Hal Wallis' "Sailor Beware" opens today. Having reduced the military life to a shambles in "At War With the Army" and having tried their hands as collegiate cutups in "That's My Boy," Dean and Jerry are now serving a hitch in the navy. By the word of pleased reviewers, the result is a hilarious escapade, punctuated with singing, sparking and the wonderful nonsense that has become the pair's tradesmark.

Joining in this tale of bungling recruit and his girl-chasing buddy are luscious Corinne Calvet and trim Marion Marshall.

This Paramount release is brightened by a lively score of five new Mack David-Jerry Livingston tunes sung by Dean, Jerry and Corinne.

Milan (AP)—Europe's mounting traffic problems—and the methods and machinery which can help to solve them—will be high-lighted in Milan's second international traffic and safety exhibition. The show, sponsored by the Automobile Club of Milan, will be held in June. Sixteen countries took part in the first exhibition last spring.

Mail Sale Brings $1,000 to Heart Drive in County

Contributions amounting to over $1,000 have already been sent into the office of the Heart Chapter, 74 John street, on the fifth day of the mail sale campaign, according to T. Jay Rifenbary, general chairman of the Heart Fund Campaign.

"We wish to thank all those who have sent in contributions for their promptness which is evidence of interest in the Heart Committee," Rifenbary said. "Many of the returns were accompanied by letters expressing gratitude and best wishes for a successful campaign.

"I am sure the 1952 Heart Campaign will be a success," he added. "If this generous public response continues, we shall be able to reach our goal of $5,000 within a short time and the Heart Chapter must reach that goal if it is to put into operation its 1952 plans for fighting heart diseases in this area.

Funds to the Heart Campaign are used in Ulster county for Education — so that everyone may learn the latest advances in the prevention and treatment.

Research—so that science may discover new ways to prevent and treat heart disease.

Services—to Ulster county persons unable to pay for them—providing anti-biotics for patients in need of this heart treatment. Procedures and tests necessary in the diagnosis of heart diseases for persons referred by their physicians.

The Heart Fund Drive is being conducted from Feb. 1-29.

Matrimony Postponed

Pittsburgh (AP)—A judge here sentenced an 18-year-old boy to the reformatory for an indefinite term after the youth told him he used a cap pistol in a holdup so he could obtain money to get married. In handing down the sentence, Judge John J. Kennedy gave this advice: "The reformatory will do you more good than a wife."

Others such as John Jewell Smith, Adam Neidlinger, E. R. Durkee, John W. Brookman, Wm. H. Van Benschoten and Judge Alton B. Parker of Esopus, who was one time candidate for president of the U. S. Also G. B. Seeley, manufacturer of carbonated beverages who had his home at West Park."

In telling about all these well known people who commuted right along on the West Shore trains between West Park and Weehawken, N. J., he also described how their coachmen met them at the trains, and the magnificent driven carriages, with the exception of Mr. Seeley, who had a Tally-ho carriage with a coachmen and a footman. Those sure were the days of glamor.

He further goes on to say, "During the time I was a student at the West Park station, which was during the time Theodore Roosevelt was President of the United States. Teddy Roosevelt came to West Park on the presidential yacht Mayflower, which landed at the dock where naturalist John Burroughs and President and Mrs. Teddy Roosevelt and party walked to Mr. Burroughs' Slab Sides located in the mountains west of West Park, where they spent a pleasant day." This was all a part of Mr. Simpson's daily experiences.

Mr. Simpson was a self made man, with no Papa setting up the business before him, but he also lived an interesting life wherever his railroad job called him. While he was agent at Cornwall, and lived at Marlborough, he served on the high school board of education as member and president for 15 years, and was instrumental in promoting the idea of getting the new centralized school which was built the following year after he terminated his term there because he was transferred to Kingston. He was also the treasurer and president of the Official Board of the ME Church there. In Kingston, he served as steward of the board of the St. James ME Church. Also member of the Central Business Men's Association. Also member of Chamber of Commerce on the traffic committee. He was a member of the Kingston Industrial Management Club. His hobby though, being scrap book making of newspaper clippings and other interesting items. He has some 20 such scrap books.

He is now retiring to Hampton, N. H., where his wife, daughter and son-in-law are living and expect him to come up after he retires Jan. 16, 1952. Up there, he says they are two or three miles from the Atlantic Ocean and he hopes to take up gardening as a new hobby, besides enjoying the ocean breezes.

The population of Mexico's Lower California nearly tripled between 1940 and 1950.

'Sailor Beware' Showing At Kingston Theatre

The latest package of Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis abandoned merriment will be unwrapped at the Kingston Theatre when Hal Wallis' "Sailor Beware" opens today. Having reduced the military life to a shambles in "At War With the Army" and having tried their hands as collegiate cutups in "That's My Boy," Dean and Jerry are now serving a hitch in the navy. By the word of pleased reviewers, the result is a hilarious escapade, punctuated with singing, sparking and the wonderful nonsense that has become the pair's tradesmark.

Joining in this tale of bungling recruit and his girl-chasing buddy are luscious Corinne Calvet and trim Marion Marshall.

Traffic Meeting Set

Milan (AP)—Europe's mounting traffic problems—and the methods and machinery which can help to solve them—will be high-lighted in Milan's second international traffic and safety exhibition. The show, sponsored by the Automobile Club of Milan, will be held in June. Sixteen countries took part in the first exhibition last spring.

Mail Sale Brings $1,000 to Heart Drive in County

Contributions amounting to over $1,000 have already been sent into the office of the Heart Chapter, 74 John street, on the fifth day of the mail sale campaign, according to T. Jay Rifenbary, general chairman of the Heart Fund Campaign.

"We wish to thank all those who have sent in contributions for their promptness which is evidence of interest in the Heart Committee," Rifenbary said. "Many of the returns were accompanied by letters expressing gratitude and best wishes for a successful campaign.

"I am sure the 1952 Heart Campaign will be a success," he added. "If this generous public response continues, we shall be able to reach our goal of $5,000 within a short time and the Heart Chapter must reach that goal if it is to put into operation its 1952 plans for fighting heart diseases in this area.

Funds to the Heart Campaign are used in Ulster county for Education — so that everyone may learn the latest advances in the prevention and treatment.

Research—so that science may discover new ways to prevent and treat heart disease.

Services—to Ulster county persons unable to pay for them—providing anti-biotics for patients in need of this heart treatment. Procedures and tests necessary in the diagnosis of heart diseases for persons referred by their physicians.

The Heart Fund Drive is being conducted from Feb. 1-29.

Matrimony Postponed

Pittsburgh (AP)—A judge here sentenced an 18-year-old boy to the reformatory for an indefinite term after the youth told him he used a cap pistol in a holdup so he could obtain money to get married. In handing down the sentence, Judge John J. Kennedy gave this advice: "The reformatory will do you more good than a wife."

SHOKAN

Shokan, Feb. 20—The February meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Shokan Reformed Church was held at the home of Aner and Edna Longyear on the old state road. The members at this meeting decided upon an old fashioned social with free will offering to take place in the church basement Friday evening, Feb. 22. An entertainment program is being arranged for the occasion. It was also announced that the date of the society's annual fair and supper has been set for Wednesday, August 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haver are on a vacation trip to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Dunham of Ashland, Greene county have been married a long time. The couple celebrated their 68th anniversary last January 16.

Robert Farrell, former Zena and Shokan boy who has been living in Westchester county, is spending some time with local relatives.

Joe Suarez, a member of the KHS junior class, observed his 17th birthday February 18. Joe was born in Kingston and attended grade school in Olive Bridge where he now makes his home. . . . Birthdays this Tuesday include that of Fred Weeks, local business man and one of the old timers in these parts. Fred attended Brookside school in the old village of Shokan and his boyhood home was the Weeks stone farmhouse along the East Butternutkill. A member of the board of the Reformed Church, he has two sons, Fred and Irving, and several grandchildren.

John Rutherford is reported to have been taken ill again, necessitating hospital treatment.

Lemuel E. DuBois who died in Kingston Friday was one of the best known residents of the reservoir country. He had long served as Republican committeeman and maintained an active interest in party affairs during his illness of several years. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles DuBois of Brown's Station, he was married, August, 1912, to Jessie M. Winne of Kingston, who with four children and eight grandchildren, survive him.

Echo of Waterworks Days: February, 1910—Witnesses testifying at the hearing of Azarias and Elwyn Winchell's claim before Ashokan Commission No. 12, ness in the old village had been ness in the ol dvillage had been used as a store for 60 years. It was also brought out that 17 summer boarding houses accommodating 850 guests were numbered among the firm's customers. The elder Winchell, who had been doing business in the former 'gristmill store of Charles L. Howk, bought the corner store of reservoir days from George M. Everett (a grandfather of Mrs. Arthur Wicks of Kingston) about 1880. The store and residence at a much earlier period was occupied by Samuel North (a great-grandfather of Bertha Mathews of Kingston) The Winchells, according to their counsel, Judge Clearwater, sold "about everything, from a needle to an anchor."

LEIBHARDT

Leibhardt, Feb. 20—Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gray of Wallkill visited Saturday their nephew and niece Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Markle.

The teacher Mrs. Crose and pupils gave a Valentine party in the schoolhouse Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Markle spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Quick.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis S. Austin of Rochester Center were callers last week at the Markle home in lower Leibhardt.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor of Brooklyn spent a few days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Anderson of Rochester Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gray were callers in the afternoon on his brother and wife Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gray and sons of Tabasco, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry S. Quick, son Jerry Jr., of Napanoch, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Quick Jr., and daughter Susan of Pautaukunk visited their parents Mr. and Mrs. Herman Quick Friday evening.

Robert Austin of the navy stationed at Rhode Island recently visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Austin

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Lewis of Ellenville recently visited her mother Mrs. Mary Markle and brother of Mombaccus.

Mrs. Herman Quick recently called on her aunt Mrs. Charles Markle of Pautaukunk.

Births

The city registrar recently recorded the following births:

Feb. 11—Christine to Mr. and Mrs. Chris Loukas, 96 Clinton avenue; Sharon Carn to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Philip Smith, Saugerties, and Katherine Mary to Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hamilton, 253 East Union street.

Feb. 12—Janet Martha to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Henry Rietschel, 45 Valentin avenue.

Feb. 13—Karen Ann to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thomas Whalen, 125 Highland avenue.

Feb. 14—Joli to Mr. and Mrs. John Rudolph Crespino, 231 Clifton avenue; Arthur Thomas, Jr., to Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Daley, Glenerie, and Robert John to Mr. and Mrs. Henry George Franz, Stony Hollow.

Feb. 15—Charles Joseph to Mr. and Mrs. George Herbert Judson, Rosendale.

Dewey Issues Call For U. S. to Rally

Albany, Feb. 20 (AP)—Governor Dewey has sounded a new call for the United States to rally "the free peoples of the world" in a mighty collective action against communism.

The Republican governor pressed his campaign against isolationism last night at the annual legislative dinner of the Veteran of Foreign Wars' New York State Department. He received the National VFW's first gold medal award for exceptional service "to country, community and mankind."

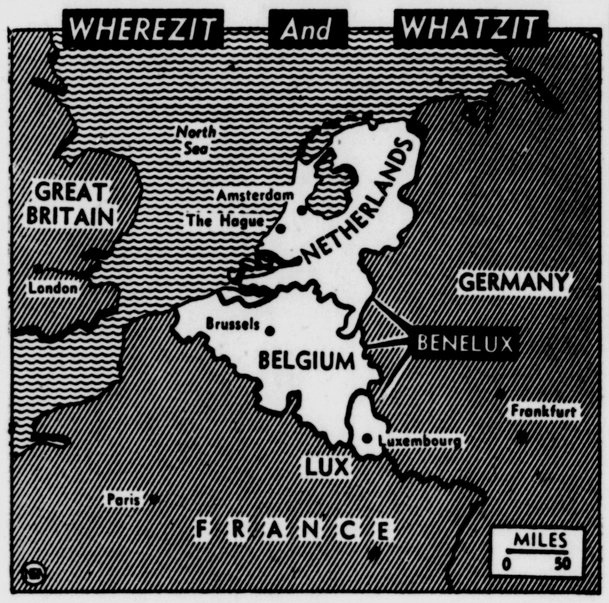

In urging anew that America combat Communist aggression anywhere in the world "with every weapon at our command," Dewey declared that if anyone believed this country could exist "surrounded by two billion Communists, with our 150 million people an island of freedom, they were absolutely stark, raving mad."

Dewey asked that the North Atlantic treaty principle be extended to the Pacific in a move to present a determined, united front against communism.

Toy industries in Germany and Japan are on the upswing again.

WHEREZIT And WHATZIT

THE BENELUX union gets its name from the front letters of its three member countries—Belgium, Luxembourg and The Netherlands. The Benelux is a customs union, regulating trade and tariffs among the three nations. Its eventual aim is to drop all barriers and form a strong economic union of 19,000,000 people. The Benelux pattern was first worked out in 1944 by governments of the three nations exiled in London by Nazi conquest. The initial agreement went into effect Jan. 1, 1948. It was the first post-war experiment in Western European integration, and as such it doesn't inspire too much confidence for an eventual United States of Europe. Economic experts of the Benelux countries have now drafted a 50-year treaty that would put the customs union on a firmer footing, but the Dutch government reportedly is balking at signing. Dutch objection is that the treaty doesn't go far enough toward economic unity, but rather freezes progress toward that goal at a point where Belgium gains the wider market she seeks, with Dutch hopes remaining unfulfilled. Root of the difficulty is that the war-ravaged Netherlands is still fighting an uphill battle for recovery, while Belgium has become the prosperous "senior partner." Belgium now ships one-fourth of all her exports to The Netherlands. Top-level officials of the three nations soon will review the proposed 50-year treaty in an effort to smooth out rough spots and speed the Benelux plan on to its goal of unity.

Jacoby on Canasta

KNOW A GOOD DEFENSIVE PLAY

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Most Canasta players know about the kind of freeze that occurs early in a hand when you want to win a large discard pile from the opponents, but not everybody is familiar with the freeze that takes place late in a hand for defensive reasons.

Your object in a late defensive freeze is to discard safely until the hand comes to an end. You don't really expect to win the discard pile, and you are reasonably sure that neither of the opponents will win it.

This sort of maneuver is usually executed when both opponents have melded down to a few cards. If you make it difficult for them to get the discard pile, one of them will meld out. If you let one of them pick up a large pile, however, he will get back into the game and try to run up a big score.

For example, suppose that both sides have melded, and that with the stock pile about two-thirds (or more) exhausted, you draw from the stock and hold:

A-Q-J-5-2.

The opponents have melds in aces, queens, jacks, and fives. The discard pile consists of about ten cards, so it's beginning to be worth worrying about. You certainly don't want to let the opponents pick it up.

Each opponent has only three or four cards, and your partner has six or seven cards. In this situation your partner should have several safe discards.

If you discard one of the natural cards, you will give away the pack. If you freeze, by discarding the deuce, you will have four safe discards and should therefore be able to last safely until the end of the hand.

This is, of course, an ideal situation for the late defensive freeze. Sometimes you must try this type of freeze when you have only two or three safe discards. By the time you have made those discards, you may have other safe cards, there may be further information to guide you, or you may have to take a chance on some discard.

You can't always have absolutely perfect safety, but even a fair chance of safety is better than giving the pack away without a struggle.

Bill Is Presented On School Voting

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—A bill to liberalize century-old qualifications for voters in school district elections in cities of less than 125,000 population has been introduced in the legislature.

If approved, the qualifications would become effective May 1. Under the measure introduced yesterday, voters in the school districts of the 56 cities affected would have to be citizens at least 21 years old, who have resided in the state a year, in the county four months and in the district 30 days.

The law now prescribes that a voter must own or lease real property in the district or be the parent or guardian of a child who has attended a district school at least eight weeks in the year preceding the election.

Same Qualifications

In effect, the measure would set up the same qualifications for voters in school district elections as are now in effect for voters in a general election.

The bill also would make it possible for voters in cities of less than 125,000 to initiate, by petition, a referendum on whether school board members should be elected rather than appointed. The petition would have to bear the signatures of 15 per cent of the persons in the district who voted for governor in the last general election.

At present, in the 12 cities with appointive boards, such a referendum may be held only if the board of education and city council approve.

Meatless Dinners

Singapore (AP) — The Malayan Vegetarian Society has scheduled a monthly dinner-meeting, at which no meat will be served. The non-meat-eaters also have announced their decision to look into the possibility of starting an exclusively vegetarian restaurant in Singapore.

Highbrow Radio Program

Jerusalem (AP) — The Hebrew radio station, "The Voice of Israel," is going to introduce a new program on a special wave-length for somewhat higher brows. This is a part of a general rejuvenation scheme initiated by Moshe Pearlman, general director of all Israel government information services. He has promised to do everything "to end boredom on the air."

Dewey Issues Call For U. S. to Rally

Albany, Feb. 20 (AP)—Governor Dewey has sounded a new call for the United States to rally "the free peoples of the world" in a mighty collective action against communism.

The Republican governor pressed his campaign against isolationism last night at the annual legislative dinner of the Veteran of Foreign Wars' New York State Department. He received the National VFW's first gold medal award for exceptional service "to country, community and mankind."

In urging anew that America combat Communist aggression anywhere in the world "with every weapon at our command," Dewey declared that if anyone believed this country could exist "surrounded by two billion Communists, with our 150 million people an island of freedom, they were absolutely stark, raving mad."

Dewey asked that the North Atlantic treaty principle be extended to the Pacific in a move to present a determined, united front against communism.

Toy industries in Germany and Japan are on the upswing again.

THE BENELUX union gets its name from the front letters of its three member countries—Belgium, Luxembourg and The Netherlands. The Benelux is a customs union, regulating trade and tariffs among the three nations. Its eventual aim is to drop all barriers and form a strong economic union of 19,000,000 people. The Benelux pattern was first worked out in 1944 by governments of the three nations exiled in London by Nazi conquest. The initial agreement went into effect Jan. 1, 1948. It was the first post-war experiment in Western European integration, and as such it doesn't inspire too much confidence for an eventual United States of Europe. Economic experts of the Benelux countries have now drafted a 50-year treaty that would put the customs union on a firmer footing, but the Dutch government reportedly is balking at signing. Dutch objection is that the treaty doesn't go far enough toward economic unity, but rather freezes progress toward that goal at a point where Belgium gains the wider market she seeks, with Dutch hopes remaining unfulfilled. Root of the difficulty is that the war-ravaged Netherlands is still fighting an uphill battle for recovery, while Belgium has become the prosperous "senior partner." Belgium now ships one-fourth of all her exports to The Netherlands. Top-level officials of the three nations soon will review the proposed 50-year treaty in an effort to smooth out rough spots and speed the Benelux plan on to its goal of unity.

KNOW A GOOD DEFENSIVE PLAY

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Most Canasta players know about the kind of freeze that occurs early in a hand when you want to win a large discard pile from the opponents, but not everybody is familiar with the freeze that takes place late in a hand for defensive reasons.

Your object in a late defensive freeze is to discard safely until the hand comes to an end. You don't really expect to win the discard pile, and you are reasonably sure that neither of the opponents will win it.

This sort of maneuver is usually executed when both opponents have melded down to a few cards. If you make it difficult for them to get the discard pile, one of them will meld out. If you let one of them pick up a large pile, however, he will get back into the game and try to run up a big score.

For example, suppose that both sides have melded, and that with the stock pile about two-thirds (or more) exhausted, you draw from the stock and hold:

A-Q-J-5-2.

The opponents have melds in aces, queens, jacks, and fives. The discard pile consists of about ten cards, so it's beginning to be worth worrying about. You certainly don't want to let the opponents pick it up.

Each opponent has only three or four cards, and your partner has six or seven cards. In this situation your partner should have several safe discards.

If you discard one of the natural cards, you will give away the pack. If you freeze, by discarding the deuce, you will have four safe discards and should therefore be able to last safely until the end of the hand.

This is, of course, an ideal situation for the late defensive freeze. Sometimes you must try this type of freeze when you have only two or three safe discards. By the time you have made those discards, you may have other safe cards, there may be further information to guide you, or you may have to take a chance on some discard.

You can't always have absolutely perfect safety, but even a fair chance of safety is better than giving the pack away without a struggle.

Bill Is Presented On School Voting

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—A bill to liberalize century-old qualifications for voters in school district elections in cities of less than 125,000 population has been introduced in the legislature.

If approved, the qualifications would become effective May 1. Under the measure introduced yesterday, voters in the school districts of the 56 cities affected would have to be citizens at least 21 years old, who have resided in the state a year, in the county four months and in the district 30 days.

The law now prescribes that a voter must own or lease real property in the district or be the parent or guardian of a child who has attended a district school at least eight weeks in the year preceding the election.

Same Qualifications

In effect, the measure would set up the same qualifications for voters in school district elections as are now in effect for voters in a general election.

The bill also would make it possible for voters in cities of less than 125,000 to initiate, by petition, a referendum on whether school board members should be elected rather than appointed. The petition would have to bear the signatures of 15 per cent of the persons in the district who voted for governor in the last general election.

At present, in the 12 cities with appointive boards, such a referendum may be held only if the board of education and city council approve.

Meatless Dinners

Singapore (AP) — The Malayan Vegetarian Society has scheduled a monthly dinner-meeting, at which no meat will be served. The non-meat-eaters also have announced their decision to look into the possibility of starting an exclusively vegetarian restaurant in Singapore.

Highbrow Radio Program

Jerusalem (AP) — The Hebrew radio station, "The Voice of Israel," is going to introduce a new program on a special wave-length for somewhat higher brows. This is a part of a general rejuvenation scheme initiated by Moshe Pearlman, general director of all Israel government information services. He has promised to do everything "to end boredom on the air."

Youth Aliyah Is Highlighted at Meeting Of Hadassah Monday

Members of Hadassah who attended their regular meeting held Monday evening in the Jewish Community Center were privileged to hear Mrs. Ben Meiselman, president of the Long Island region of Hadassah and a member of the National Board. Mrs. Meiselman who was introduced by Mrs. David Kline, program chairman of the Kingston Chapter, charmed her audience by her sincere eye-witness account of her recent trip to Israel. Mrs. Meiselman also gave a detailed report on the rehabilitation program carried on in the Youth Aliyah camps in Israel and pointed out that through this program, Youth Aliyah is really the backbone of the country. Upon being asked, Mrs. Meiselman informed the group that the cost of maintaining a Youth Aliyah child for one year in Israel is a little more than $600. She also stated that there are still 45,000 children waiting in oriental countries to be taken into Israel through this immigration movement.

Mrs. Sam Barnovitz, chairman of the Youth Aliyah campaign to raise funds, announced the following team captains for the drive: Mrs. Louis Epstein, Mrs. Leon Miller, Mrs. William Dean, Mrs. Harry Streifer, Mrs. Harry Rose, Mrs. Max Millens, Mrs. Julius Svirsky, Mrs. Moe Schwartz and Mrs. Irving Meyers. Mrs. Harry Feldman as treasurer of the campaign and Mrs. Paul Wendrow, Youth Aliyah group leader are assisting Mrs. Barnovitz.

Appropriate to the evening was a program of Israeli folk songs and dances presented by the Young Judea girls under the direction of Sondra Margolis. The following girls participated in group dancing and singing: Norma Zang, Sharon Parnett, Miriam Schecter, Paula Abelove, Annette Katz, Sherry Wilpan, Fay Kessler, Lee Gershuny, and Rose Ann Orkoff.

Married in Port Ewen Church

(John Crosby Photo)

MR. AND MRS. JOHN H. BENTON

Barbara E. Webster Weds John H. Benton

Barbara Evelyn Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Webster, of Port Ewen and John H. Benton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Benton, of R.D. 2, Catskill, were united in marriage on Sunday, February 17, at 2 o'clock in the Port Ewen Reformed Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harry E. Christiana.

Arlene Harris, the organist, played traditional wedding music and the soloist, Mrs. Charles O. Benton sang, "Because" and "At Dawning."

The church edifice was decorated beautifully with gladioli and snapdragons.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown, made with basque bodice, long pointed sleeves and picture neckline outlined with seed pearls. A silk illusion three-quarter length veil was attached to a net headpiece trimmed with appliqued leaves and seed pearls. She carried a prayer book with white orchid.

Mrs. Edwin M. Doyle of Port Ewen, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was attired in orchid nylon tulle and taffeta gown made with molded bodice and full floor length skirt with a tulle stole and mitts. A cloche of lilies of the valley completed her ensemble. She carried a cascade of yellow roses.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. William F. Webster of Port Ewen, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Shirley Benton, sister of the bridegroom. They were gowns of pink and Nile green taffeta and nylon net, similar to the honor attendant's with fitted jackets and lily of the valley cloches. They carried cascades of pink roses and talisman roses.

Charles O. Benton, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were William F. Webster, brother of the bride, and Edwin M. Doyle, brother-in-law of the bride.

The bride's traveling ensemble was a pink two-piece dress with black accessories and white orchid corsage.

The couple will make their home on Salem street, Port Ewen.

The bride is employed at Hercules Powder Company and the bridegroom, graduate of Kingston High School, also is employed by Hercules Powder Company.

Rewarded for Efforts In Heart Fund Drive

Leo DiPeri, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DiPeri of 314 Lucas avenue, had a date with movie star Vera-Ellen in St. Louis on Feb. 12 as his reward for collecting $116.50 for the American Heart Association to win a contest between St. Louis and Washington University students.

DiPeri, a senior at Parks Air College at St. Louis University, was the recipient of a Kiwanis Club scholarship and is aiming toward a job with Lockheed Aircraft Corporation in Burbank, Cal., following his graduation in March.

His date with the screen dancing star was his prize for copping first place in a fund-raising contest for the benefit of the St. Louis Heart Association. The date included dinner at the Hotel Statler, dancing and attendance at the Loew's State theatre, where his date was interviewed in connection with her new picture, Belle of New York.

MISS JOAN DUFOUR

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. DuFour, Bound Brook, New Jersey, announce the engagement of their daughter, Joan, to John J. Campbell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Campbell, 84 Roosevelt avenue, Kingston, N. Y.

Miss DuFour graduated from Bound Brook High School and Bethany College, Bethany, West Virginia, where she was a member of Kappa Delta Sorority. She is with Research Corporation in Bound Brook.

Mr. Campbell attended Kingston High School and is an alumnus of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, where he received his degree in chemical engineering. He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. Mr. Campbell served with the Navy in World War 2 and is now enployed by American Cyanamid Company.

McDonald Wins Approval

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—Harry A. McDonald has won approval of the Senate Banking Committee to head the Reconstruction Finance Corporation but his appointment still faces a Senate floor fight. The committee, which had the nomination bottled up for seven weeks, finally voted yesterday seven to three in favor of the former Detroit business man. Senator Capehart (R-Ind.), ranking Republican on the banking committee, has served notice he will seek to delay floor action until the Senate acts on bills to abolish the big lending agency or revise its loan policies.

Had Church Wedding in Port Ewen

MR. AND MRS. ANTHONY FERRARO

Following their wedding Sunday afternoon in the Church of the Presentation, Port Ewen, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ferraro are shown cutting their cake during a reception for 75 guests at the Tropical Inn. The Rev. Joseph Comyns officiated at the marriage ceremony. Mrs. Ferraro is the former Miss Marie S. Duda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Duda of Republic, Pa. (Kinkade and Hutton photo).

Miss Marie S. Duda Is the Bride of Anthony F. Ferraro

Miss Marie S. Duda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Duda of Republic, Pa. and New York, was married to Anthony F. Ferraro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Baldassaro Ferraro of Port Ewen, Sunday at 3:30 p. m. in the church of the Presentation, Port Ewen. The Rev. Joseph Comyns, pastor, officiated at the ceremony. A reception for 75 guests followed at the Tropical Inn.

Traditional wedding music was played by Miss Veronica Coniglio.

Given in marriage by Bernard Ferraro, the bride wore a rose mauve faille dress with matching accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet with an orchid, stephanotis and freesia.

Mrs. N. Madgar of Baltimore was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a navy blue dress with matching accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas.

Sala Zoda of Port Ewen was best man and James Ferraro, the bridegroom's nephew, was an usher. Donald Ferraro, also a nephew of the groom, served as altar boy.

The couple will make their home in New York, where Mr. Ferraro is employed by the Omnibus Corporation.

Youth Aliyah Is Highlighted at Meeting Of Hadassah Monday

Members of Hadassah who attended their regular meeting held Monday evening in the Jewish Community Center were privileged to hear Mrs. Ben Meiselman, president of the Long Island region of Hadassah and a member of the National Board. Mrs. Meiselman who was introduced by Mrs. David Kline, program chairman of the Kingston Chapter, charmed her audience by her sincere eye-witness account of her recent trip to Israel. Mrs. Meiselman also gave a detailed report on the rehabilitation program carried on in the Youth Aliyah camps in Israel and pointed out that through this program, Youth Aliyah is really the backbone of the country. Upon being asked, Mrs. Meiselman informed the group that the cost of maintaining a Youth Aliyah child for one year in Israel is a little more than $600. She also stated that there are still 45,000 children waiting in oriental countries to be taken into Israel through this immigration movement.

Mrs. Sam Barnovitz, chairman of the Youth Aliyah campaign to raise funds, announced the following team captains for the drive: Mrs. Louis Epstein, Mrs. Leon Miller, Mrs. William Dean, Mrs. Harry Streifer, Mrs. Harry Rose, Mrs. Max Millens, Mrs. Julius Svirsky, Mrs. Moe Schwartz and Mrs. Irving Meyers. Mrs. Harry Feldman as treasurer of the campaign and Mrs. Paul Wendrow, Youth Aliyah group leader are assisting Mrs. Barnovitz.

Appropriate to the evening was a program of Israeli folk songs and dances presented by the Young Judea girls under the direction of Sondra Margolis. The following girls participated in group dancing and singing: Norma Zang, Sharon Parnett, Miriam Schecter, Paula Abelove, Annette Katz, Sherry Wilpan, Fay Kessler, Lee Gershuny, and Rose Ann Orkoff.

(John Crosby Photo)

MR. AND MRS. JOHN H. BENTON

Barbara E. Webster Weds John H. Benton

Barbara Evelyn Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Webster, of Port Ewen and John H. Benton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Benton, of R.D. 2, Catskill, were united in marriage on Sunday, February 17, at 2 o'clock in the Port Ewen Reformed Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harry E. Christiana..

Arlene Harris, the organist, played traditional wedding music and the soloist, Mrs. Charles O. Benton sang, "Because" and "At Dawning."

The church edifice was decorated beautifully with gladioli and snapdragons.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown, made with basque bodice, long pointed sleeves and picture neckline outlined with seed pearls. A silk illusion three-quarter length veil was attached to a net headpiece trimmed with appliqued leaves and seed pearls. She carried a prayer book with white orchid.

Mrs. Edwin M. Doyle of Port Ewen, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was attired in orchid nylon tulle and taffeta gown made with molded bodice and full floor length skirt with a tulle stole and mitts. A cloche of lilies of the valley completed her ensemble. She carried a cascade of yellow roses.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. William F. Webster of Port Ewen, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Shirley Benton, sister of the bridegroom. They were gowns of pink and Nile green taffeta and nylon net, similar to the honor attendant's with fitted jackets and lily of the valley cloches. They carried cascades of pink roses and talisman roses.

Charles O. Benton, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were William F. Webster, brother of the bride, and Edwin M. Doyle, brother-in-law of the bride.

A reception for 100 guests at the Hotel Stuyvesant followed the wedding ceremony.

The bride's traveling ensemble was a pink two-piece dress with black accessories and white orchid corsage.

The couple will make their home on Salem street, Port Ewen.

The bride is employed at Hercules Powder Company and the bridegroom, graduate of Kingston High School, also is employed by Hercules Powder Company.

Rewarded for Efforts In Heart Fund Drive

Leo DiPeri, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DiPeri of 314 Lucas avenue, had a date with movie star Vera-Ellen in St. Louis on Feb. 12 as his reward for collecting $116.50 for the American Heart Association to win a contest between St. Louis and Washington University students.

DiPeri, a senior at Parks Air College at St. Louis University, was the recipient of a Kiwanis Club scholarship and is aiming toward a job with Lockheed Aircraft Corporation in Burbank, Cal., following his graduation in March.

His date with the screen dancing star was his prize for copping first place in a fund-raising contest for the benefit of the St. Louis Heart Association. The date included dinner at the Hotel Statler, dancing and attendance at the Loew's State theatre, where his date was interviewed in connection with her new picture, Belle of New York.

McDonald Wins Approval

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—Harry A. McDonald has won approval of the Senate Banking Committee to head the Reconstruction Finance Corporation but his appointment still faces a Senate floor fight. The committee, which had the nomination bottled up for seven weeks, finally voted yesterday seven to three in favor of the former Detroit business man. Senator Capehart (R-Ind.), ranking Republican on the banking committee, has served notice he will seek to delay floor action until the Senate acts on bills to abolish the big lending agency or revise its loan policies.

Had Church Wedding in Port Ewen

MR. AND MRS. ANTHONY FERRARO

Following their wedding Sunday afternoon in the Church of the Presentation, Port Ewen, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ferraro are shown cutting their cake during a reception for 75 guests at the Tropical Inn. The Rev. Joseph Comyns officiated at the marriage ceremony. Mrs. Ferraro is the former Miss Marie S. Duda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Duda of Republic, Pa. (Kinkade and Hutton photo).

Miss Marie S. Duda Is the Bride of Anthony F. Ferraro

Miss Marie S. Duda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Duda of Republic, Pa. and New York, was married to Anthony F. Ferraro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Baldassaro Ferraro of Port Ewen, Sunday at 3:30 p. m. in the church of the Presentation, Port Ewen. The Rev. Joseph Comyns, pastor, officiated at the ceremony. A reception for 75 guests followed at the Tropical Inn.

Traditional wedding music was played by Miss Veronica Coniglio.

Given in marriage by Bernard Ferraro, the bride wore a rose mauve faille dress with matching accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet with an orchid, stephanotis and freesia.

Mrs. N. Madgar of Baltimore was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a navy blue dress with matching accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas.

Sala Zoda of Port Ewen was best man and James Ferraro, the bridegroom's nephew, was an usher. Donald Ferraro, also a nephew of the groom, served as altar boy.

Hands that work look lovelier in 24 hours* or your money back

Here's one hand cream that's made especially to help hands that work!

● If your present hand cream isn't helping you much, maybe that's because it's made for lady-of-leisure hands. But, hands that go through a daily routine of cleaning-washing-cooking . . . or hands that keep busy in an office . . . need something special. Give them Noxzema's 2-way medicated care!

Helps heal—Helps beautify! Noxzema is especially made to help sore, unattractive working hands look lovelier these two important ways:

1. Helps heal tiny cuts and cracks in the skin with its unique medicated formula!

2. Helps hands feel softer—look smoother and whiter—supplies a light film of oil-and-moisture to skin's surface!

And Noxzema is greaseless – doesn't stain. It's a snow-white cream that vanishes quickly.

Try greaseless, medicated Noxzema on your hands. *In clinical tests, Noxzema helped the red, rough, chapped hands of 9 out of 10 women look lovelier—often within 24 hours!

Mrs. Marguerite Macdonald says: "Cooking, washing and cleaning leave my hands sore and cracked. But Noxzema quickly soothes them – helps keep them looking smooth, people assume I have household help!"

Noxzema works—or your money back! Try Noxzema on your hands tonight. If you don't see improvement—in 24 hours—return jar to Noxzema, Baltimore. Your money will be refunded.

So you can see for yourself how wonderful Noxzema is for hands!

Cora C. DeCicco, Robert B. Martin Wed in St. Mary's

The marriage of Miss Cora C. DeCicco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John DeCicco, 25 Jansen avenue, to Robert B. Martin, son of Mrs. Emil Martin and the late Emil Martin of Highland, took place Sunday at 1:30 p. m. in St. Mary's Church. The Rev. Edward I. Farrelly, assistant pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony. A reception for 350 guests followed at the San Bar restaurant.

Theodore Riccobono played traditional wedding selections on the organ and accompanied Miss Barbara Bruck, soloist, in the Ave Maria.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin and nylon with lace appliqued skirt. Her fingertip veil was attached to a seed pearl tiara and she carried a cascade of white roses and white gladioli.

Miss Theresa Fondino of 342 Broadway was her cousin's maid of honor. With her Nile green net and satin gown, she wore a matching headpiece and carried a cascade of yellow gladioli and blue iris.

The bridesmaids were Miss Josephine Perry, Mrs. Eugene Nirri, and Miss Evelyn Kearney of this city and Miss Augusta Martin, the bridegroom's sister, of Highland. They wore gowns of lilac color fashioned like that of the honor attendant and carred salmon pink gladioli and blue iris.

Miss Jean Marie Parise, the bride's niece, was the flower girl. The color and style of her gown was identical to that worn by the honor attendant.

Clarence Martin of Centerville was his brother's best man. The ushers were John Johnson and Edward Mackey, the groom's cousin, of Highland and Eugene Nirri and Lester Finch, the bride's cousin, of this city. John Jay Skipp, nephew of the groom, was ringbearer.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to New York and Washington, D.C., the couple will reside at the home of the bridegroom's parents. For traveling, the bride chose a red and black checked gabardine suit, grey coat and black accessories. Her corsage was of white roses.

Mrs. Martin was graduated from Kingston High School, class of '48 and has been employed by the Kingston Knitting Mills.

Mr. Martin, a graduate of Highland High School, class of '51, is a member of the National Guard, 156th Field Artillery, 27th division. He is employed by Empire Market in Highland.

UPA Plans to Meet StrongCompetition

The Ulster Provisioners Co-Operative Association, Inc., of 10 East Strand, enjoyed a successful year of business in 1951, it was reported during the recent annual meeting of the stockholders.

Harry C. Jump, president, while citing that the organization had enjoyed a successful year, also reported that 10 new members had joined the group last year bringing the total membership to 50 active members.

James Roberts, general manager, spoke on the future program for 1952 saying that the plans would make the association group a stronger organization to meet competition.

One of Oldest Area Firms To Close Soon; Began 1873

One of the oldest businesses in Rondout will close its doors next month.

Miss Belle Short, operator of Short's Studio, 9 East Strand, said today, she is selling all equipment, and will close the studio sometime in March.

The business was started by Lorenzo Short, Miss Short's father in 1873. She took over following his death and has operated it for the past 40 years. She had grown up in the business and had worked with her father for some time before his death.

Was Widely Known

The studio for many years was the only one in the downtown area and it was widely known for generations in all parts of the city and neighboring area.

Short's Studio has recorded its own picture history of the community and environs and many homes of the area have today in their albums pictures from Short's which are records of different generations during the past 79 years.

The studio files have also been a record of important incidents in the lives of many local individuals and families as well as of local community life. It was turning out pictures when the Rondout waterfront was the most active area in the city, and it continued for many periods of change until this historic year when Kingston is observing its 300th anniversary.

Mrs. Parsons Goes To Dallas, Might Be in Hospital

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 20 (AP)—A pretty 22-year-old widow under $20,000 bond on a charge of slaying her army lieutenant husband was whisked out of sight immediately on arriving here late last night from El Paso, Tex.

Attendants at a Dallas mental institution refused to deny or confirm reports that Mrs. Richard O. Parsons, daughter of a wealthy Tulsa, Okla., oil man, had been admitted.

"We're just not saying anything," an attendant told reporters.

Earlier yesterday at the bond hearing in El Paso, District Attorney William Clayton said the blue-eyed blonde was to be "released to a mental hospital for observation and treatment, if necessary."

Mrs. Parsons and her family, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Fleeger, accompanied by Attorney O. B. Fisher of Paris, Tex., were met at the Dallas airport by a man and woman who sped them away in an automobile. The couple who met Mrs. Parsons joined with other members of the party in attempting to shield her from news photographers. None would comment.

Fisher registered at a downtown hotel last night.

Mrs. Parsons was bound over to the El Paso County Grand Jury for Feb. 29. However, it is uncertain whether she will appear then.

Parsons, 24, formerly of Pleasantville, N. Y., was shot twice in the head shortly before noon Saturday. His wife surrendered that night. In a statement to officers she said she shot him after they argued about receiving financial aid from her parents.

His body was sent last night to Farmingdale, N. Y., for burial.

Child Health Clinic

A child health conference conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the clinic rooms, 97 Broadway, Feb. 26 from 10 a. m. until 12 noon.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Jacqueline, Ackley, daughter of Mrs. Frances R. Ackley, 15 Pine street and Fred L. Ackley of Bridgeport, Conn., to Robert H. Cooper, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Cooper, of 188 Manor avenue.

Miss Ackley attended the Kingston schools and will be graduated from State Teachers College at New Paltz in June.

Mr. Cooper graduated from Kingston High School and attended State Teachers College at Potsdam. He is now serving with the band aboard the USS Kearsage at Bremerton, Washington.

UPA Plans to Meet StrongCompetition

The Ulster Provisioners Co-Operative Association, Inc., of 10 East Strand, enjoyed a successful year of business in 1951, it was reported during the recent annual meeting of the stockholders.

Harry C. Jump, president, while citing that the organization had enjoyed a successful year, also reported that 10 new members had joined the group last year bringing the total membership to 50 active members.

James Roberts, general manager, spoke on the future program for 1952 saying that the plans would make the association group a stronger organization to meet competition.

One of Oldest Area Firms To Close Soon; Began 1873

One of the oldest businesses in Rondout will close its doors next month.

Miss Belle Short, operator of Short's Studio, 9 East Strand, said today, she is selling all equipment, and will close the studio sometime in March.

The business was started by Lorenzo Short, Miss Short's father in 1873. She took over following his death and has operated it for the past 40 years. She had grown up in the business and had worked with her father for some time before his death.

Was Widely Known

The studio for many years was the only one in the downtown area and it was widely known for generations in all parts of the city and neighboring area.

Short's Studio has recorded its own picture history of the community and environs and many homes of the area have today in their albums pictures from Short's which are records of different generations during the past 79 years.

The studio files have also been a record of important incidents in the lives of many local individuals and families as well as of local community life. It was turning out pictures when the Rondout waterfront was the most active area in the city, and it continued for many periods of change until this historic year when Kingston is observing its 300th anniversary.

Mrs. Parsons Goes To Dallas, Might Be in Hospital

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 20 (AP)—A pretty 22-year-old widow under $20,000 bond on a charge of slaying her army lieutenant husband was whisked out of sight immediately on arriving here late last night from El Paso, Tex.

Attendants at a Dallas mental institution refused to deny or confirm reports that Mrs. Richard O. Parsons, daughter of a wealthy Tulsa, Okla., oil man, had been admitted.

"We're just not saying anything," an attendant told reporters.

Earlier yesterday at the bond hearing in El Paso, District Attorney William Clayton said the blue-eyed blonde was to be "released to a mental hospital for observation and treatment, if necessary."

Mrs. Parsons and her family, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Fleeger, accompanied by Attorney O. B. Fisher of Paris, Tex., were met at the Dallas airport by a man and woman who sped them away in an automobile. The couple who met Mrs. Parsons joined with other members of the party in attempting to shield her from news photographers. None would comment.

Fisher registered at a downtown hotel last night.

Mrs. Parsons was bound over to the El Paso County Grand Jury for Feb. 29. However, it is uncertain whether she will appear then.

Parsons, 24, formerly of Pleasantville, N. Y., was shot twice in the head shortly before noon Saturday. His wife surrendered that night. In a statement to officers she said she shot him after they argued about receiving financial aid from her parents.

His body was sent last night to Farmingdale, N. Y., for burial.

Child Health Clinic

A child health conference conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the clinic rooms, 97 Broadway, Feb. 26 from 10 a. m. until 12 noon.

High School Varsity Loses to Catskill, 53-67; Jayvees Win, 48 to 40

Greene County Quintet Stops Hooker With 11

Secreto Hits 22 Points In Jayvee Triumph

Maybe it was the normal letdown and reaction from that tremendous, but heartbreaking struggle against Newburgh Academy.

Maybe, it was too much Culver and Sims.

Maybe, it was "just one of those nights."

Anyhow, the KHS Maroons got a lot of bad basketball out of their systems last night, while absorbing a 67-53 thumping at the hands of Class C Catskill High on the Greene county boards.

With high scoring Leroy Hooker shackled to 11 points and Frank "Yip" Koenig missing from the lineup, the Kiasmen were in the ball game only in the first few minutes.

The schedule gives them a week to recover their poise and next Tuesday night they can try for revenge on the municipal auditorium floor.

Catskill's two brilliant forwards —Culver and Sims—wrecked the Maroons with a 49-point blast. Sims rimmed 31 markers with 13 fields and five singletons to set a new all-time Catskill scoring record for a season. Culver added 18.

Hooker with 11 was the only Kingston player in double figures, although 11 of the 12 players used by Coach Kias figured in the scoring. The "seconds" played the entire fourth period and outscored Catskill 21-20.

Jayvees Win 48-40

Coach John Gilligan's Jayvees continued to set an example the varsity couldn't follow with an impressive 48-40 victory in the preliminary.

The Gilligans switched defenses and tactics several times to thwart the Catskillians in every period but the second and were ahead 21-16 at halftime.

Frank Secreto maintained his high scoring pace with 22 points and Ronnie Brandt hit with nine. Colclough and Godwin shared 13. Skipper Brodhead scored only three points but his superb floorwork was a big factor in the Kingston triumph.

Rose, a substitute center, led the home cagers with 18 points.

Kentucky Captain Offers to Testify

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—The simmering college basketball scandal, which has involved some of the top schools and more than 30 players in the country, flamed anew today with the arrival here of Walter Hirsch, captain of the 1950-51 University of Kentucky team, as a material witness.

Hirsch's decision to appear in New York, was an about-face on his previous stand, according to District Attorney Frank Hogan, who first broke the scandal last year. Hogan said Hirsch had refused repeatedly to cooperate with the investigation while he was a student at Kentucky.

Hirsch was not permitted to enroll in school this semester, and has been working in his home town, Dayton, O.

"Indeed," said Hogan, "his refusal to come to New York and cooperate as a witness was the basis on which the University of Kentucky did not permit him to re-enroll for the semester beginning this month."

Hogan charged in an affidavit signed by his assistant, Vincent A. G. O'Connor, that Hirsch and two other players, Dale Barnstable and James Line, accepted bribes to shave points in games played in Kentucky and Arkansas in 1949 and 1950.

Barnstable already is under indictment, along with former All-Americas, Alex Groza and Ralph Beard, on charges of accepting money to fix one game here.

Line is working for an oil company in Kansas and said he had no comment immediately, but that he might have a statement later today.

Neither Kentucky nor Arkansas had laws against bribery in connection with sports events in 1949 and 1950. The affidavit signed by O'Connor said that Hirsch, Barnstable and Line had turned down offers to fix some games in New York.

Another Kentucky All-America, Bill Spivey, will testify before the grand jury. He asked in December that his name be removed from the eligibility list until, he said, he could clear his name. Now he hopes to be reinstated for tournament play.

Rangers' Dickenson Draws High Praise

(By The Associated Press)

Herb Dickenson is the Ed Stanky of the National Hockey League.

The 20-year-old rookie forward of the New York Rangers is not a polished skater but like Stanky of baseball fame he doesn't know the meaning of the word "quit."

Ranger coach Bill Cook and manager Frank Boucher describe Dickenson as a "digger."

"He's digging all the time," Cook said recently. He's no world beater as a skater but he's always around the net and he knows what to do with the puck when he's around the cage."

Dickenson has scored 10 goals and seven assists in 23 games for the Rangers. Most of his goals have arrived at opportune moments.

The recruit banged in an important goal last night as the Rangers battled the Toronto Maple Leafs to a 3-3 stalemate in Toronto.

Bratton in Comeback

Chicago, Feb. 20 (AP)—Johnny Bratton of Chicago, former NBA welterweight champion, ruled a slight favorite for his scheduled 10-round bout against Vic Cardell of Hartford, Conn., in Chicago Stadium tonight. (Winner of the nationally televised bout (10 p. m. E.S.T.) will be in line for a March 26 showdown against Billy Graham, another contender for Kid Gavilan's 147-pound title.

American Girl Skiing and Skating Aces Expected to Snap U. S. Olympic Drouth

Team Has Been Shut Out Three Straight Days

Oslo, Norway, Feb. 20 (AP)—Pretty girls in spangled skirts and slickly tailored ski suits should come to the rescue of the point-starved United States Olympic team today.

The Americans have been shut out in the scoring column for three straight days after getting off to a flying start.

But with the figure skating gals and the slalom specialist taking over, things are apt to be different.

The special slalom for women, 465 meters almost straight down an icy mountainside at Roedkleiva, could easily have gold medal winner Andrea Mead Lawrence in the starring role.

Mrs. Lawrence, 19-year-old daredevil from Rutland, Vt., sailed home seconds ahead of the field in the giant slalom last Thursday for America's first victory in the 1952 games.

The giant slalom was nearly three times as long as the girls had to go down only once. Today they must race twice down the ice.

Backing up Andy will be Katy Rudolph of Hayden, Colo., who was fifth in the giant slalom; Imogene Opton of Conway, N. H., who should find the shorter run more to her liking, and Jannette Burr of Seattle, Wash.

The U. S. has three girls in the running for points in the women's figure skating which ends tonight with the free skating. Americans usually excel in this department but unfortunately for them, it counts only 40 per cent toward the complicated points total.

British Girl Leads

Jeannette Altwegg, Great Britain's precision specialist, built up a big lead in the school figures which count 60 per cent and she can practically win the title by just putting in appearance tonight.

Tenley Albright of Newton Center, Mass., ranked second after Miss Altwegg going into the free style, and Sonya Klopper, 17-year-old North American champion from Brooklyn, was third. Virginia Baxter, a tiny blonde from Detroit, stood seventh with a chance to move into the scoring column.

While the girls finished their event the men figure skaters rest for 24 hours before tackling their free skating. It will be America's Dick Button against the field. The Harvard student built up his usual lead in school figures yesterday and his free skating is even better.

One event today that won't bring the Americans any points is the 50 kilometer (31.07 miles) cross-country ski race. All four Americans entered withdrew because they stood no chance to win. This one belongs to the Scandinavians and the likely winner is Miles Karlsson of Sweden who won it four years ago at St. Moritz.

The United States, Canada and Sweden hold the upper hand in the Olympic hockey tournament with four straight victories each. The U. S. won its first major test last night as it disposed of previously unbeaten Switzerland, 8-2. Canada defeated a good Czech team, 4-1.

Going into today's events Norway held a huge lead in the unofficial point standings with 94. Austria was second with 51 and the United States third with 34½.

Dressen Would Like Reese in Leadoff

Vero Beach, Fla., Feb. 20 (AP)—Manager Chuck Dressen toyed with a new Brooklyn batting order today as the first Dodger squad reported for spring training.

Still embarrassed by winter-long explanations of how the Brooks blew a 13½ game lead to the New York Giants, Dressen is determined to have a winner.

"I'd like to have Pee Wee Reese lead off," he said. "And Billy Cox hit second. If they can come up with the same kind of year as in '51 that ought to do the trick.

"Duke Snider would hit third, as usual, and Jackie Robinson fourth with Roy Campanella fifth. Then Andy Pafko, Gil Hodges and probably Carl Furillo.

Sarasota, Fla., Feb. 20 (AP)—Mel Parnell, the Boston Red Sox star righthand pitcher, was among the missing today when new Manager Lou Boudreau started spring training with a group of 17 flingers and three catchers. Parnell has yet to come to terms with General Manager Joe Cronin.

Jones Dairy Beats Potter Bros., 65-56

Hercules unloaded its seige guns against the hapless New Paltz quintet and came up with one of the biggest point totals in YMCA League history last night, a 116 to 81 victory.

The combined total of 197 points for two teams is believed to be an all-time YMCA record.

In the companion piece, Jones Dairy put together a 30-point third period to defeat Potter Bros., 65 to 56.

En route to their huge total, the Hercules cagers were clocked in quarter totals of 22-26-30-38. New Paltz, still seeking its first victory in the Y loop, played desperately with 26-29 in the second and third periods.

Annacone Hits 39

Although beaten, New Paltz furnished the individual star in Johnny Annacone who rimmed 39 points with 17 fields and five singletons.

Tom Morrissey led Hercules with 33 points; Wally Madajeski hit 29 and Ward Dunham had 20.

The Potter-Jones skirmish was close and hard fought until the Dairymen exploded with their 30-point third period. Both clubs tailed off in the stretch, Potter gaining a meagre 7-5 advantage.

Dan Schrader hooped 19 points to lead the Dairymen, with Smith and Farley each scoring 13. "Champ" Holstein and Big Jack Doyle scored 18 each for Potters.

Portland, Ore. — Cesar Brion, 198, Argentina, outpointed Joe Kahut, 188½, Woodburn, Ore., 10.

Economy Cagers Flatten Ridgers

Economy Construction of the YMCA League had the antidote to the high scoring Stone Ridge tandem of Jim Sickler and Paul Johnson—a couple of guys called Don Gardeski and Chris Rienzo.

While Johnson and Sickler accumulated 52 points up front last night in Stone Ridge, the Economy pair racked up 63 and got a 29-point lift from Frank Fiore to drub the Ridgers, 104 to 76.

Rienzo was the scoring leader with 39 points on 19 fields and a foul. Gardeski hit for 24 and Fiore corralled 14 fields and a singleton for 29.

Johnson, an amazing scorer, tried desperately with 34 points to save his club from its third straight setback. Sickler was "held" to 18 points and Fred Spongia hit with 14.

Stone Ridge played without the services of Big Gene Roosa, 6 foot 5 inch center.

Arizin Widens Lead Over Mikan

(By The Associated Press)

Paul Arizin, the Philadelphia Warrior's whiz kid, is showing no signs of wilting in his drive to end the five-year reign of Minneapolis' George Mikan as the top scorer in the National Basketball Association.

Arizin, who took over the lead from Big George last week, collected 28 points last night while Mikan netted 26 to pull 16 ahead of the Laker star in the scoring race. Arizin has 1,260 points to Mikan's 1,244.

The Philadelphia sophomore scored ten field goals and eight free throws as the Warriors downed the Fort Wayne Pistons, 89-80. Mikan's figures were the reverse. He collected eight baskets and ten charity shots as the Lakers lost, 98-96, to the New York Knickerbockers.

Max Zaslofsky plunked in 23 points to lead the Knicks to their 16th straight victory at home. Vern Mikkelsen of the Lakers missed a long hook shot at the buzzer.

The victory enabled the Knicks to move within a half game of second place Boston in the Eastern division scramble. The Celtics dropped an 82-81 decision to the Indianapolis Olympians.

New York—Nils Rohlsson, Sweden, Lorne Main, Canada, defending champion Billy Talbert, New York and Don McNeill, Albertson, N. Y., advance to the quarter final round of the National Indoor tennis championships.

Anyhow, the KHS Maroons got a lot of bad basketball out of their systems last night, while absorbing a 67-53 thumping at the hands of Class C Catskill High on the Greene county boards.

With high scoring Leroy Hooker shackled to 11 points and Frank "Yip" Koenig missing from the lineup, the Kiasmen were in the ball game only in the first few minutes.

The schedule gives them a week to recover their poise and next Tuesday night they can try for revenge on the municipal auditorium floor.

Catskill's two brilliant forwards —Culver and Sims—wrecked the Maroons with a 49-point blast. Sims rimmed 31 markers with 13 fields and five singletons to set a new all-time Catskill scoring record for a season. Culver added 18.

Hooker with 11 was the only Kingston player in double figures, although 11 of the 12 players used by Coach Kias figured in the scoring. The "seconds" played the entire fourth period and outscored Catskill 21-20.

Jayvees Win 48-40

Coach John Gilligan's Jayvees continued to set an example the varsity couldn't follow with an impressive 48-40 victory in the preliminary.

The Gilligans switched defenses and tactics several times to thwart the Catskillians in every period but the second and were ahead 21-16 at halftime.

Frank Secreto maintained his high scoring pace with 22 points and Ronnie Brandt hit with nine. Colclough and Godwin shared 13. Skipper Brodhead scored only three points but his superb floorwork was a big factor in the Kingston triumph.

Rose, a substitute center, led the home cagers with 18 points.

Kentucky Captain Offers to Testify

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—The simmering college basketball scandal, which has involved some of the top schools and more than 30 players in the country, flamed anew today with the arrival here of Walter Hirsch, captain of the 1950-51 University of Kentucky team, as a material witness.

Hirsch's decision to appear in New York, was an about-face on his previous stand, according to District Attorney Frank Hogan, who first broke the scandal last year. Hogan said Hirsch had refused repeatedly to cooperate with the investigation while he was a student at Kentucky.

Hirsch was not permitted to enroll in school this semester, and has been working in his home town, Dayton, O.

"Indeed," said Hogan, "his refusal to come to New York and cooperate as a witness was the basis on which the University of Kentucky did not permit him to re-enroll for the semester beginning this month."

Hogan charged in an affidavit signed by his assistant, Vincent A. G. O'Connor, that Hirsch and two other players, Dale Barnstable and James Line, accepted bribes to shave points in games played in Kentucky and Arkansas in 1949 and 1950.

Barnstable already is under indictment, along with former All-Americas, Alex Groza and Ralph Beard, on charges of accepting money to fix one game here.

Line is working for an oil company in Kansas and said he had no comment immediately, but that he might have a statement later today.

Neither Kentucky nor Arkansas had laws against bribery in connection with sports events in 1949 and 1950. The affidavit signed by O'Connor said that Hirsch, Barnstable and Line had turned down offers to fix some games in New York.

Another Kentucky All-America, Bill Spivey, will testify before the grand jury. He asked in December that his name be removed from the eligibility list until, he said, he could clear his name. Now he hopes to be reinstated for tournament play.

Rangers' Dickenson Draws High Praise

(By The Associated Press)

Herb Dickenson is the Ed Stanky of the National Hockey League.

The 20-year-old rookie forward of the New York Rangers is not a polished skater but like Stanky of baseball fame he doesn't know the meaning of the word "quit."

Ranger coach Bill Cook and manager Frank Boucher describe Dickenson as a "digger."

"He's digging all the time," Cook said recently. He's no world beater as a skater but he's always around the net and he knows what to do with the puck when he's around the cage."

Dickenson has scored 10 goals and seven assists in 23 games for the Rangers. Most of his goals have arrived at opportune moments.

The recruit banged in an important goal last night as the Rangers battled the Toronto Maple Leafs to a 3-3 stalemate in Toronto.

Bratton in Comeback

Chicago, Feb. 20 (AP)—Johnny Bratton of Chicago, former NBA welterweight champion, ruled a slight favorite for his scheduled 10-round bout against Vic Cardell of Hartford, Conn., in Chicago Stadium tonight. (Winner of the nationally televised bout (10 p. m. E.S.T.) will be in line for a March 26 showdown against Billy Graham, another contender for Kid Gavilan's 147-pound title.

American Girl Skiing and Skating Aces Expected to Snap U. S. Olympic Drouth

Team Has Been Shut Out Three Straight Days

Oslo, Norway, Feb. 20 (AP) — Pretty girls in spangled skirts and slickly tailored ski suits should come to the rescue of the point-starved United States Olympic team today.

The Americans have been shut out in the scoring column for three straight days after getting off to a flying start.

But with the figure skating gals and the slalom specialist taking over, things are apt to be different.

The special slalom for women, 465 meters almost straight down an icy mountainside at Roedkleiva, could easily have gold medal winner Andrea Mead Lawrence in the starring role.

Mrs. Lawrence, 19-year-old daredevil from Rutland, Vt., sailed home seconds ahead of the field in the giant slalom last Thursday for America's first victory in the 1952 games.

The giant slalom was nearly three times as long as the girls had to go down only once. Today they must race twice down the ice.

Backing up Andy will be Katy Rudolph of Hayden, Colo., who was fifth in the giant slalom; Imogene Opton of Conway, N. H., who should find the shorter run more to her liking, and Jannette Burr of Seattle, Wash.

The U. S. has three girls in the running for points in the women's figure skating which ends tonight with the free skating. Americans usually excel in this department but unfortunately for them, it counts only 40 per cent toward the complicated points total.

British Girl Leads

Jeannette Altwegg, Great Britain's precision specialist, built up a big lead in the school figures which count 60 per cent and she can practically win the title by just putting in appearance tonight.

Tenley Albright of Newton Center, Mass., ranked second after Miss Altwegg going into the free style, and Sonya Klopper, 17-year-old North American champion from Brooklyn, was third. Virginia Baxter, a tiny blonde from Detroit, stood seventh with a chance to move into the scoring column.

While the girls finished their event the men figure skaters rest for 24 hours before tackling their free skating. It will be America's Dick Button against the field. The Harvard student built up his usual lead in school figures yesterday and his free skating is even better.

One event today that won't bring the Americans any points is the 50 kilometer (31.07 miles) cross-country ski race. All four Americans entered withdrew because they stood no chance to win. This one belongs to the Scandinavians and the likely winner is Miles Karlsson of Sweden who won it four years ago at St. Moritz.

The United States, Canada and Sweden hold the upper hand in the Olympic hockey tournament with four straight victories each. The U. S. won its first major test last night as it disposed of previously unbeaten Switzerland, 8-2. Canada defeated a good Czech team, 4-1.

Going into today's events Norway held a huge lead in the unofficial point standings with 94. Austria was second with 51 and the United States third with 34½.

Dressen Would Like Reese in Leadoff

Vero Beach, Fla., Feb. 20 (AP)—Manager Chuck Dressen toyed with a new Brooklyn batting order today as the first Dodger squad reported for spring training.

Still embarrassed by winter-long explanations of how the Brooks blew a 13½ game lead to the New York Giants, Dressen is determined to have a winner.

"I'd like to have Pee Wee Reese lead off," he said. "And Billy Cox hit second. If they can come up with the same kind of year as in '51 that ought to do the trick.

"Duke Snider would hit third, as usual, and Jackie Robinson fourth with Roy Campanella fifth. Then Andy Pafko, Gil Hodges and probably Carl Furillo.

Sarasota, Fla., Feb. 20 (AP)—Mel Parnell, the Boston Red Sox star righthand pitcher, was among the missing today when new Manager Lou Boudreau started spring training with a group of 17 flingers and three catchers. Parnell has yet to come to terms with General Manager Joe Cronin.

Jones Dairy Beats Potter Bros., 65-56

Hercules unloaded its seige guns against the hapless New Paltz quintet and came up with one of the biggest point totals in YMCA League history last night, a 116 to 81 victory.

The combined total of 197 points for two teams is believed to be an all-time YMCA record.

In the companion piece, Jones Dairy put together a 30-point third period to defeat Potter Bros., 65 to 56.

En route to their huge total, the Hercules cagers were clocked in quarter totals of 22-26-30-38. New Paltz, still seeking its first victory in the Y loop, played desperately with 26-29 in the second and third periods.

Annacone Hits 39

Although beaten, New Paltz furnished the individual star in Johnny Annacone who rimmed 39 points with 17 fields and five singletons.

Tom Morrissey led Hercules with 33 points; Wally Madajeski hit 29 and Ward Dunham had 20.

The Potter-Jones skirmish was close and hard fought until the Dairymen exploded with their 30-point third period. Both clubs tailed off in the stretch, Potter gaining a meagre 7-5 advantage.

Dan Schrader hooped 19 points to lead the Dairymen, with Smith and Farley each scoring 13. "Champ" Holstein and Big Jack Doyle scored 18 each for Potters.

Portland, Ore. — Cesar Brion, 198, Argentina, outpointed Joe Kahut, 188½, Woodburn, Ore., 10.

Economy Cagers Flatten Ridgers

Economy Construction of the YMCA League had the antidote to the high scoring Stone Ridge tandem of Jim Sickler and Paul Johnson—a couple of guys called Don Gardeski and Chris Rienzo.

While Johnson and Sickler accumulated 52 points up front last night in Stone Ridge, the Economy pair racked up 63 and got a 29-point lift from Frank Fiore to drub the Ridgers, 104 to 76.

Rienzo was the scoring leader with 39 points on 19 fields and a foul. Gardeski hit for 24 and Fiore corralled 14 fields and a singleton for 29.

Johnson, an amazing scorer, tried desperately with 34 points to save his club from its third straight setback. Sickler was "held" to 18 points and Fred Spongia hit with 14.

Stone Ridge played without the services of Big Gene Roosa, 6 foot 5 inch center.

Arizin Widens Lead Over Mikan

(By The Associated Press)

Paul Arizin, the Philadelphia Warrior's whiz kid, is showing no signs of wilting in his drive to end the five-year reign of Minneapolis' George Mikan as the top scorer in the National Basketball Association.

Arizin, who took over the lead from Big George last week, collected 28 points last night while Mikan netted 26 to pull 16 ahead of the Laker star in the scoring race. Arizin has 1,260 points to Mikan's 1,244.

The Phiadelphia sophomore scored ten field goals and eight free throws as the Warriors downed the Fort Wayne Pistons, 89-80. Mikan's figures were the reverse. He collected eight baskets and ten charity shots as the Lakers lost, 98-96, to the New York Knickerbockers.

Max Zaslofsky plunked in 23 points to lead the Knicks to their 16th straight victory at home. Vern Mikkelsen of the Lakers missed a long hook shot at the buzzer.

The victory enabled the Knicks to move within a half game of second place Boston in the Eastern division scramble. The Celtics dropped an 82-81 decision to the Indianapolis Olympians.

New York—Nils Rohlsson, Sweden, Lorne Main, Canada, defending champion Billy Talbert, New York and Don McNeill, Albertson, N. Y., advance to the quarter final round of the National Indoor tennis championships.

Joe 'Bush' Sangi's 631 Tops Male Keglers; Evelyn Gross Pounds 547 in Friendship

Joe "Bush" Sangi and Evelyn Gross, the Blonde Bomber, rolled the best triples in local bowling last night, Sangi cracking 163, 203, 265 for 631 in the Central Rec League, while Mrs. Gross edged Dot Flemings 547 to 542 for female honors in the Friendship League. She hit solos of 161, 204 and 182.

Robert "Giants" Tierney missed the coveted "600" circle by just a pin with 213-204-182-599 in the Booster League and Charlie Raible powered 205-161-165-531 in the Electrol Night Shift.

Other league leaders included Al Sonnenberg 187-138-119-444 in the Federation International; KiKi Smith, 193-137-136-466, in the Hercules Women and J. Kuehn, 174-173-191-538, in the Federation National. Gootch Markowitz (presumably Seymour) rattled the timbers for 202-202-200-604 in the Silver Palace.

Floyd Robinson Hits 571

Floyd Robinson's runnerup total in the Central Rec loop amounted to 203-207-571 and John Keizer posted 568. Ray Houghtaling had 538, Ronnie Mauro 225-538, Bill Pieper 528, Bill Lawrence 523, J. Provenzano 203-521, F. Bruno 519, R. Lawrence 517 and F. Bonacci 200-514. Emil Jordan had a 202.

Continuing her sensational scoring spree since the KWBA city tournament, Dot Flemings rolled 186-151-205-542 for second spot in the Friendship. Dot Rawding 513, Ev Dolson 510 and Chrissie Wilson 501 rounded out the Big Five.

Bertha Schaller's 207 was top single and she finished with 484. Also upper crust were Elsie Kubicek 478, Betty Bruck 478, Miriam Posner 473, Fran Hogan 472.

Andy Krom Rolls 561

Runnerup Andy Krom toppled 213-561 in the Booster and Al Lykes had 218-558 for other top-notch performances in the "cradle of bowling." John Schatzel's 554, Rudy Raymond 211-541, J. Ennis 207-533 continued the scoring spree. Al Hutton reeled off 532, George Houghtaling 521, Al Sabatino 519, Fred Hummel 516, Lorin Auchmoody 508, John Letus 503, John Gillen 507 and Ray Herrick 501.

Dave Mendel rapped 498, Jim Quigley 495, Don Keyser 210-495, Ed Wyant 203-492, Sam Avnet 488 and Don Gavis 485.

Joe Ruzzo trailed Charlie Raible in the Electrol with 514 and C. Brocco posted 496. B. Dederick had 486 and J. Bartsch 482.

F. Tackella's 437 was second best in the Federation International. N. Swibold pounded 415, E. Wolven 413 and F. Mollenhauer 411. Howard Minard's 225-523 was in the place spot in the National. H. Ferguson hit 200-520; Stan Hankinson 222-502; Ferd Short 495; Ralph Halbert 477 and D. Wood 470.

Mary Diamond's 447 was second to KiKi Smith in the Hercules Women and Jean Fatum had 445. Rita Amarello 442, Pat Warner 427, Helen Buchholtz 418, Louise Jordan 413 and Phyllis Wolff 410 rounded out the upper bracket.

Ray Roux near-missed with 237-596 in the Silver Palace and Ralph Mayone pounded 571. Vince Noble 215-564 and Earl Smedes 220-545, Roy Weber 208-545, Percy Slover 539, Paul Khederian 202-532, Elwood Robinson 203-523 were upper bracket.

Schrowang Next For Guldenstern

Joe Schrowang of Kingston and Bill Guldenstern of Catskill open a 10-game singles match for $100 on Thursday at 9 p. m. at the Ferraro Bowlodrome. Five games will be rolled in Kingston and five at the Catskill Bowling Center.

Guldenstern defeated Phil Versace of Poughkeepsie by 93 pins in an 8-game match here last Saturday.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Bob Laskowitz, the adopted son of the Fallsburg Central Comets of the DUSO League, passed the 1000-mark in points scored when he unloaded 24 against Monticello on Friday. This could be an all-time career record for the Fallsburgh jump shot artist but cannot be verified until a check is made of the career performances of Kingston's Ed Weaver and Ronnie Scheffel and Newburgh's Dick Tyler.

● Flotsam and Jetsam:

Howard Braun reports he is willing to lay $1,000 on the line for a 40-game test with Morris Cramer of Cohoes and Cramer nods in approval. Cy's Diners dropped two games to the Ruzzo Bowlatorium Sunday but the one victory was enough to give them their third straight Hudson Valley League pennant, a new record for the circuit. Kingston has had only two winners—Van Kleeck's and Jones Dairy. Much of the credit for the unusual success of the Kingston High School ski team goes to Carl Cantrell, the Belleayre Mountain instructor where the kids learned their fundamentals and Miss Pat Nalton, the faculty ski adviser who was in charge of the team during the Lake Placid tournament. Miss Nalton was captain of the 1951 St. Lawrence University girls team and won four varsity letters in the sport. Meanwhile, Larry Bogert is as enthusiastic about the KHS ski success as anybody we know. He had particularly high praise for Lewis Kuntz, who achieved stardom in one season.

The all-time Kingston women's doubles record of 1249 posted by Dot Flemings and Adabelle Markle in the recent KWBA looks staggering when compared with the 1089 Poughkeepsie all-time high set a few days ago by Gilberta Anderson and Pat Hegnauer. Mrs. Anderson's 1591 copped the Class A all-events crown. The total was well off the 1669 and 1668 pace set by Rose Schatzel and Dot Flemings. Arthur Nelbach, who holds many of the interscholastic mile records in the Hudson valley, set a new standard for the three-mile race at Newark Armory this week. Nelbach, who was graduated from Newburgh Free Academy four years ago, ran the three-mile race in the fine time of 15:02.5. He was anchor man for Seton Hall's two-mile relay team in the National AAU championships at Madison Square Garden. Local boxing fans sorry to see Harry Smith, the former Berkshire Buzzsaw, lose in the finals of the New York Golden Gloves tournament. New York state tops the nation with 8,523 accredited bowling alleys and 970 establishments, according to American Bowling Congress figures. Illinois is second with 6,396 beds and 673 emporiums. How about that Betty Ann Bruck knocking off 44 points in the CYO girls basketball finals?

● Of Men and Mice:

Eddie Roux still carrying the torch for the Boston Red Sox, but the other Tommy's Tavern habitues insist they are forgetting baseball this year and taking up fishing in a serious way under the able guidance of Frank Gardeski, the fish and game expert of the group. Most significant change in a new state law would be to change the age of issuing pistol permits from 16 to 21. Another regulation would permit town boards to regulate speed and operation of boats within 1500 feet of shore and to regulate size and H.P. of inboard and outboard motors.

BULLETIN, Palm Beach, Fla.—John Van Gonsic and Van Haver defeated Ed Remmert and Judge Harry Schirick, 1-up, in 18 holes. No comments, no alibis; one busted sacroiliac!

Personal Note: Lou Schafer, Y physical director, is attending a New York State Camp Convention of YMCAs for three days in Schenectady.

What do tennis stars do for winter sports activity? Ed Lacey and Herb Gertner are handball addicts; Herb DeKay races back and forth between Kingston and Poughkeepsie; Joe Scott and N. Jansen Fowler play badminton and volley ball and Chet Fox plays volleyball and referees basketball once a week in Woodstock. And what does Irving (Laddie" Wheateroft do?

Frank Hill has been head track coach at Northwestern since 1921, but nobody knows him by first name. At the start of a cross-country race shortly after his arrival at Evanston, one if his runners came to him for final instructions.

"My only advice to you," he said, "is hurry back."

Andrea Lawrence Captures Second Olympic Medal

Oslo, Feb. 20 (AP)—America's 19-year-old skiing housewife, Mrs. Andrea Mead Lawrence of Rutland, Vt., sailed to her second gold medal of the winter Olympic games today when she recovered from a mad spill and staged a spectacular comeback to win the women's slalom ski race.

The flying New Englander captured the women's giant slalom to send the United States off to a roaring start on the opening day of the carnival last Thursday. Today's test was shorter but more difficult with more control gates.

Mrs. Lawrence took too daring a chance as she cut through one of the 29 gates on her opening run down the steep, treacherous Rodkleiva course. She skidded and fell but bounced back to her feet to finish the run in one minute, 7.2 seconds.

This placed her fourth in the standings behind Ossi Reichert of Germany, Celina Seghi of Italy and Madeleine Berthod of Switzerland.

But the young veteran, an Olympic competitor at 15, on the second try, swept flawlessly and recklessly down the 508-yard course which drops 196 yards from its peak. She was timed in an amazing one minute 3.4 seconds. It was an effort no one else could match and gave her a clocking of 2:10.6.

Miss Reichert, first run leader in 1:06 flat, sped down the course in 1:05.4 on her next effort but this was good enough only for second place with 2:11.4. Mrs. Annie Marie Buchner, another German, was third with 2:13.3.

Imogene Opton, 19-year-old co-ed from North Conway, N. H., surprised by taking fifth place, giving the United States 12 points for the event. This broke a three-day scoring famine for the U. S.

Finn Wins Cross Country

Earlier a 26-year-old, indefatigable Finn woodchopper named Veikko Hakulinen won the 50-kilometer Olympic cross country ski race in three hours, 33 minutes and 33 seconds.

America's four ski racers, badly beaten in the shorter 18-kilometer Monday, decided not to try to match the hardy Scandinavians in this exhausting marathon and so withdrew.

Hakulinen slogged home, legweary and gaunt-faced, four minutes and 38 seconds ahead of a fellow countryman, Eero Kolehmainen. It was Finland's first gold medal of the current games.

Norway took third and fourth places to increase her long lead for unofficial team honors. The Norse now have 101 points and seem almost unreachable with more than half of the championships completed.

Waterboys Stop Ridgers, 48-36

The Waterboys took the high scoring Stone Ridge quintet off the productive Stone Ridge boards and whacked them 48 to 36 in a defensive battle, last night at the Wiltwyck court in Esopus.

The locals staged a big third period spurt to rack up their fifth straight victory.

While Ed Van Loan and Ken Roos controlled the backboards, Vince Ward took high scoring honors away from the Paul Johnson and Jim Sickler, the Stone Ridge terrors, with 22 points.

Vince Van Bramer and Bob Cullum shared 21 points for the winners. Jim Sickler led the Royals with 15 points and Paul Johnson added 12.

The Royals led 14-11 at the quarter and 20-17 at the half but a 24-point third period sent the Waterboys ahead to stay. In the final period they restricted the Ridgers to two points.

USING A STAKE FOR TRAPPED MUSKRATS

Sports of the Day

(IN BRIEF)
(By The Associated Press)

General

New York—District Attorney Frank Hogan said that Walter Hirsch, captain of the 1950-51 Kentucky basketball team, wanted as a material witness in the college gambling scandal, had agreed to come to New York.

Oslo, Norway—Hjalmar Andersen of Norway clipped 11.6 seconds off his own world 10,000 meter speed skating record and became the first to win three gold medal triumphs on consecutive days in the winter Olympics.

Golf

Orlando, Fla.—Sam Snead and Betty MacKinnon fired a seven under par 64 to capture medalist honors in the 11th annual International Mixed Two-Ball Golf Tournament.

St. Augustine, Fla. — Harvie Ward, Tarboro, N. C., shot a five under par 67 to take medalist honors in the tournament of golf club champions.

Major league players signed:

St. Louis Browns—Pitcher Vern Taylor.

New York Yankees—Pitchers Ostrowski, Tom Morgan and Bill Miller.

Philadelphia Phillies — Outfielder Del Ennis.

Detroit—Outfielder Vic Wertz.

Philadelphia Athletics — Outfielders Dave Philley and Keith Thomas.

Racing

Arcadia, Calif.—Boner ($5.20) won this six-furlong feature at Santa Anita in 1:11 1/5.

Loos Is Elected

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—Alfred R. Loos, 43, of Blauvelt, N. Y., has been elected unanimously as chairman of the State Board of Parole to succeed the late Frederick A. Moran, of Albany. Loos had been appointed a board member Jan. 14 by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to fill the unexpired term of Edward J. Donovan, of Mount Kisco, now commissioner of correction. The parole board elected Loos chairman yesterday at a meeting held in the state office building here. The State Senate previously had confirmed the appointment of Loos to the board.

Sues Dog's Owner

Los Angeles, Feb. 20 (AP)—Claiming she was bowled over by a hit and run dog, Mrs. Grace Kay, 74, has sued the dog's owner for $10,986 damages. The pooch, a boxer named Bart, is due in court later to defend himself. His mistress, Mrs. Helen Weiser, denied yesterday that Bart could have been so ungentlemanly.

Madajeski's Deuces Win for Hercules

Wally Madajeski's two baskets in overtime enabled the Hercules Powderman of the YMCA League to edge the Esopus Firemen, 79-75, Monday night at Esopus.

The clubs were deadlocked 73-73 at regulation time, Hercules having overcome a four-point Esopus lead with a 16-12 bulge in the stretch. They led 42-39 at the half but the Firemen moved ahead with a 22-15 edge in the third period.

Relics Bring $185,253

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—Relics of a one-time country lawyer sold for $185,253 here yesterday. The lawyer was Abraham Lincoln. The 392 relics were among 842 items in the famed Lincoln collection of the late Oliver R. Barrett of Chicago, on auction sale yesterday and today at Parke-Bernet Galleries. The sales told the story of Lincoln the man, troubled by self-doubts, quick in wit, rich in prophesy. "How miserably things seem arranged in this world," he wrote. "If we have no friends, we have no pleasure; if we have them, we are soon to lose them . . ."

Woman Accuses Veteran

New York, Feb. 20 (AP) — The estranged wife of a 27-year-old Korean war veteran has accused him of kidnaping their three-year-old son from her Bronx apartment. A 13-state police alarm was sent out by authorities here for air force Staff Sgt. Francis Cronan. Police said he was "assigned" to the U. S. Naval Hospital at Philadelphia, but did not indicate whether he was a patient there.

Safe Anchorage Made

New York, Feb. 20 (AP) — The coast guard reported today the disabled freighter Helen Stevenson had made a safe anchorage off Bermuda after wallowing in rough seas with her main deck cracked. The 7,266-ton ship, with 35 aboard, was reported to have reached Bermuda late last night.

Is a man progressive or conservative when he wears last year's clothes, drives this year's car and lives on next year's income?

Welles Is Elected

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—Former Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles has been elected president of Freedom House to succeed the late Robert P. Patterson. Patterson, former secretary of war, was killed last month in a plane crash at Elizabeth, N. J. Welles was elected yesterday to the post Patterson had held three years. Freedom House is a private organization formed in 1941 with the aim of advancing the ideals of freedom.

Actor Dies on Coast

Santa Barbara, Calif., Feb. 20 (AP)—Death has ended the career of Lawrence Grant, 82, one of the top stage and screen actors of a bygone era. The British-born player, who got his start in English musicales and came here in 1908 with a touring stage company, succumbed yesterday after a long illness.

Joe 'Bush' Sangi's 631 Tops Male Keglers; Evelyn Gross Pounds 547 in Friendship

Joe "Bush" Sangi and Evelyn Gross, the Blonde Bomber, rolled the best triples in local bowling last night, Sangi cracking 163, 203, 265 for 631 in the Central Rec League, while Mrs. Gross edged Dot Flemings 547 to 542 for female honors in the Friendship League. She hit solos of 161, 204 and 182.

Robert "Glants" Tierney missed the coveted "600" circle by just a pin with 213-204-182-599 in the Booster League and Charlie Raible powered 205-161-165-531 in the Electrol Night Shift.

Other league leaders included Al Sonnenberg 187-138-119-444 in the Federation International; KiKi Smith, 193-137-136-466, in the Hercules Women and J. Kuehn, 174-173-191-538, in the Federation National. Gootch Markowitz (presumably Seymour) rattled the timbers for 202-202-200-604 in the Silver Palace.

Floyd Robinson Hits 571

Floyd Robinson's runnerup total in the Central Rec loop amounted to 203-207-571 and John Keizer posted 568. Ray Houghtaling had 538, Ronnie Mauro 225-538, Bill Pieper 528, Bill Lawrence 523, J. Provenzano 203-521, F. Bruno 519, R. Lawrence 517 and F. Bonacci 200-514. Emil Jordan had a 202.

Continuing her sensational scoring spree since the KWBA city tournament, Dot Flemings rolled 186-151-205-542 for second spot in the Friendship. Dot Rawding 513, Ev Dolson 510 and Chrissie Wilson 501 rounded out the Big Five.

Bertha Schaller's 207 was top single and she finished with 484. Also upper crust were Elsie Kubicek 478, Betty Bruck 478, Miriam Posner 473, Fran Hogan 472.

Andy Krom Rolls 561

Runnerup Andy Krom toppled 213-561 in the Booster and Al Lykes had 218-558 for other top-notch performances in the "cradle of bowling." John Schatzel's 554, Rudy Raymond 211-541, J. Ennis 207-533 continued the scoring spree. Al Hutton reeled off 532, George Houghtaling 521, Al Sabatino 519, Fred Hummel 516, Lorin Auchmoody 508, John Letus 503, John Gillen 507 and Ray Herrick 501.

Dave Mendel rapped 498, Jim Quigley 495, Don Keyser 210-495, Ed Wyant 203-492, Sam Avnet 488 and Don Gavis 485.

Joe Ruzzo trailed Charlie Raible in the Electrol with 514 and C. Brocco posted 496. B. Dederick had 486 and J. Bartsch 482.

F. Tackella's 437 was second best in the Federation International. N. Swibold pounded 415, E. Wolven 413 and F. Mollenhauer 411. Howard Minard's 225-523 was in the place spot in the National. H. Ferguson hit 200-520; Stan Hankinson 222-502; Ferd Short 495; Ralph Halbert 477 and D. Wood 470.

Mary Diamond's 447 was second to KiKi Smith in the Hercules Women and Jean Fatum had 445. Rita Amarello 442, Pat Warner 427, Helen Buchholtz 418, Louise Jordan 413 and Phyllis Wolff 410 rounded out the upper bracket.

Ray Roux near-missed with 237-596 in the Silver Palace and Ralph Mayone pounded 571. Vince Noble 215-564 and Earl Smedes 220-545, Roy Weber 208-545, Percy Slover 539, Paul Khederian 202-532, Elwood Robinson 203-523 were upper bracket.

Schrowang Next For Guldenstern

Joe Schrowang of Kingston and Bill Guldenstern of Catskill open a 10-game singles match for $100 on Thursday at 9 p. m. at the Ferraro Bowlodrome. Five games will be rolled in Kingston and five at the Catskill Bowling Center.

Guldenstern defeated Phil Versace of Poughkeepsie by 93 pins in an 8-game match here last Saturday.

Bob Laskowitz, the adopted son of the Fallsburg Central Comets of the DUSO League, passed the 1000-mark in points scored when he unloaded 24 against Monticello on Friday. This could be an all-time career record for the Fallsburgh jump shot artist but cannot be verified until a check is made of the career performances of Kingston's Ed Weaver and Ronnie Scheffel and Newburgh's Dick Tyler.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Howard Braun reports he is willing to lay $1,000 on the line for a 40-game test with Morris Cramer of Cohoes and Cramer nods in approval. Cy's Diners dropped two games to the Ruzzo Bowlatorium Sunday but the one victory was enough to give them their third straight Hudson Valley League pennant, a new record for the circuit. Kingston has had only two winners—Van Kleeck's and Jones Dairy. Much of the credit for the unusual success of the Kingston High School ski team goes to Carl Cantrell, the Belleayre Mountain instructor where the kids learned their fundamentals and Miss Pat Nalton, the faculty ski adviser who was in charge of the team during the Lake Placid tournament. Miss Nalton was captain of the 1951 St. Lawrence University girls team and won four varsity letters in the sport. Meanwhile, Larry Bogert is as enthusiastic about the KHS ski success as anybody we know. He had particularly high praise for Lewis Kuntz, who achieved stardom in one season.

The all-time Kingston women's doubles record of 1249 posted by Dot Flemings and Adabelle Markle in the recent KWBA looks staggering when compared with the 1089 Poughkeepsie all-time high set a few days ago by Gilberta Anderson and Pat Hegnauer. Mrs. Anderson's 1591 copped the Class A all-events crown. The total was well off the 1669 and 1668 pace set by Rose Schatzel and Dot Flemings. Arthur Nelbach, who holds many of the interscholastic mile records in the Hudson valley, set a new standard for the three-mile race at Newark Armory this week. Nelbach, who was graduated from Newburgh Free Academy four years ago, ran the three-mile race in the fine time of 15:02.5. He was anchor man for Seton Hall's two-mile relay team in the National AAU championships at Madison Square Garden. Local boxing fans sorry to see Harry Smith, the former Berkshire Buzzsaw, lose in the finals of the New York Golden Gloves tournament. New York state tops the nation with 8,523 accredited bowling alleys and 970 establishments, according to American Bowling Congress figures. Illinois is second with 6,396 beds and 673 emporiums. How about that Betty Ann Bruck knocking off 44 points in the CYO girls basketball finals?

• Of Men and Mice:

Eddie Roux still carrying the torch for the Boston Red Sox, but the other Tommy's Tavern habituees insist they are forgetting baseball this year and taking up fishing in a serious way under the able guidance of Frank Gardeski, the fish and game expert of the group. Most significant change in a new state law would be to change the age of issuing pistol permits from 16 to 21. Another regulation would permit town boards to regulate speed and operation of boats within 1500 feet of shore and to regulate size and H.P. of inboard and outboard motors.

BULLETIN, Palm Beach, Fla.—John Van Gonsic and Van Haver defeated Ed Remmert and Judge Harry Schirick, 1-up, in 18 holes. No comments, no alibis; one busted sacroiliac!

Personal Note: Lou Schafer, Y physical director, is attending a New York State Camp Convention of YMCAs for three days in Schenectady.

What do tennis stars do for winter sports activity? Ed Lacey and Herb Gertner are handball addicts; Herb DeKay races back and forth between Kingston and Poughkeepsie; Joe Scott and N. Jansen Fowler play badminton and volley ball and Chet Fox plays volleyball and referees basketball once a week in Woodstock. And what does Irving "Laddie" Wheateroft do?

Frank Hill has been head track coach at Northwestern since 1921, but nobody knows him by first name. At the start of a cross-country race shortly after his arrival at Evanston, one if his runners came to him for final instructions.

"My only advice to you," he said, "is hurry back."

The Wildcat mentor has been called Hurry Back Hill since.

Andrea Lawrence Captures Second Olympic Medal

Oslo, Feb. 20 (AP)—America's 19-year-old skiing housewife, Mrs. Andrea Mead Lawrence of Rutland, Vt., sailed to her second gold medal of the winter Olympic games today when she recovered from a mad spill and staged a spectacular comeback to win the women's slalom ski race.

The flying New Englander captured the women's giant slalom to send the United States off to a roaring start on the opening day of the carnival last Thursday. Today's test was shorter but more difficult with more control gates.

Mrs. Lawrence took too daring a chance as she cut through one of the 29 gates on her opening run down the steep, treacherous Rodkleiva course. She skidded and fell but bounced back to her feet to finish the run in one minute, 7.2 seconds.

This placed her fourth in the standings behind Ossi Reichert of Germany, Celina Seghi of Italy and Madeleine Berthod of Switzerland.

But the young veteran, an Olympic competitor at 15, on the second try, swept flawlessly and recklessly down the 508-yard course which drops 196 yards from its peak. She was timed in an amazing one minute 3.4 seconds. It was an effort no one else could match and gave her a clocking of 2:10.6.

Miss Reichert, first run leader in 1:06 flat, sped down the course in 1:05.4 on her next effort but this was good enough only for second place with 2:11.4. Mrs. Annie Marie Buchner, another German, was third with 2:13.3.

Imogene Opton, 19-year-old co-ed from North Conway, N. H., surprised by taking fifth place, giving the United States 12 points for the event. This broke a three-day scoring famine for the U. S.

Finn Wins Cross Country

Earlier a 26-year-old, indefatigable Finn woodchopper named Veikko Hakulinen won the 50-kilometer Olympic cross country ski race in three hours, 33 minutes and 33 seconds.

America's four ski racers, badly beaten in the shorter 18-kilometer Monday, decided not to try to match the hardy Scandinavians in this exhausting marathon and so withdrew.

Hakulinen slogged home, legweary and gaunt-faced, four minutes and 38 seconds ahead of a fellow countryman, Eero Kolehmainen. It was Finland's first gold medal of the current games.

Norway took third and fourth places to increase her long lead for unofficial team honors. The Norse now have 101 points and seem almost unreachable with more than half of the championships completed.

Waterboys Stop Ridgers, 48-36

The Waterboys took the high scoring Stone Ridge quintet off the productive Stone Ridge boards and whacked them 48 to 36 in a defensive battle, last night at the Wiltwyck court in Esopus.

The locals staged a big third period spurt to rack up their fifth straight victory.

While Ed Van Loan and Ken Roos controlled the backboards, Vince Ward took high scoring honors away from the Paul Johnson and Jim Sickler, the Stone Ridge terrors, with 22 points.

Vince Van Bramer and Bob Cullum shared 21 points for the winners. Jim Sickler led the Royals with 15 points and Paul Johnson added 12.

The Royals led 14-11 at the quarter and 20-17 at the half but a 24-point third period sent the Waterboys ahead to stay. In the final period they restricted the Ridgers to two points.

The boxscore:

USING A STAKE FOR TRAPPED MUSKRATS

Sports of the Day

(IN BRIEF)
(By The Associated Press)

General

New York—District Attorney Frank Hogan said that Walter Hirsch, captain of the 1950-51 Kentucky basketball team, wanted as a material witness in the college gambling scandal, had agreed to come to New York.

Oslo, Norway—Hjalmar Andersen of Norway clipped 11.6 seconds off his own world 10,000 meter speed skating record and became the first to win three gold medal triumphs on consecutive days in the winter Olympics.

Golf

Orlando, Fla.—Sam Snead and Betty MacKinnon fired a seven under par 64 to capture medalist honors in the 11th annual International Mixed Two-Ball Golf Tournament.

St. Augustine, Fla. — Harvie Ward, Tarboro, N. C., shot a five under par 67 to take medalist honors in the tournament of golf club champions.

Major league players signed:

St. Louis Browns—Pitcher Vern Taylor.

New York Yankees—Pitchers Ostrowski, Tom Morgan and Bill Miller.

Philadelphia Phillies — Outfielder Del Ennis.

Detroit—Outfielder Vic Wertz.

Philadelphia Athletics — Outfielders Dave Philley and Keith Thomas.

Racing

Arcadia, Calif.—Boner ($5.20) won this six-furlong feature at Santa Anita in 1:11 1/5.

Loos Is Elected

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—Alfred R. Loos, 43, of Blauvelt, N. Y., has been elected unanimously as chairman of the State Board of Parole to succeed the late Frederick A. Moran, of Albany. Loos had been appointed a board member Jan. 14 by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to fill the unexpired term of Edward J. Donovan, of Mount Kisco, now commissioner of correction. The parole board elected Loos chairman yesterday at a meeting held in the state office building here. The State Senate previously had confirmed the appointment of Loos to the board.

Sues Dog's Owner

Los Angeles, Feb. 20 (AP)—Claiming she was bowled over by a hit and run dog, Mrs. Grace Kay, 74, has sued the dog's owner for $10,986 damages. The pooch, a boxer named Bart, is due in court later to defend himself. His mistress, Mrs. Helen Weiser, denied yesterday that Bart could have been so ungentlemanly.

Madajeski's Deuces Win for Hercules

Wally Madajeski's two baskets in overtime enabled the Hercules Powderman of the YMCA League to edge the Esopus Firemen, 79-75, Monday night at Esopus.

The clubs were deadlocked 73-73 at regulation time, Hercules having overcome a four-point Esopus lead with a 16-12 bulge in the stretch. They led 42-39 at the half but the Firemen moved ahead with a 22-15 edge in the third period.

Madajeski, who was the game's individual scoring leader, rimmed his two baskets and Charlie Farley added another for the winners. Big Jim Ferraro picked up the only Hercules basket in the overtime.

Ferraro maintained his 20-plus average of recent games with a dozen fields and two singletons for 26 markers. Tom Morrissey hooped 24 for the winners.

The boxscore:

Relics Bring $185,253

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—Relics of a one-time country lawyer sold for $185,253 here yesterday. The lawyer was Abraham Lincoln. The 392 relics were among 842 items in the famed Lincoln collection of the late Oliver R. Barrett of Chicago, on auction sale yesterday and today at Parke-Bernet Galleries. The sales told the story of Lincoln the man, troubled by self-doubts, quick in wit, rich in prophesy. "How miserably things seem arranged in this world," he wrote. "If we have no friends, we have no pleasure; if we have them, we are soon to lose them . . ."

Woman Accuses Veteran

New York, Feb. 20 (AP) — The estranged wife of a 27-year-old Korean war veteran has accused him of kidnaping their three-year-old son from her Bronx apartment. A 13-state police alarm was sent out by authorities here for air force Staff Sgt. Francis Cronan. Police said he was "assigned" to the U. S. Naval Hospital at Philadelphia, but did not indicate whether he was a patient there.

Safe Anchorage Made

New York, Feb. 20 (AP) — The coast guard reported today the disabled freighter Helen Stevenson had made a safe anchorage off Bermuda after wallowing in rough seas with her main deck cracked. The 7,266-ton ship, with 35 aboard, was reported to have reached Bermuda late last night.

Is a man progressive or conservative when he wears last year's clothes, drives this year's car and lives on next year's income?

Welles Is Elected

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—Former Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles has been elected president of Freedom House to succeed the late Robert P. Patterson, Patterson, former secretary of war, was killed last month in a plane crash at Elizabeth, N. J. Welles was elected yesterday to the post Patterson had held three years. Freedom House is a private organization formed in 1941 with the aim of advancing the ideals of freedom.

Actor Dies on Coast

Santa Barbara, Calif., Feb. 20 (AP)—Death has ended the career of Lawrence Grant, 82, one of the top stage and screen actors of a bygone era. The British-born player, who got his start in English musicales and came here in 1908 with a touring stage company, succumbed yesterday after a long illness.

Ethel Adams Art Work Popular All Over the Country

Woodstock, Feb. 20 — Ethel Adams is a Woodstock artist whose work is confined neither to an art gallery, nor between the pages of a book. In three years she has gained a unique place for herself in this village as the creator of a series of picture postcards and greeting cards depicting familiar village scenes. Her sketches are small, deftly simple in line and composition, but they are nevertheless highly representative and since she began making them, they have found their way to many corners of the United States and Europe.

Mrs. Adams, who recently moved to a spacious apartment overlooking the village green, spoke enthusiastically the other afternoon of her new project. She plans next week to start work on a new series of cards, a group which will include scenes of historic landmarks and buildings in Kingston, as a part of this art colony's participation in the tercentenary celebration. Mrs. Terwilliger, of the Kingston Museum, has assisted Mrs. Adams in planning the project, offering suggestions as to places of historic interest for possible material for postcards and souvenir notepaper.

Encourages Artist

Mrs. Adams began her card illustration four years ago when she made the sketch of the Woodstock post office and Cousins buildings, before the block was remodelled recently. The sketch came to the attention of Mollie Higgins Smith, whose keen eye for individual style in an artist was arrested by the special flavor inherent in Mrs. Adams drawings. Mrs. Smith arranged for the sketch to be used by the Cousins for their Christmas card, and she urged Ethel Adams to make more of the charming drawings. Mrs. Adams had recently returned from a painting trip to Marblehead, Mass., actually the first time in her life she had undertaken any serious painting. A one-woman show of her paintings and drawings followed at Mollie Smith's small gallery at the top of the flight of stairs next to the post office.

Feature Brings Calls

Once she had started to rove the village, pen and sketch pad in hand, Mrs. Adams produced in quick succession her now-well-known Christmas card of the village green, and the Willow Methodist Church, both of which have been purchased for the American Artists series, and a drawing of Deanies restaurant.

Last April a small feature on her work which appeared in House Beautiful, illustrated with the sketch of Deanies and a drawing of the home of Nina Bull, brought her orders from all over the United States, and initiated her next venture—drawings of private homes for special cards. As a result she has sketched homes, doorways and vistas in Illinois, Texas, Georgia, New Jersey and Michigan.

Difficult Work

"It was quite a problem," recalled Mrs. Adams, "to catch her likeness and also put in the details of the books as well in so small an area."

One of the particular elements of Mrs. Adams sketches which lend an especial charm, are the figures with which they are peopled, the nicely grouped worshippers, walking up the path of the Willow Church, the spinning carefree little figures on the skating rink at the Woodstock Recreation Field, and the cluster of shoppers at the Saturday morning summer Market Fair.

Mrs. Adams has pictured a number of well-known Woodstock homes and those in the near vicinity which have been used as the owners Christmas greeting cards—the residences of Dr. and Mrs. Hans J. Cohn, Nina Bull, Douglas Rattray, of Port Ewen and Mrs. Frederica Milne. She reproduced an exquisite colonial fan doorway for a home owner in Illinois.

Ordinarily a pen and ink technique produces a somewhat hard brittle effect. Mrs. Adams, however, has used the medium to achieve a quality of atmosphere and is yet readily reproducible. To gain the effect she uses a fine quality of vellum parchment tracing paper, and when color is added to the pen and ink line drawing, she works in pastel rather than watercolor. The result is a fresh, sparkling design. That they have continued to sell out in gift shops in the village is evidence of their eye-catching appeal as well.

Mrs. Adams admits that she had "only dabbled at painting over the years" while raising her daughter Barbara, who until her only family claimed her attention was stage manager for George Kaufmann. A Canadian by birth, Mrs. Adams first came to Woodstock in 1921, and returned here in 1938 to make her permanent home in the village.

Another Series Due in Crafts

Woodstock, Feb. 20—The Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen will launch the second series of lessons in vocational crafts under the direction of the State Division of Industrial Education starting February 27 and 28.

On Tuesday evenings a class in applied design and experimentation for the crafts will meet. A second class in decorative techniques is scheduled for Thursday evenings. In this class alternate meetings will be devoted to demonstrations of stenciling, metalwork, jewelry, enameling and weaving, each given by an expert in the field. Dick Chambers will teach both the classes. Each course will include ten lessons with a fee of $5, plus cost of materials. The small tuition fees are made possible through the Guild's non-profit policy. Class hours are 7 to 9:40 p. m.

There is a waiting list for the weaving class taught by Besse Stowall, and persons interested are advised to leave applications for this class with Mrs. Wangler at the Guild.

Pepers Win

Woodstock, Feb. 20—In a special match at the Ruzzo Bowlatorium, Saturday night, Peper's Garage of Woodstock scored 2549 pins over Chez Emile, of Kingston which made 2362 pins. Individual scores for Chez Emile were: Auchmoody 160-167-153, total 480; Johnson 182-148-153, total 483; Jordan 186-148-141, total 475; Lawrence 160-181-166, total 507; Houghtaling 131-135-151, total 417. Individual scores for Peper's were: J. Holdridge 162-214-173, total 549; O. Morrell 211-145-154, total 510; C. Harder 161-150-170, total 481; C. Nicponski 155-116-120, total 391; V. Busch 199-158-177, total 534, with a total handicap of 84.

To Talk on Power

Woodstock, Feb. 20—The Woodstock Masonic Square Club will meet Wednesday, at 8 p. m. at the club rooms above Houst's. R. Strickland of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company will speak on the subject of More Power from Niagara.

Varsity to Meet Jones Dairy in Second Game

Woodstock, Feb. 20—The Woodstock Varsity beat Harry's Angel's of Kingston, on the Woodstock court last Friday night, 84 to 78. To date the Woodstock Varsity has chalked up 18 victories out of 21 games played. High scorer for Woodstock was Kleine with 32 points, with Waterous following with 19. For Harry's Angels, Hampton was high with 18 points. Kleine had one of his best nights of the year and in addition to the 32 points scored, for the first time he made all of the eight foul shots taken. The team averaged about 70 per cent of their shots and also played one of their best games of the year.

In the Jayvee game on the same night, Woodstock won by a slight margin over St. Joseph's, 37 to 35. The St. Joseph's team led all the way through up to the last two minutes of play. Joe Hilton was high with 10 points and Waterous next with nine. Graney was high with 15 points for St. Joseph's.

The Varsity will play Jones Dairy Friday night at Woodstock, with games beginning at 7:30 p. m. Jones Dairy is one of the two teams which have defeated Woodstock, the last being 64 to 62, and will play a return game Friday.

Coach Walter Van Wagenen has announced that for the next two or three weeks there will be no Tuesday night basketball games.

Lutherans Lose Two

VALLEY FORGE: Inspiration for Today

By Jay Heavilin and Ralph Lane

Main Street, Woodstock

Main Street, Woodstock, drawing by Ethel Adams for a Christmas card several years ago for Mr. and Mrs. Karl Cousins.

President Goes to Fire

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—President Truman went to a fire yesterday in his own backyard. The blaze, cause undetermined, wrecked a storage shack on the White House grounds. The executive mansion was not endangered. The President walked the half block or so from his office to watch firemen quickly douse the flames. The shack was built by workmen remodeling the White House. The Trumans live across the street at Blair House pending completion of the five million dollar job.

So He Sued City

Los Angeles, Feb. 20 (AP)—The way George Brown tells it, he was driving down a street last Jan. 7 when his car hit a hole in the street. Result: A tire blew out. He caught a cold while changing it. He had to pay $5 for a cold shot. He missed a day's pay, $15.84. He had to pay $53.76 for damage to his car. Brown sued the city yesterday for $74.60.

Probable Date Given

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—The fall primary election this year probably will be held on August 19. Two Republican legislative leaders introduced bills yesterday fixing that date. They were Senator Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and Assemblyman D. Mallory Stephens of Brewster, head of the ways and means committee. No change was proposed in registration dates. They will be Oct. 6-11 inclusive, in New York city and Westchester county, Oct. 3 and 4 and 10 and 11 in other communities of 5,000 or more population, and Oct. 4 and 11 in those areas where personal registration is not required. The spring primary will be April 22, when presidential convention delegates will be chosen.

Boost for Bob

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—Senator Stanley J. Bauer thinks state boxing czar Bob Christenberry deserves a pay raise because "the guy is doing a tremendous job." The Buffalo Republican introduced a bill yesterday to raise the salary of the chairman of the State Boxing Commission from $9,378 to $12,000 a year.

And the rabble of trashy mail-order colonels, broadcasters and gutless Reds who never had the courage to join the party but followed the traitorous line for years under Roosevelt, is not a comfort. Eisenhower knows the character of the fellow-travelers on his bandwagon back home. Why do they want him for President? Anyone can understand why the rebel Texas Democrats want him. But why do so many artful battle-dodgers and New Dealers want a man who only recently declared himself to be a Republican?

Eisenhower's supporters include the New York Herald Tribune China-boy Luce's pidgin-gullah weekly called "Time." General Lucius D. Clay, who fell heir to the tragedy during the Red blockade, reminds us that the Herald Tribune said the Yalta betrayal was "another great proof of allied unity, strength and power of decision." He recalls that China-boy Henly Luce allee samee tellee 'melican people "all doubts about the Big Three's ability to cooperate in peace as well as in war seem now to have been swept away."

Ethel Adams Art Work Popular All Over the Country

Woodstock, Feb. 20 — Ethel Adams is a Woodstock artist whose work is confined neither to an art gallery, nor between the pages of a book. In three years she has gained a unique place for herself in this village as the creator of a series of picture postcards and greeting cards depicting familiar village scenes. Her sketches are small, deftly simple in line and composition, but they are nevertheless highly representative and since she began making them, they have found their way to many corners of the United States and Europe.

Mrs. Adams, who recently moved to a spacious apartment overlooking the village green, spoke enthusiastically the other afternoon of her new project. She plans next week to start work on a new series of cards, a group which will include scenes of historic landmarks and buildings in Kingston, as a part of this art colony's participation in the tercentenary celebration. Mrs. Terwilliger, of the Kingston Museum, has assisted Mrs. Adams in planning the project, offering suggestions as to places of historic interest for possible material for postcards and souvenir notepaper.

Encourages Artist

Mrs. Adams began her card illustration four years ago when she made the sketch of the Woodstock post office and Cousins buildings, before the block was remodelled recently. The sketch came to the attention of Mollie Higgins Smith, whose keen eye for individual style in an artist was arrested by the special flavor inherent in Mrs. Adams drawings. Mrs. Smith arranged for the sketch to be used by the Cousins for their Christmas card, and she urged Ethel Adams to make more of the charming drawings. Mrs. Adams had recently returned from a painting trip to Marblehead, Mass., actually the first time in her life she had undertaken any serious painting. A one-woman show of her paintings and drawings followed at Mollie Smith's small gallery at the top of the flight of stairs next to the post office.

Feature Brings Calls

Once she had started to rove the village, pen and sketch pad in hand, Mrs. Adams produced in quick succession her now-well-known Christmas card of the village green, and the Willow Methodist Church, both of which have been purchased for the American Artists series, and a drawing of Deanies restaurant.

Last April a small feature on her work which appeared in House Beautiful, illustrated with the sketch of Deanies and a drawing of the home of Nina Bull, brought her orders from all over the United States, and initiated her next venture—drawings of private homes for special cards. As a result she has sketched homes, doorways and vistas in Illinois, Texas, Georgia, New Jersey and Michigan.

Difficult Work

"It was quite a problem," recalled Mrs. Adams, "to catch her likeness and also put in the details of the books as well in so small an area."

One of the particular elements of Mrs. Adams sketches which lend an especial charm, are the figures with which they are peopled, the nicely grouped worshippers, walking up the path of the Willow Church, the spinning carefree little figures on the skating rink at the Woodstock Recreation Field, and the cluster of shoppers at the Saturday morning summer Market Fair.

Mrs. Adams has pictured a number of well-known Woodstock homes and those in the near vicinity which have been used as the owners Christmas greeting cards—the residences of Dr. and Mrs. Hans J. Cohn, Nina Bull, Douglas Rattray, of Port Ewen and Mrs. Frederica Milne. She reproduced an exquisite colonial fan doorway for a home owner in Illinois.

Ordinarily a pen and ink technique produces a somewhat hard brittle effect. Mrs. Adams, however, has used the medium to achieve a quality of atmosphere and is yet readily reproducible. To gain the effect she uses a fine quality of vellum parchment tracing paper, and when color is added to the pen and ink line drawing, she works in pastel rather than watercolor. The result is a fresh, sparkling design. That they have continued to sell out in gift shops in the village is evidence of their eye-catching appeal as well.

Mrs. Adams admits that she had "only dabbled at painting over the years" while raising her daughter Barbara, who until her only family claimed her attention was stage manager for George Kaufmann. A Canadian by birth, Mrs. Adams first came to Woodstock in 1921, and returned here in 1938 to make her permanent home in the village.

Another Series Due in Crafts

Woodstock, Feb. 20—The Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen will launch the second series of lessons in vocational crafts under the direction of the State Division of Industrial Education starting February 27 and 28.

On Tuesday evenings a class in applied design and experimentation for the crafts will meet. A second class in decorative techniques is scheduled for Thursday evenings. In this class alternate meetings will be devoted to demonstrations of stenciling, metalwork, jewelry, enameling and weaving, each given by an expert in the field. Dick Chambers will teach both the classes. Each course will include ten lessons with a fee of $5, plus cost of materials. The small tuition fees are made possible through the Guild's non-profit policy. Class hours are 7 to 9:40 p. m.

There is a waiting list for the weaving class taught by Besse Stowall, and persons interested are advised to leave applications for this class with Mrs. Wangler at the Guild.

Pepers Win

Woodstock, Feb. 20—In a special match at the Ruzzo Bowlatorium, Saturday night, Peper's Garage of Woodstock scored 2549 pins over Chez Emile, of Kingston which made 2362 pins. Individual scores for Chez Emile were: Auchmoody 160-167-153, total 480; Johnson 182-148-153, total 483; Jordan 186-148-141, total 475; Lawrence 160-181-166, total 507; Houghtaling 131-135-151, total 417. Individual scores for Peper's were: J. Holdridge 162-214-173, total 549; O. Morrell 211-145-154, total 510; C. Harder 161-150-170, total 481; C. Nicponski 155-116-120, total 391; V. Busch 199-158-177, total 534, with a total handicap of 84.

To Talk on Power

Woodstock, Feb. 20—The Woodstock Masonic Square Club will meet Wednesday, at 8 p. m. at the club rooms above Houst's. R. Strickland of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company will speak on the subject of More Power from Niagara.

Varsity to Meet Jones Dairy in Second Game

Woodstock, Feb. 20—The Woodstock Varsity beat Harry's Angel's of Kingston, on the Woodstock court last Friday night, 84 to 78. To date the Woodstock Varsity has chalked up 18 victories out of 21 games played. High scorer for Woodstock was Kleine with 32 points, with Waterous following with 19. For Harry's Angels, Hampton was high with 18 points. Kleine had one of his best nights of the year and in addition to the 32 points scored, for the first time he made all of the eight foul shots taken. The team averaged about 70 per cent of their shots and also played one of their best games of the year.

In the Jayvee game on the same night, Woodstock won by a slight margin over St. Joseph's, 37 to 35. The St. Joseph's team led all the way through up to the last two minutes of play. Joe Hilton was high with 10 points and Waterous next with nine. Graney was high with 15 points for St. Joseph's.

The Varsity will play Jones Dairy Friday night at Woodstock, with games beginning at 7:30 p. m. Jones Dairy is one of the two teams which have defeated Woodstock, the last being 64 to 62, and will play a return game Friday.

Coach Walter Van Wagenen has announced that for the next two or three weeks there will be no Tuesday night basketball games.

Lutherans Lose Two

Woodstock, Feb. 20—The Woodstock Lutheran bowling team won the first game, but lost two games Monday night. Sparked by Everett Wolven's strike ball in the 10th frame, the Woodstock Lutheran bowlers managed to cop the first game in the YMCA Federation League, from Woodstock Methodist No. 1. For the Woodstock Methodist, George Eichler and Frank Tackella led their team to victory in the last two games of the evening.

Village Notes

Woodstock, Feb. 20 — Mr. and Mrs. Walter Licht are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Lethbridge. Mr. Licht is the head of the visual aids department of the Norwalk, Conn., school system.

Willis Wilber, Jr., celebrated his fourth birthday with a party Monday afternoon at the home of his parents.

Mrs. John Ruhman is expected to return to this village Wednesday, after undergoing an operation at Lutheran Hospital, New York.

Mrs. Frank Mele, and son Andrew, arrived in this village Saturday afternoon, from Pittsburgh, Pa., and will stay at the home of Miss Gabrielle Moncure for the next month. Frank Mele is now on tour with the Pittsburgh Symphony orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mower are expected to return to this village from Florida next Tuesday.

Robert Brinkman, Jr., electronics seaman, is on a short leave visiting his parents here, after which he will be assigned to the USS Conway. The ship is a destroyer equipped electronically, based at Norfolk, Va. Brinkman has completed 36 weeks of training at the Great Lakes Training Station, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Froot have returned from New York where they visited their new granddaughter over the weekend.

Mrs. Joseph Holdridge, Jr., Mrs. Robert Bartlett and Mrs. Charles Bailey attended a baby shower at the home of Mrs. Bert Winne, Sr., in honor of Mrs. Bert Winne, Jr.

Mrs. William MacReady has left for a trip to New York. William MacReady is on his way back from Florida and expects to return to this village Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. LaMonte Simpkins will leave for a trip to California March 1.

Woodstock, Feb. 20—Pfc. Ronald Dordick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Dordick, of this village, is expected to return to his home here some time next week from Germany. He has been away almost four years.

Emmet Edwards has been in Kingston Hospital since Sunday and will probably return to his home at the end of the week.

Probable Date Given

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—The fall primary election this year probably will be held on August 19. Two Republican legislative leaders introduced bills yesterday fixing that date. They were Senator Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and Assemblyman D. Mallory Stephens of Brewster, head of the ways and means committee. No change was proposed in registration dates. They will be Oct. 6-11 inclusive, in New York city and Westchester county, Oct. 3 and 4 and 10 and 11 in other communities of 5,000 or more population, and Oct. 4 and 11 in those areas where personal registration is not required. The spring primary will be April 22, when presidential convention delegates will be chosen.

Boost for Bob

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—Senator Stanley J. Bauer thinks state boxing czar Bob Christenberry deserves a pay raise because "the guy is doing a tremendous job." The Buffalo Republican introduced a bill yesterday to raise the salary of the chairman of the State Boxing Commission from $9,378 to $12,000 a year.

President Goes to Fire

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—President Truman went to a fire yesterday in his own backyard. The blaze, cause undetermined, wrecked a storage shack on the White House grounds. The executive mansion was not endangered. The President walked the half block or so from his office to watch firemen quickly douse the flames. The shack was built by workmen remodeling the White House. The Trumans live across the street at Blair House pending completion of the five million dollar job.

So He Sued City

Los Angeles, Feb. 20 (AP)—The way George Brown tells it, he was driving down a street last Jan. 7 when his car hit a hole in the street. Result: A tire blew out. He caught a cold while changing it. He had to pay $5 for a cold shot. He missed a day's pay, $15.84. He had to pay $53.76 for damage to his car. Brown sued the city yesterday for $74.60.

As Pegler Sees It

army is not shaping up. France is going haywire politically again. His political aspirations necessarily must be interfering with his job as commander. And the rabble of trashy mail-order colonels, broadcasters and gutless Reds who never had the courage to join the party but followed the traitorous line for years under Roosevelt, is not a comfort. Eisenhower knows the character of the fellow-travelers on his bandwagon back home. Why do they want him for President? Anyone can understand why the rebel Texas Democrats want him. But why do so many artful battle-dodgers and New Dealers want a man who only recently declared himself to be a Republican?

Eisenhower's supporters include the New York Herald Tribune China-boy Luce's pidgin-gullah weekly called "Time." General Lucius D. Clay, who fell heir to the tragedy during the Red blockade, reminds us that the Herald Tribune said the Yalta betrayal was "another great proof of allied unity, strength and power of decision." He recalls that China-boy Henly Luce allee samee tellee 'melican people "all doubts about the Big Three's ability to cooperate in peace as well as in war seem now to have been swept away."

And the crime of Yalta was based on the boundaries agreed to by Winant.

The housing structure of the great Tempelhof airport in Berlin is badly damaged by fire and blast. The Russians did this while the western allies marked time to the west. Notwithstanding the experience of Churchill, Harriman and Deane in Moscow and the terrible Russian treachery in holding back while the Nazis slaughtered the Polish underground, Clay had the dogged effrontery to write in 1950 that we did not know the character of our "opponent," the Kremlin, in the summer of 1945.

Snow and Winds Affect Midwest

(By The Associated Press)

More snow and strong winds struck midwest areas today, virtually halting travel in some areas.

South Dakota appeared the hardest hit by the heavy snow, with nearly all highway travel halted. But moderate to heavy falls hit the already snow-covered areas of North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Temperatures generally were above zero in the snow belt. But it was sub-zero in parts of the northern Rocky mountain region.

The new fall at Pierre, S. D., measured 12 inches. Strong winds whipped up huge drifts in many parts of the snow belt. The blizzard which hit South Dakota yesterday was the third of the winter season. Minneapolis reported a fresh fall of seven inches, making a total of 12 inches on the ground while there were 17 inches on the ground at St. Cloud, Minn.

Some Get Rain, Sleet

Freezing rain and sleet pelted other areas of the midwest. The wet belt extended over southern Wisconsin, southwestern lower Michigan and extreme north parts of Illinois and Indiana. Showers hit areas from Indiana and Ohio southward to the Gulf. A few rain and snow showers were reported in the northwest Pacific states.

Fair weather prevailed in most of the eastern states. New England continued to dig out from one of the worst snow storms in years. The weekend storm was blamed for some 30 deaths.

It was mild again today in the southeast.

Harriman Backing

fices, Fitzpatrick was asked again whether he thought Harriman was a possibility for the nomination in New York.

"Yes," he replied. "I think he's a possibility for a nomination even nationally."

The New York party leader was off before he could be asked to elaborate. Earlier, however, he had said he believed Truman should be the Democratic presidential candidate.

Barkley's Still There

If it's the vice presidential nomination the New Yorkers have in mind for Harriman, there's Vice President Barkley to contend with. Barkley is 74 and recovering from an eye operation, but he is believed to be making a powerful bid for a place on this year's national ticket. Barkley's campaign has been necessarily under wraps until the President speaks.

Harriman is a handsome millionaire who smokes cigarettes chain fashion and stutters slightly when talking to crowds. He succeeded Henry Wallace as Secretary of Commerce when Truman outed Wallace from the cabinet after a break over foreign policy.

Harriman at the time was ambassador to Britain. Before that he had been war time ambassador to Russia where he consulted frequnetly with Premier Stalin. He has been blunt in his criticism of Russia.

He is now director of mutual security under the security office, having over-all supervision of spending billions for military and economic aid to friendly nations. He comes from the wealthy industrialist family that built the Union Pacific Railroad. At one time he served as chairman of the board of the western carrier.

Civilian Defense

Clothiers to Meet

A meeting of all retail clothing establishments of the city in connection with civilian defense will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Civilian Defense rooms at the city hall.

A full turnout of all retail clothing manufacturers has been requested by Sidney Speigel, clothing chief of the welfare division of Civilian Defense.

Important matters will be discussed during tonight's meeting.

Requested to Attend

All local air raid wardens are requested to attend the first class of the warden school tomorrow at 7:30 p. m., in the high school auditorium. Attendance is required under provisions of the State Civil Defense Law.

Willie Sutton . . .

ter of a million bail, but Magistrate William Groat put off the bail question until further hearing Feb. 29.

Meanwhile, new troubles stirred for Sutton, who already faces prison for the rest of his life. Brooklyn District Attorney Miles F. McDonald said a grand jury was studying a possible indictment against Sutton for weapons law violations. Police said he was armed when arrested.

At Ossining, Sing Sing prison officials said they were preparing a fugitive warrant to try to get Sutton back there to finish a 30-to-60-year robbery sentence. He broke out of Sing Sing in 1932 after serving two years.

Capt. George Hanley, of the Philadelphia Police Department, also was here to try to take Sutton back to Pennsylvania to serve out a 25-year armed robbery sentence imposed in 1934. Sutton escaped from the Holmesburg (Pa.) prison in 1945, was soon recaptured, then pulled off the 1947 flight.

Hanley was told Sutton's return to Philadelphia would have to wait. New York has prior claim on the criminal.

Meanwhile, newsmen located Sutton's 79-year-old mother in Brooklyn. The woman, Mrs. Mary Sutton, said she had not see the bank robber in 17 years and had not heard from him in five or six years.

She said she cannot understand about Willie, that he "wasn't bad as a child." The widowed Mrs. Sutton lives with her two other children, a son and a married daughter.

When newsmen found her, she moaned: "Oh, my God. Now the neighbors will know. The one thing we've been afraid of is they'd find out I'm Willie Sutton's mother."

After his capture Monday, Sutton said he did not know until then that his mother was still alive.

of Long Beach, said his group had been forced to "take the unpleasant step" of calling for state regulation to "clean up" such publications.

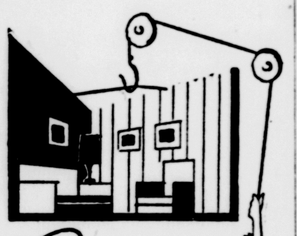

Carlino said committee hearings had proved "beyond doubt" that unsavory periodicals contributed to juvenile deliquency.

In addition to creating the review division, the committee submitted a bill to authorize children's court judges to "entertain prosecution against persons contributing to juvenile delinquency through distribution and sale of such literature.

It also propose legislation to include within the prohibition against obscene literature "those publications which are mainly devoted to the display of violence, crime, and other matters which may tend to influence minors to commit acts of crime and depravity."

Airports Asked About Facilities For Daily Flights

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—Five out-of-town airports will be screened to determine whether they have sufficient facilities to handle some of the 226 daily flights to be diverted from La Guardia Field here.

The five airports, all of which have offered to handle the planes, are Westchester county airport at Purchase, N. Y., and fields at Bridgeport, Conn., Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Millville, N. J.

A spokesman for the National Air Transport Coordinating Committee, made up of airline and government representatives, announced the survey of the five airports yesterday.

Special Commission

Meanwhile, the White House in Washington said a special commission was being considered to investigate the recent wave of air crashes. But the White House had no comment on reports that Lt. Gen. James Doolittle, retired, who led the first World War II raid on Tokyo, might be named to head such a group.

The coordinating committee, whose chairman is World War I ace Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, now president of Eastern Air Lines, was set up here after the third crash of a plane at Elizabeth, N. J., in two months. The three disasters took 118 lives.

Newark, N. J., Airport—used by the three airliners—was closed following the latest crash Feb. 11. Most of the Newark flights were diverted to LaGuardia.

One-Third Reduction Made

When residents living around LaGuardia protested, the coordinating committee early this week promised to reduce traffic there by about one-third.

A meeting is scheduled tomorrow to discuss the new LaGuardia schedules, but it was not known today whether the results of the five-airport survey will be available then.

The coordinating committee set up a subcommittee to make the survey and gather "all pertinent technical data." The subcommittee wil be headed by L. O. Barnes, director of operations for the Air Transport Association, the airlines' industry group.

Three-Day Convention

President Gardner reported that the committee planning for the association convention in Saugerties next July 24, 25 and 26 was making progress.

Delegates from Dutchess and Rockland counties were brought to the session by the Elmendorf committee which seeks to establish closer relations among the six area counties. This committee was started by the late Charles Elmendorf, former president of the association.

George Mustaparta, safety engineer and personnel director of the Hercules Powder Co., guest speaker, talked on the value of safety at home as well as at work.

The firemen will be guests of the Lomontville fire company at the next meeting March 18.

Collision Is Reported

Harry Terwilliger of Kerhonkson reported to the sheriff that a truck owned by the State National Kosher Provision Corporation, 82 Westerlo avenue, Albany, operated by Earle W. Slupe, had collided with a truck of Terwilliger, operated by Mr. Hudson. He reported the Albany truck had skidded on ice on the highway. The Terwilliger car was damaged about the fender, door and tool box. The other truck was also damaged. No one was injured. The accident happened at 4:55 p. m. Tuesday.

Kennon Upsets

His four-year term expires in May.

Unofficial returns from 1518 of the state's 2113 precincts early today showed:

Kennon 358,139.

Spaht 209,441.

The prime issue in the campaign was pro-Long vs. anti-Long, an issue dating back a quarter of a cenutry to the days of the Louisiana Kingfish.

In the first primary, Jan. 15, Kennon and Spaht topped a nine-candidate field with Spaht in first place by 10,000 votes.

Returns from other state races were not as complete as those in the governor's race but it appeared all the Kennon tickets was elected.

Report Is Awaited

Williamstown, Mass., Feb. 20 (AP)—A report on the mysterious death of Millard Romaine, Jr., 19-year-old Williams College student, was awaited today with the completion of laboratory tests by the state pathologist. Results of the tests reportedly were mailed to Medical Examiner George T. Mullen but he was not available for an opinion on the cause of death.

Anti-Truman . . .

The Fifth District—laid out in 1944—elected a Democratic congressman three out of four times before yesterday's election.

Also, it usually went Democratic for local officials. But it has always voted Republican for President, senator and governor.

The district is heavily Democratic in enrollment — 66,000 Democrats to 34,000 Republicans on the basis of 1951 figures.

Ross, elected to a two-year term in Congress in 1946 in the Republican upsurge, will serve until next January.

The vacancy filled yesterday was caused by the resignation of the Democratic candidate's cousin, Democrat T. Vincent Quinn, who was elected Queens district attorney.

Election of Ross made the House of Representatives lineup 230 Democrats to 202 Republicans. There is one independent representative and there are two vacancies.

The vote for two minor party candidates was:

George F. Cranmore, Liberal Party—2,646.

Mrs. Thelma Bearman, American Labor Party—Independent—1,221.

The Liberal party is organized in New York state only. The American Labor Party has functioned as the New York state unit of the Progressive Party.

Queens GOP County Chairman Frank Kenna said public thanks should be expressed to Rep. Hall, an Oyster Bay resident, for his aid and assistance in Ross' campaign.

Now you Know!
The answers to everyday insurance problems • By HERMAN J. EATON

QUESTION: Although our home is worth $10,000, we've always carried only $5,000 fire insurance as we felt any fire damage would certainly be lower than that amount. Now a friend says that if we had a $1,000 fire we would only get $500 from the Insurance Company. Is this true?
ANSWER: Not unless yours is a very unusual policy. Your friend is referring to a Co-Insurance Clause which is seldom used in writing insurance on a dwelling. However you should immediately consult a good insurance agent about adequate protection. Your fire insurance should always be kept at the amount it would cost you to replace your home.
•If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE OR OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.

Three-Day Convention

President Gardner reported that the committee planning for the association convention in Saugerties next July 24, 25 and 26 was making progress.

Delegates from Dutchess and Rockland counties were brought to the session by the Elmendorf committee which seeks to establish closer relations among the six area counties. This committee was started by the late Charles Elmendorf, former president of the association.

George Mustaparta, safety engineer and personnel director of the Hercules Powder Co., guest speaker, talked on the value of safety at home as well as at work.

The firemen will be guests of the Lomontville fire company at the next meeting March 18.

Collision Is Reported

Harry Terwilliger of Kerhonkson reported to the sheriff that a truck owned by the State National Kosher Provision Corporation, 82 Westerlo avenue, Albany, operated by Earle W. Slupe, had collided with a truck of Terwilliger, operated by Mr. Hudson. He reported the Albany truck had skidded on ice on the highway. The Terwilliger car was damaged about the fender, door and tool box. The other truck was also damaged. No one was injured. The accident happened at 4:55 p. m. Tuesday.

Kennon Upsets

His four-year term expires in May.

Unofficial returns from 1518 of the state's 2113 precincts early today showed:

Kennon 358,139.

Spaht 209,441.

The prime issue in the campaign was pro-Long vs. anti-Long, an issue dating back a quarter of a cenutry to the days of the Louisiana Kingfish.

In the first primary, Jan. 15, Kennon and Spaht topped a nine-candidate field with Spaht in first place by 10,000 votes.

Returns from other state races were not as complete as those in the governor's race but it appeared all the Kennon tickets was elected.

Report Is Awaited

Williamstown, Mass., Feb. 20 (AP)—A report on the mysterious death of Millard Romaine, Jr., 19-year-old Williams College student, was awaited today with the completion of laboratory tests by the state pathologist. Results of the tests reportedly were mailed to Medical Examiner George T. Mullen but he was not available for an opinion on the cause of death.

Anti-Truman . . .

that Quinn was afraid to run on a pro-Truman platform because of the tenor of the times.

The Fifth District—laid out in 1944—elected a Democratic congressman three out of four times before yesterday's election.

Also, it usually went Democratic for local officials. But it has always voted Republican for President, senator and governor.

The district is heavily Democratic in enrollment — 66,000 Democrats to 34,000 Republicans on the basis of 1951 figures.

Ross, elected to a two-year term in Congress in 1946 in the Republican upsurge, will serve until next January.

The vacancy filled yesterday was caused by the resignation of the Democratic candidate's cousin, Democrat T. Vincent Quinn, who was elected Queens district attorney.

Election of Ross made the House of Representatives lineup 230 Democrats to 202 Republicans. There is one independent representative and there are two vacancies.

The vote for two minor party candidates was:

George F. Cranmore, Liberal Party—2,646.

Mrs. Thelma Bearman, American Labor Party—Independent—1,221.

The Liberal party is organized in New York state only. The American Labor Party has functioned as the New York state unit of the Progressive Party.

Queens GOP County Chairman Frank Kenna said public thanks should be expressed to Rep. Hall, an Oyster Bay resident, for his advice and assistance in Ross' campaign.

The answers to everyday insurance problems *
By HERMAN J. EATON

QUESTION: Although our home is worth $10,000, we've always carried only $5,000 fire insurance as we felt any fire damage would certainly be lower than that amount. Now a friend says that if we had a $1,000 fire we would only get $500 from the Insurance Company. Is this true?

ANSWER: Not unless yours is a very unusual policy. Your friend is referring to a Co-Insurance Clause which is seldom used in writing insurance on a dwelling. However you should immediately consult a good insurance agent about adequate protection. Your fire insurance should always be kept at the amount it would cost you to replace your home.

*If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE OR OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.
